ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The principal author of this version of Basic Departmental Data is Christiane Gour. This publication was prepared under the direction of Pierre Gauvin, Manager, First Nations and Northern Statistics Section, Corporate Information Management Directorate. Technical and editorial support was provided by colleagues in the Corporate Information Management Directorate and by organizations both inside and outside the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

NOTE TO USERS

Most of the data found in this publication are based on departmental administrative databases. Population counts are taken from the Indian Register and reflect a reporting date of December 31 of any given year.

Finally, the user is cautioned that data may be different from previously reported editions, as a result of edit reviews of historical data. Also, numbers may differ slightly from previous releases due to the availability of more current program data or departmental revisions. "Revised" will be indicated at the top of all pages where tables contain revisions to an historical series. Data in the chapter entitled The North pertain to the total population (Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal) unless otherwise indicated. Statistics for this report are derived primarily from departmental administrative data sources.

INTRODUCTION

Basic Departmental Data (BDD) provides a comprehensive portrait of the demographic, social and economic conditions of all Registered Indians and Northerners. Essentially descriptive, BDD has tried to maintain continuity with past events while providing an accurate portrait of the changing circumstances of First Nations and Northerners.

Subjects covered in BDD include population, health, education, social conditions, and housing. For each subject area, information is presented in textual, graphic and tabular formats. Each page contains highlights pertaining to the tabular and graphical information, and notes and sources are indicated at the bottom of each table. The Glossary includes definitions of basic terms used throughout the publication.

It is important to note in this publication, the word "Indian" means a Registered Indian. A person with status within the meaning of the Indian Act, whose name appears on the Indian Register as maintained by INAC, is a Registered Indian. In June 1985, amendments to the Indian Act were passed by Parliament. These changes, known as the Bill C-31 amendments, restore Indian status and membership rights to individuals and their children who had been enfranchised because of certain clauses contained in the Indian Act.

In 2003, Registered Indians were affiliated with one of the 614 First Nations located across Canada.

1.1 Registered Indian Population

Highlights

Fluctuation of the Registered Indian population has been considerable, largely due to the 1985 amendment to the Indian Act although it has been relatively stable in the last four years

The 1985 amendment, (Bill C-31), is reflected in the graph, with the percentage change nearly quadrupling in size.

1.2 Population Projections

Highlights

The total Registered Indian population could increase by 34%, from approximately 703,800 in 2001 to slightly less than 940,000 in 2021.

Over the same period, the on-reserve population could grow quite substantially if the migration assumption (net inflow to reserves) proves correct over time. The proportion of Registered Indians living on reserve could increase from an estimated 60% in 2001 to 75% in 2021. Conversely, the off-reserve proportion and corresponding five-year annual growth rates could decline during the period.

1.3 Bill C-31 Population

Highlights

As of December 31, 2003 a total of 113,354 Registered Indians were registered based upon Bill C-31 amendments to the Indian Act.

Bill C-31 registrants made up 16% of the Indian Register in 2003.

Year over year growth of the Bill C-31 population has fallen from 48% in 1988 to 0.1% in 2003.

Note: The slow growth rate of the Bill C-31 population between 1997 and 1998 is partly due to a backlog of files which were cleaned-up in 1999.

1.5 Registered Indian Population by Region

Highlights

The total Registered Indian population has more than doubled in nearly all regions over the last 20 years.

In 2003, roughly 23% of the Registered Indian population was in Ontario.

1.6 On-Reserve Population by Region

Figure 1.6 On-Reserve Registered Indian Population by Region, 1983, 1988, 1993, 1998, and 2003

Highlights

By region, the number of Registered Indians living on a reserve in 2003 ranged from a low of 3,932 in the Yukon to a high of 80,539 in Ontario.

The largest on-reserve regional gains in absolute terms, between 1993 and 2003, were in Alberta and Manitoba respectively.

1.7 Off-Reserve Population By Region

Highlights

The off-reserve population increased steadily between 1983 and 2003 from 98,412 to 309,825.

The number of Registered Indians who live off reserve has increased in all regions. The largest percentage off-reserve regional gain south of 60° between 1993 and 2003 was Manitoba. Conversely, the off-reserve population of Quebec exhibited the lowest rate of increase over the same period.

1.8 On-Reserve Population by Geographic Zones

Figure 1.8 On-Reserve Registered Indian Population by Geographic Zones, 1983 and 2003

Highlights

The proportion of on-reserve Registered Indians living in rural areas has increased between 1983 and 2003, from 39% to 44%.

