Welcome fellow shroomies

explore the new mushroom with us

The winter has hit Europe and can I just say it is »Arsch Kalt« out there! For this little Aussie, I can happily say I like snow. It's pretty. But that is about as far as my love for snow goes...

THE NEW MUSHROOM

Country profiles are just one of the new additions we bring to you in our new main content. Thanks to the editors network with Psytraveler.net we are able to bring you a wide variety of articles. These destinations are selected based on the best trance scenes in the warmer regions during the European winter time. Keep an eye out for other destinations in later editions.

We are featuring:

- more artist info and charts
- more info about general psychedelic culture and other aspects of the scene
- more world wide reports thanks to our increased international editor team (and growing!)
- more freaky gadgets
- more fun stuff

Some new arrangements in distribution mean that mushroom magazine is more international than ever before, with more than 1000 more outlets and growing! If you would like to be a distributor of mushroom magazine, contact us and we will get you involved too!

MUSHROOM MAGAZINE NEEDS YOU!

Since the age of the internet and downloading music, it has become harder and harder for mushroom to keep up with the bills. Unfortunately our printers refuse to print for free (no matter how how nicely we ask them!), and it costs a lot of time and effort to keep things interesting for you! We keep up the new mushroom with the help of our current sponsors, advert clients, contributors, editorial team, readers and other friends and fans. For mushroom to go on we need your help.... So please write to mushroom@mushroom-media.com and send us your ideas, support... what can you do to help your favourite magazine?

Currently, the new mushroom online concept is underway. We invite you to write to us with any thoughts on how the new mushroom online can be the best it can be! What are the 'must have' and 'absolutely not' things you want to see on your mushroom magazine website?

Goa and Psychedelic trance is thriving all over the world: What have you seen or experienced that other people in the scene should know about? Something a little out of the ordinary? How do you celebrate in your country?

So with lots going on we are slaving away to ensure the rise of the new shroom...

Vibrasphere

The electronic music project Vibrasphere is over. After 12 years of music Rickard and Robert feel its time to move on with other music projects. Both are very grateful to all their fans, promoters, labels and DJs that have supported them during the years and hopefully their music will not be forgotten. The last live performance of Vibrasphere will be end of May 2011.

Down under label Zenon Records is proud to present the debut album from another of Australia's finest talents – Merkaba. With a focus on positive and healing vibrations, Merkaba combines deep basslines with lush melodies, tribal percussion and a focus on an overall, organic sound. Prepare for a vibrational journey that connects the mind, heart, body, and dancefloor!

Upcoming release on Tribal Vision is the third and final chapter of the trilogy Vanguard. This time its compiled by DJ Slater & Duca and contains tracks from Jaia, Lish, Magitman, Perfect Stranger, DJ Slater, Robert Elster (ex-Vibrasphere), Duca, Khainz, Alter Breed, Karl Johan, Flippers and Solid Snake.

Hamburg-based NOK will release his debut album on Blue Tunes Records

next year. The sound is a journey through progressive sound from the techy groove side up to the massive progressive. Other releases from the northern German label are new albums from Haldolium and israeli producer Osher (side project of Ananda Shake).

German based Prog On Syndicate Records drops their strongest and most innovative release to date entitled, Progstorm 2. Compiled by label head Querox, this progressive gem features established artists and producers such as Flegma, Nerso, Infinty and Zyce to name but a few. The 1 release represents the new generation of progressive trance.

Spin Twist Records announces new albums from Neelix, Audiomatic and Krama for the first quarter of 2011.

Neelix

The pet detective Ace Ventura sure has lots of "irons in the fire" (Swedish saying). Besides working on his next album he is also cooking up a debut album with Easy and surfer boy Rocky, that will see the light of day next year on Echoes Records. You can get a tasty sample of the duos fat sound on the digital EP

"Easy Dubsteps" that comes together with a spicy remix of Captain Hook, the new project by Reshef from Quantize.

old labels new appearance

Digital Structures...

...are also back in new shape and under new management.

The new decade finds the label reorganized and changed ownership as well as its sound and genre. Perfect Stranger and A. Balter, have taken over the front seats of Digital Structures management team, and have directed the beat to their own imprint of uplifting melodic techno sonic sound, greatly inspired by the label's history.

Iboga Records

are refurbishing and are dividing the label in to three parts; Iboga Records, Iboga Trance and Iboga Lounge.

First release on Iboga Records will be long awaited second album from israeli duo Lish. Other artists presenting new albums are Ticon and Weekend Heroes. Iboga Trance starts the new year with brand new album from Swedens finest progressive maker Gaudium.

Flying Rhino...

...is coming back slowly but surely. There is already a digital release out by break beat producer Dom Smarts project Neurodriver. Until we see more releases label honcho James Monro is focusing mainly on his tech-oriented label 4Digital Audio.

Psy Trance News

The likeably messed up bunch of party junkies from Hamburg known as the Amplitudes present straight Psy Trance music on their same-named label. Just recently the J&B Project album Monkey Business was digitally released on Beatport after it has been out for a while on CD. Coming up next is the Back On Track EP by Psytrain. In fact it really became a little quiet around the co-inventor of Cubase but this release will surely deliver some fresh and frisky noise!