In 2003, 35% of Registered Indians on reserve lived in INAC-defined urban zones while nearly 17%, lived in special access zones. Special access zones have no year-round road access to a service centre.

Figure 1.9 On-Reserve Registered Indian Population by Geographic Zones and Region, 2003

Highlights

In 2003, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Atlantic regions had the highest proportion of on-reserve Registered Indians living in rural areas.

Alberta, Quebec and Ontario had the highest proportion of on-reserve Registered Indians living in urban areas.

1.10 Population Distribution by Age and Gender

Figure 1.10 Population Distribution by Age and Gender, Indian Register 2003 and Post-censal Estimates 2003

Highlights

The Registered Indian population has a higher proportion of youth (under age 24 years) than the population of Canada as a whole.

The proportion of the population over age 40 years is markedly lower among Registered Indians than across Canada.

- Notes:
1. The Indian Register Population is as of December 31, 2003. Data have not been adjusted for late reporting of births. Therefore, the younger age groups (specifically 0-4) are under-represented, and would be larger than it appears.
  2. The "Total Canadian" population includes the Registered Indian population. Figures are Updated Post-censal Estimates as of July 1, 2003.
  3. The Registered Indian Population does not add up to the total of 719,496 due to 2 cases where the age is unknown.

2.1 Life Expectancy

Highlights

Life expectancy for Registered Indians at birth continues to approach parity with the general Canadian population.

Despite the gains in life expectancy, a gap of approximately 6.6 years remains between the Registered Indian and Canadian populations in 2001.

The life expectancy gap between the male and female Registered Indians in 1980 was 7.1 years in favour of females, and in 2001 the gap declines to 5.1 years.

2.2 Potential Years of Life Lost

Figure 2.2 Potential Years of Life (PYLL) Lost by Cause of Death First Nations 2001 and Canada, 2000

Highlights

In 2001, the PYLL for injury was almost 3.5 times higher for First Nations than for Canada.

First Nations report a total PYLL due to cancer lower than for all Canadians.

2.4 Infant Mortality Rates

Highlights

Since 1979, there has been a steady decline in infant mortality rates for First Nations on-reserve as well as for all Canadians.

Between 1979 and 2001, there was a 73% decline in infant mortality rates for First Nations on-reserve compared to a decline of 47% in Canada.

3.1 Enrolment for Elementary/Secondary Schools

Figure 3.1 Students funded by INAC for Elementary/Secondary (Kindergarten, Elementary and Secondary Schools), Canada, 1995-1996 to 2003-2004

Highlights

In 2003-2004, the percentage of students enrolled in First Nation managed and federal schools was 14% higher than in 1995-1996.

Of the 120,400 on-reserve students enrolled in kindergarten, elementary and secondary schools in 2003-2004, six of every 10 students were in FN managed schools while slightly less than four in 10 were in provincial/private schools.

1. Includes Registered Indians and Non-Registered (as approved by the Minister) individuals living on-reserve & Inuit students in Kindergarten 4 to Grade 12 (Grade 13 where applicable prior to 2003-2004) inclusively from 1995-1996 to 2003-2004. On reserve population includes legally defined reserves, as well as recognized Indian settlements on Crown land. It excludes students residing and attending schools in N.W.T. and Nunavut as Elementary and Secondary Education is funded by the territorial governments and all other self-governing First Nations. Yukon reports for students residing on B.C. reserves only, but attending schools in either B.C. or Yukon.
  2. Three regions have students funded by INAC for which detailed data were not reported: Atlantic, B.C. and Quebec. Detailed information on students under the James Bay and Northern Quebec Agreement between 1996-1997 and 2003-2004 are not available. These students are all attending provincial schools. The Nuu-Chah-Nulth Tribal Council in B.C. negotiated a separate agreement with INAC and therefore detailed information between 1995-1996 and 2002-2003 is not available. These students are all attending First Nation schools. In 2003-2004, the Mik'maw of the Atlantic Region did not report detailed data. These students are included in the above enrolment counts.
  3. There are several reasons for the stabilization of the number of students enrolled in elementary/secondary schools over the past four years. Reasons include increased Multi-Year Agreements and Self Government agreements (data are no longer reported or updated annually on the Nominal Roll), strengthened regional compliance processes, and improved data processing procedures on the Nominal Roll System.

3.2 Enrolment in Provincial and First Nation Managed Schools by Grade

Highlight

While 85% of INAC-funded K4 and K5 students attend First Nation managed schools, this number decreases to 45% by grade 12 as many First Nation managed schools offer elementary levels only. This trend has remained constant since 1994-1995.

  3. The 6-16 age group has been used in order to be consistent with numbers reported for all Canadians. Previously, the 4-18 age group was used.
  4. Enrolment rates are calculated by dividing the on-reserve enrolment by the on-reserve population and multiplying by 100. Please note that a major limitation to determining the on-reserve enrolment rate is the use of the Indian Register to identify the on-reserve population aged 6-16 years. The Indian Register is recorded by event-driven occurrences, such as births, deaths and change in residency (individuals included in the denominator from the Indian Register may actually be living off-reserve). The population aged 6-16 years, which is used as a denominator for calculating the enrolment rate, is likely lower than that being used and is likely deflating the enrolment rate.

Revision: Data revised.

- Notes:
1. Includes Registered Indians and Non-Registered (as approved by the Minister) individuals living on-reserve & Inuit students in Grade 12 from 1996-1997 to 2002-2003. On reserve population includes legally defined reserves, as well as recognized Indian settlements on Crown land. It excludes students residing and attending schools in N.W.T. and Nunavut as Elementary and Secondary Education is funded by the territorial governments and all other self-governing First Nations. Yukon reports for students residing on B.C. reserves only, but attending schools in either B.C. or Yukon.
  2. Three regions have students funded by INAC for which detailed data were not reported: Atlantic, B.C. and Quebec. Detailed information on students under the James Bay and Northern Quebec Agreement between 1996-1997 and 2002-2003 are not available. These students are all attending provincial schools. The Nuu-Chah-Nulth Tribal Council in B.C. negotiated a separate agreement with INAC and therefore detailed information between 1996-1997 and 2002-2003 is not available. These students are all attending First Nation schools. These students are not included in the above enrolment counts.
  3. Only includes students who were enrolled in a graduating year who graduated. Due to movement of students on and off reserve, graduation data are limited. These graduates only include those students who graduated while being funded by INAC. It is quite possible that students have graduated while living off-reserve and are therefore no longer on INAC's Nominal Roll.
  4. The Graduation Rate is calculated by dividing the "Graduates" by the "Enrolment in Graduating Year".

Highlight

First Nation communities are playing a greater role in the management of education services. Reflecting this fact, the number of First Nation managed schools increased by 33% from 372 in 1993-1994 to 496 in 2003-2004.

3.8 Classrooms in First Nation Managed Schools

Figure 3.8 Number of Classrooms in First Nation Managed Schools, Canada, 1995-1996 to 2003-2004

Highlights

In 2003-2004, the majority of classrooms in First Nations managed schools are at the elementary level (approximately 63%).

While there has been little change in the number of classrooms for kindergarten and elementary levels between 2002-03 and 2003-04, the number of classrooms at the high school level increased by 6% over this period.

3.9 Post-Secondary Enrolment

Highlight

In 1995-1996, the INAC-funded Registered Indians and Inuit attending post-secondary increased to approximately 27,000 and remained constant through to 1998-1999, but then began to decline. In 2003-2004, post-secondary attendance increased to slightly below 25,000. Post-secondary attendance is likely to be higher as some students may be accessing funds from sources other than INAC.

- Notes:
1. Total number of Registered Indians and Inuit funded by INAC and enrolled in post-secondary education. Post-secondary enrolment is likely to be higher as some students may be accessing funds from different sources.
  2. These data include only those students enrolled while they were being funded by their First Nation. (Or in a few cases INAC) It is quite possible that students previously funded through INAC's PSE program are now financing studies differently and no longer appear on the PSE file. The decreasing enrolment may be partly due to the fact that the PSE program operates on a fixed budget while tuition and other incidental costs generally increase.
  3. This estimate includes reported and non-reported students.
  4. Excludes N.W.T and Nunavut as they are funded by the territorial government.

3.10 Post-Secondary Education Attainment

Figure 3.10 Post-Secondary Education Attainment Rate for the Registered Indian Population Compared to the Canadian Population, Census 1996 and 2001

Highlights

Between 1996 and 2001, post-secondary education attainment rates have increased by 3 percentage points for both the Registered Indian population and the Canadian population.

The gap in post-secondary education attainment between the Registered Indian population and the Canadian population has remained constant at about 15 percentage points.

3.11 Post-Secondary Education Graduates

Highlights

The number of post-secondary education graduates has fluctuated slightly between 1996-1997 and 2002-2003.

Of the 3,580 post-secondary graduates in 2002-2003, 60% obtained a non-university certificate or diploma while 38% received an undergraduate or graduate degree from a university.

- Notes:
1. See Glossary for definition of "Children in Care".
  2. The total number of children in care represents all children under the care of Operational and Development First Nations Child and Family Services Agencies, Provincial care and CSS care (Quebec and Ontario only).
  3. Children in care include foster, institutional and group home care.
  4. Child care cases do not include preventive and alternate approaches to child and family services.
  5. Registered Indian children in care were resident on a reserve, Crown Land or settlement prior to the provision of care.
  6. The total number of on-reserve children, age 0-18, is as of December 31 from the Indian Register and represents only those First Nations which were administered under a Child and Family Services Agreement.
  7. The number of children in care may include estimated or incomplete data.

4.2 Adults In Institutional Care

Figure 4.2 Number of On-Reserve Registered Indian Adults in Institutional Care, Canada, 1994-1995 to 2003-2004

Highlight

There has been little variation in the number of adults in institutional care between 1994-1995 and 2002-2003. The ratio of adults in care to the on-reserve adult population 19 years of age and over has been hovering between three and four per 1,000 population.

4.3 Income Assistance Recipients and Beneficiaries

Figure 4.3 Average Number of On-Reserve Income Assistance Recipients and Beneficiaries per Month, Canada, 1995-1996 to 2003-2004

Highlights

Over the past seven years, there has been a slight decline in the average number of monthly income assistance beneficiaries, from approximately 156,600 in 1997-1998 to 146,600 in 2003-2004.

On the other hand, the average number of monthly income assistance recipients has been rising over the same period.

  2. Income Assistance Recipients are defined as a combination of the number of families (heads of household) and single individuals who are eligible to receive income assistance funding.
  3. Income Assistance Beneficiaries are defined as a combination of the number of persons in a family and single individuals.
  4. The number of Income Assistance recipients is a combination of two data types: actuals and "fixed-volume" commitments.
  5. The decrease in the 1995-1996 figures is due primarily to the exclusion of five (5) Yukon Self-Government First Nations.
  6. The 1997-1998 Income Assistance data were revised, as a result of the February 1999 Data Review.
  7. Excludes residents in the N.W.T. and Nunavut as they are funded by the territorial government.

Highlights

Between 1993-1994 and 2003-2004, an average of 2,580 dwelling units were constructed annually on reserve.

On average, 3,543 dwelling units were renovated each year from 1993-1994 to 2003-2004.

In 2003-2004, there were 251 more new dwelling units built, and 386 fewer renovations than during the previous year.

5.2 On-Reserve Dwellings/Infrastructure

Highlight

While the total number of housing units increased steadily over the past 10 years, the percentage of these units considered adequate fluctuated over the period. From a low of 46% in 1993-1994, the percentage of adequate housing units peaked in 1999-00 only to reach 53% in 2003-2004.

Figure 5.3 Percentage of On-Reserve Dwellings with Water Delivery and Sewage Disposal Systems, Canada, 1993-1994 to 2003-2004

Highlights

Since 1998-1999, the proportion of on-reserve dwellings with water delivery has remained at approximately 98%.

Improvement in the proportion of on-reserve dwellings with sewage disposal continued in 2003-2004 to reach 96% of all dwellings.

SECTION 6

SELF-GOVERNMENT

6.1 Self-Government Negotiations

Background

In 1995, the Government of Canada recognized the inherent right of self-government as an existing Aboriginal right under section 35 of the Constitution Act, 1982 and announced a policy framework for the implementation and negotiation of Aboriginal self-government. The policy is based on the view that Aboriginal peoples of Canada have the right to govern themselves in relation to matters that are internal to their communities, integral to their unique cultures, identities, traditions, languages and institutions, and with respect to their special relationship to their land and their resources. The objective of the policy is the negotiation of practical and workable agreements on how self-government will be exercised.

Following on the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples in 1996 and the launch of Gathering Strength – Canada’s Aboriginal Action Plan in 1998, the approach to self-government evolved to include a focus on the more holistic challenge of setting a framework for new government-to-government relationships, including the development of internal governance capacities, skills and structures as a basis for negotiating self-government agreements.

INAC is currently engaged in self-government negotiations at some 72 tables, representing 445 Aboriginal communities (includes 427 First Nations, 18 Inuit communities and some Métis locals). These tables include stand-alone self-government negotiations (i.e. a range of jurisdictions), sectoral negotiations (i.e. one jurisdiction such as education, child welfare) and self-government negotiations, which are proceeding with a large number of communities in conjunction with their comprehensive land claims negotiations.

Highlights of Progress Achieved in 2004

Progress achieved at stand-alone self-government tables over the last year includes the following:

- The Westbank Self-Government Agreement Act received Royal Assent on May 6, 2004. The self-government agreement with Westbank is the first stand-alone self-government agreement negotiated under the Inherent Right Policy.
- On September 20, 2004, negotiators initialled a Framework Agreement with the Sahtu Dene and Métis of Tulita. This is an important achievement towards fulfilling our commitment in the Sahtu Dene and Métis Comprehensive Land Claim Agreement to negotiate self-government with the Sahtu communities.

Completed Agreements

- In 1984, self-government legislation was enacted on behalf of the Cree and Naskapi First Nations of Quebec and, in 1986, on behalf of the Sechelt First Nation of British Columbia.
- In September 1998, the Mi'kmaq Education Act was enacted.
- Self-government legislation has also been enacted on behalf of the following Yukon First Nations: Vuntut Gwitchin, Nacho Nyak Dun, Champagne and Aishihik, Teslin Tlingit, Little Salmon/Carmacks, Selkirk, Tr'on dëk Hwëch'in, Ta'an Kwach'an and Kluane in conjunction with their comprehensive claims. Ancillary agreements for the transfer of certain programs and services have also been reached with several of these groups.
- Canada gave Royal Assent to the Nisga'a Final Agreement Act in April 2000 and the Treaty came into effect on May 11, 2000. The Nisga'a Agreement represents the first modern-day treaty to explicitly extend section 35 (Constitution Act, 1982) protection to both land and self-government rights.
- Canada also gave Royal Assent to the Westbank Self-Government Act in May 2004.

6.2 Devolution

Figure 6.2 Profile of Administrators of Expenditures, INAC, 1993-1994 to 2003-2004

Highlights

In 2003-2004, Registered Indians and Inuit administered 83% of INAC's Indian and Inuit Affairs Program expenditures through band councils, tribal councils, or other First Nation organizations.

The number of authorized full-time equivalents in the Indian and Inuit Affairs Program has steadily increased over the past four years from 2,187 in 2000-2001 to 2,729 in 2003-2004, representing a 25% increase.

Highlight

All three Territories will see their respective populations increase over the next 20 years. Nunavut could have the largest percentage increase (29%) while the NWT could have half (14%) that of Nunavut. The Yukon could experience the smallest increase (6%).

Highlight

The Northwest Territories have almost equal proportions of Aboriginals and Non-Aboriginals. Nunavut has a predominantly Aboriginal population (85%) composed almost exclusively of Inuit, while the Yukon's population is predominantly Non-Aboriginal (77%).

Highlight

The employment to population ratio is very similar across all three Territories. The largest gap is seen in Nunavut where 90% of the Non-Aboriginal population and just under 50% of the Aboriginal population are employed.

7.6 Employment Income in the North

Figure 7.6 Employment Income, Aboriginal and Non-Aboriginal, for Yukon, Northwest Territories and Nunavut, 2001 Census (2000 Employment Income)

Highlight

The greatest difference between Aboriginal and Non-Aboriginal employment income is seen in Nunavut where the average Aboriginal income is $20,000 while the Non-Aboriginal average is almost $52,000. The least difference is in the Yukon, where the average Aboriginal income is $22,000 while the Non-Aboriginal average is almost $34,000.

8.2 Environment

Highlights

INAC's Contaminated Sites Management Policy was approved in August 2002, and encompasses the identification, assessment, remediation and/or risk management and monitoring of such sites.

The New Contaminated Sites Management Program has been designed to enable INAC to implement this policy. The program will assist INAC in identifying and remediating contaminated sites to continue work identified to address legal liabilities.

Of the 2,538 contaminated issues currently listed as of January 8, 2005, 1,569 have been remediated and closed. The remaining 969 issues are continuing to be addressed through INAC's Contaminated Sites Management Plan through the Long Term Capital Plan.

8.3 Treaties

Highlights

The Government of Canada and the courts understand treaties between the Crown and Aboriginal peoples to be solemn agreements that set out promises, obligations and benefits for both parties.

Under the Robinson Superior (1850) and Robinson-Huron (1850) Treaties, the Crown secured an area of about 84,000 square kilometers in what is today central and northern Ontario.

Even earlier historic treaties include the Beaver Hunting Grounds Treaty (1701) and the Treaty of Swegatchy (1760).

Note: See glossary for explanations of Peace and Friendship Treaties, Douglas Treaties, and Williams Treaties.

8.4 Comprehensive Claims

Highlights

Comprehensive land claim agreements are modern treaties which resolve issues of Aboriginal rights and title, and provide certainty regarding ownership, use and management of lands and resources. In most instances, a comprehensive land claim agreement can also include Aboriginal self-government arrangements. Sixteen final agreements have been brought into effect since the Comprehensive Land Claims Policy of the Government of Canada was introduced in 1973.

The Comprehensive Claims Branch (CCB) is responsible for the negotiation of comprehensive land claims, including self-government arrangements, with Aboriginal groups in various regions of Canada. CCB currently manages 26 comprehensive land claims and related processes involving 130 Aboriginal communities with approximately 114,750 beneficiaries, in eight provinces and three territories. Seven tables are at the final agreement stage; 11 are in agreement-in-principle negotiations; and seven remain in the early stages of discussion. CCB is also responsible for negotiating one stand-alone self-government agreement in Northern Quebec. During fiscal year 2004-2005, a number of Final Agreements were negotiated and are proceeding to ratification:

- In Yukon, final comprehensive land claim agreements and separate self-government agreements were concluded with the Kluane, Carcross/Tagish and Kwanlin Dun First Nations. The Kluane agreements came into effect on February 2, 2004. The Carcross/Tagish decided to hold a second ratification vote in a referendum held on February 10-12, 2005. Kwanlin Dun First Nation members and beneficiaries ratified its agreements in a vote held November 5 and 6, 2004 and the agreements are expected to come into effect April 1, 2005.
- In the Northwest Territories (NWT), a final comprehensive claims and self-government agreement was ratified by the Tlicho in June 2003. It is the first treaty in the NWT to incorporate land claims and constitutionally protected self-government provisions. Federal enabling legislation (the Tlicho Land Claims and Self-Government Act) received Royal Assent on February 15, 2005.
- In Newfoundland and Labrador, on January 22, 2005, at a signing ceremony in Nain, Newfoundland and Labrador representatives from the Labrador Inuit Association, Government of Canada and Government of Newfoundland and Labrador signed the Labrador Inuit Land Claims Agreement. This Agreement represents the first modern treaty in Atlantic Canada. It combines land claims and self-government components. Enabling legislation is expected to be introduced in Parliament in Spring 2005.

The Federal Treaty Negotiation Office (FTNO) in Vancouver is responsible for managing Canada's participation in the British Columbia treaty process and is also managing a stand-alone self-government negotiation with one First Nation. There are currently 54 accepted claims which have organized into 43 Aboriginal groups for the purposes of negotiation, involving 125 First Nation communities with approximately 77,000 treaty beneficiaries. During the 2003-2004 fiscal year, agreements-in-principle were signed with the Lheidli T'enneh, Maa-nulth, Sliammon and Tsawwassen First Nations. These tables have commenced final agreement negotiations. The Snuneymuxw First Nation table also concluded an agreement-in-principle and is expected to hold its community ratification in the winter of 2004. FTNO is also responsible for stand-alone self-government negotiations with the McLeod Lake Indian First Nation.

8.5 Specific Claims

Highlights

The Specific Claims Branch manages the Specific Claims and Treaty Land Entitlement policies to resolve Canada's lawful obligations through alternative disputes resolution mechanisms rather than litigation. The objective of the Specific Claims program is to address past grievances related to the administration of Indian lands and other assets, as well as the fulfilment of treaties, in a manner that strengthens partnerships, aids community healing, builds capacity and provides First Nations with needed lands and resources.

Benefits of settlement to First Nations include resolution of an historic grievance, financial resources and/or land to support social and economic development and investment for future generations, strengthened governance. The process also creates or reinforces mutual trust and encourages strong partnerships among First Nations, provincial and territorial governments and the private sector.

Since the inception of the program and up to March 2004, the Specific Claims Branch has settled 263 specific and treaty land entitlement claims. During the fiscal year 2003-2004, the Branch settled 14 specific claims with a total settlement value of $259 million:

- In Alberta, specific claim agreements were concluded with The Siksika Nation, Fort McKay First Nation, and Blood First Nation;
- In British Columbia, specific claim agreements were concluded with The Sumas First Nation and McLeod Lake-Leonard J. Solonas;
- In Manitoba, a specific claim agreement was concluded with Mathias Colomb First Nation;
- In Ontario, specific claim agreements were concluded with Aamjiwnaang, Chippewas of Kettle and Stony Point, and Michipicoten First Nations;
- In Saskatchewan, specific claim agreements were concluded with Moosomin and Thunderchild First Nations

As of December 31, 2004, 113 specific claims were in negotiation, with a further 638 under assessment, and 39 at the Indian Specific Claims Commission (ISCC).

8.6 Community Economic Development Organizations (CEDOs)

Figure 8.6 Total Number of All Types of Community Economic Development Organizations (CEDOs), Canada, 1993-1994 to 2003-2004

Highlight

Community Economic Development Organizations (CEDOs) are managed by, and accountable to, First Nations communities. They assume responsibility for the delivery of programs and services provided up to 1990 by the department. INAC regional offices work in partnership with CEDOs to establish First Nation control over local program priorities, expenditures, design, delivery and advisory services.

GLOSSARY

Glossary

Assisted Living (Formerly Adults in Institutional Care): INAC provides funding for care in Type I and II institutions which may be located on a reserve or operated by the province. Individuals are assessed according to provincial standards to determine the level of care required. Residents of institutions are generally elderly and disabled persons in need of supervision and assistance.

Type I: "...required by a person who is ambulant and/or independently mobile, who has decreased physical and/or mental faculties, who requires primarily supervision and/or assistance with activities of daily living and provision for meeting psycho-social needs through social and recreational services. The period of time during which care is required is indeterminate and related to the individual condition";

Type II: "...required by a person with a relatively stabilized (physical or mental) chronic disease or functional disability, who, having reached the apparent limit of his recovery, is not likely to change in the near future, who has relatively little need for the diagnostic and therapeutic services of a hospital but who requires availability of personal care on a continuing 24-hour basis, with medical and professional nursing supervision and provision for meeting psycho-social needs. The period of time during which care is required is unpredictable but usually consists of a matter of months or years".

(Source: Adult Long Term Institutional Care, Report of the Sub-Committee on Special Services in Hospitals, 1984).

Average Annual Growth Rate: The formula used to calculate average annual growth rates was:  $AAGR = (X_1 / X_0)^{1/n} - 1$  where:  $X_1$  = data for the most recent year in period  $X_0$  = data for the earliest year in period  $n$  = length of period (years).

Bill C-31: "Passed by Parliament in June 1985, Bill C-31 contained important amendments to the Indian Act. It had three principal goals: to eliminate discrimination based on gender and marital status in the Indian Act; to restore Indian status to victims of past discrimination; and to enable Indian bands to assume control over their membership. As a result of Bill C-31, the Indian Act now essentially treats men and women equally when determining status, and prevents anyone from gaining or losing status through marriage" (Source: Lands, Revenues and Trust Review, Phase II Report INAC).

Children in Care: The number of children who were placed away from parental care to protect them from neglect and/or abuse, or to prevent neglect and/or abuse. The children were placed either in foster care, group homes or institutional care.

Devolution: Refers to the transfer of services and programs from INAC control to Indian bands, tribal councils and other Indian authorities.

Dwellings: Defined as self-contained living accommodations (with at least one separate bedroom), and considered to be a main residence, irrespective of occupancy, level of completeness, or need for renovation or replacement.

Geographic Zones:

Urban: A zone where a First Nation is located within 50 km from the nearest service centre having year-round road access.

Rural: A zone where a First Nation is located between 50 km and 350 km from the nearest service centre having year-round road access.

Remote: A zone where a First Nation is located over 350 km from the nearest service centre having year-round road access.

Special Access: A zone where a First Nation has no year-round road access to the nearest service centre and, as a result, experiences a higher cost of transportation.

Service Centre: A community where the following services are available:

- a) - supplies, material and equipment (i.e. for construction, office operations, etc.);
- b) - a pool of skilled or semi-skilled labour;
- c) - at least one financial institution, bank, trust company, credit union, etc.;
- d) - provincial services (such as health services, community and health services, environment services); and
- e) - Federal services (such as Canada Post, employment centre).

Income Assistance: The Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (INAC) Income Assistance Program is one component of the departmental Social Development Program.

INAC has engaged in on-reserve income assistance activities with the broad objective of providing individuals and families with the means to meet basic needs for food, clothing and shelter. INAC also funds special needs allowances for goods and services which are essential to the physical or social well-being of an eligible recipient but are not included as items of basic need, such as basic items of furniture and cost of a physician recommended diet. The department's present involvement in social assistance activities is primarily to provide funding to First Nations who in turn deliver programs and services to community members.

INAC must adopt the terms and conditions of provincial and territorial general assistance programs. While INAC may directly deliver the income assistance program, the program has been largely devolved. In 2000-2001, 538 First Nations administered their own program (This figure does not include First Nations functioning under self-government arrangements).

Income Assistance Recipients: Are defined as the combined total of the number of families (heads of household) and single individuals who are eligible to receive income assistance funding.

Income Assistance Beneficiaries: Are defined as the combined total of the number of persons in a family and single individuals.

Indian Lands Registry System (ILRS): The Indian Lands Registry System (ILRS) is a web-based application consisting of a database of instruments registered in the Indian Lands Registry relating to Reserve Lands and Crown Lands. The ILRS is the authoritative source for reserve names.

The First Nation Land Management Act allows First Nations to opt out of the land tenure provisions of the Indian Act, and in its place, to substitute their own land management codes to manage reserve lands and resources. This Act states that a First Nation Land Register shall be established. A First Nation Land Register System will be available early in the year 2003.

Indian Register: "The Indian Register is a list of Registered Indians (as defined in the Indian Act) kept by INAC. Information on this list concerning the demographic characteristics of the Indian population is updated regularly by band officials and published for December 31 of each year".

Life Expectancy: "Is an estimation of the average number of years of life remaining to each member of a group of persons. It is calculated on the basis of observed age-specific mortality rates at any particular moment in time, assuming that the risks of dying remain constant from the moment of estimation until the death of all members of the group" (Source: Wilkins, Russell, Health Status in Canada, 1926-1976, Institute for Research on Public Policy, May 1980).

Reserves: As defined in the Indian Act, a tract of land, the legal title to which is vested in Her Majesty that has been set apart by Her Majesty for the use and benefit of a band.

Self-Government: Pursuant to Canada's Inherent Right Policy, the Self-Government Branch manages the negotiation of practical and workable self-government arrangements with Aboriginal groups and with relevant provinces or territories in areas affecting their jurisdiction and interests. The branch is also responsible for policy development and the coordination of activities that support negotiations, strengthen Aboriginal governance and develop new fiscal relationships with Aboriginal governments.

Sewage Disposal System: Refers to the presence of one of the following types of sewage disposal systems: Piped, Community Septic Field/Tank, Individual Septic Field/Tank, Septic Truck and Other. Sewage Disposal System includes the presence of lift stations, septic systems, force mains, sewage collection mains, manholes, service connections, treatment plants, lagoons and outfall sewers and appurtenances, but excludes plumbing and fixtures.

Specific Claim: The Specific Claims Branch is responsible for the assessment, negotiation and settlement, or other form of final disposition, of Indian claims against Canada, which are submitted to the government under this program.

Treaties: The Peace and Friendship Treaties of 1725-79 involve 34 Mi'kmaq and Maliseet First Nations in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and the Gaspé region of Québec. The Peace and Friendship Treaties did not require the Mi'kmaq and Maliseet signatories to surrender any rights to land or resources.

From 1850-54, Governor James Douglas entered into treaties with 14 First Nations on Vancouver Island, creating the Douglas Treaties, sometimes called the Vancouver Island Treaties.

In 1923, the Government of Canada acquired about 5.2 million hectares of land in central and southern Ontario through two Williams Treaties. The first was made on October 31, 1923 with the Chippewa of Christian Island, Georgian Island, and Rama. The second on November 15, 1923 with the Mississauga of Rice Lake, Mud Lake, Scugog Lake, and Alderville.

Water Delivery Service: Refers to the presence of one of the following types of water delivery systems: Piped, Community Well, Individual Well, Truck A, Truck B and Other. Note: Although Water Delivery includes Truck B water delivery (truck to barrel), the houses have not been plumbed to accept the services (i.e., cistern and pressurized system) and can be considered inadequate.