December is the month of ginger bread, busy hustle and bustle in the inner cities and of end-of-year-reviews. A musical review of the IONO year is presented on the compilation Selection 2010. It includes the biggest hits from Germany's renowned "Psyprogressive" label. All together 4 hours of music from various artists that was produced to remain in DJ's wallets for a little longer than only the year 2010.

What might look like a new album at a first glance rather turns out to be kind of compilation. Star Alliance 3 includes various collaboration projects of UltraVoice, for instance with Liroy, Aquatica, Tactic Mind or Rizo. Also some remixes of UltraVoice tracks can be found on this straight, powerful and really twisted dance floor tool. Out on Compact Records.

Musical jack of all trades Kino Oko aka Bigwigs aka Tromesa from Poland rescued five of his old hard discs during a daring operation. After spending some nights browsing their content he realized that he had enough material for another historical album. "Descending out, into the distance" will include 11 tracks from the years 2003 – 2006 and it will be available for free download – check the artist's Facebook page for more information.

You still remember the cinematic masterpiece Chaos In Opera, the last album from the French duo Principles of Flight? After more than one year there will be a remix EP at the beginning of 2011. Quite some big names delivered their interpretation of selected titles, including Silicon Sound, Plasmotek and Lost & Found. Also a remix of Black Mass by Materia will be included which knocked the producers of the original track pretty much off their heels...

Pursuing their motto of "intelligent Psy Trance music", Moon Spirit Records just released the second album of Rumble Pack. The Swiss duo combines order and precision with spaced out freakiness which results in highly functional, literally Full On dance floor tracks. Next on Moon Spirit is the compilation Power Grids presenting tracks by Perplex vs. X Trix, Polypheme, the Mad Actors, Xsi vs. Mekkanikka and others.

South Africa's Timecode Records recently delivered two more extravagant Psy Trance releases for lovers of a little unusual, experimental yet highly functional and kicking sounds: The Feldgrau EP delivers 4 wasted stompers by Brethren, Phyx and Artifakt, Principles of Flight and Sub Zero. And also the Writer's Block EP by Sick Addiction delivers intoxicating Psy Trance for the night's rush hours.

Dark News

Naked Tourist

This dude lives up to his name: Mostly (half-) naked in tropical countries and somehow always a tourist, too. Beside touring with his liveact Naked Tourist is always up for some collaboration in the studio. Recently tracks together with Audiophatic, Arcek, Insector, Stereographic or Kykeon have been produced, so watch out for these ones!

Arcek

"Straight from the other side!" is the motto Argentina's Dark Prisma Records and listening to the sound of the label, they do their job really well... Their fifth CD release, the compilation Blueprints, has been announced to be out before the end of 2010. Among many very talented acts in the label's roster, Will O Wisp is definitely one of the most up and coming ones, watch out for him playing at more and more international events.

This artist does not need much to create his mighty dark sound vortex: Arcek concentrates on single sound effects and dramatic melodies, in consequence his tracks unfold large acoustical spaces. Currently he is working on his debut album which has already been announced to be released on Kamino Records.

...is currently celebrating its 10th birthday. Label founder Giuseppe already toured half around the globe to have a giant birthday party in collaboration with various promoters. After the Parvati floor at this year's Full Moon festival gained very positive feedbacks, the label has visited Asia, Greece and Japan. The New Year will witness Giuseppe playing in Brazil for the first time..

Describing Fatal Discord as an inside tip would be wrong, the talent of the Japanese producer has long been discovered and the list of his compilation contributions is getting longer and longer. But his sound is just so freaky and special that he somehow still has the characteristics of an inside tip. His debut album Insanias was lately announced on WildSeven Records.

Chill News

Croatian DJ Dova compiled another Chill Out CD for Flow Records. During one year he collected his personal top picks. The result is a multicoloured mixture of easy listening tracks, the majority of them puts some emphasis on the beats and is therefore not really tranquilizing. Well known names can be found beside rather new ones.

Abakus is industriously working on his new album: "The sound is a bit more back to the roots but with a modern twist", Russ David says. The British producer already put some earthy grooves online which are very cosy and chilly but at the same time stimulating. Already now more and more positive to enthusiastic feedbacks accumulate around this musical foretaste.

Beside a new Zero Cult album, Chillcode Music presented a new work by Galaxy during the past months, a producer who is a musical pioneer of our scene and also known as Electric Universe or Boris Blenn by many. Classical Chill Out music can be found on these two releases, easy, melodic and relaxing-kind of oldschool.

Though already out since a few months, Sweet Sadness, the recent album by Electrynose, is definitely worth being mentioned again: Truly jazzy in its experimental manner, this work dives into remarkable profound and perfidious psychedelic sound spheres.

The new album of the German Christoph Berg goes far beyond the scope of traditional Easy Listening and Chill Out sound. It could be the soundtrack for some movie and is strongly reminiscent of classical music. Rich string sections skillfully embedded into complex arrangements create dramatic and highly emotional atmospheres. Acoustic Tales will be out on Fluid Audio mid of December, limited to 200 physical copies.

Younger Brother

Younger Brother collected money for their next album in an interesting new way: They asked for donations and in turn offered goodies like unreleased material, VIP passes for parties or even workshops with the two producers depending on the amount donated. Their recent Night Lead Me Astray EP gives a foretaste of the new album Vaccine. The sound became even more band orientated and could be described as well-done contemporary pop music.

The Polish Pleq and Segue present psychotropic sound sceneries composed of hovering pad sounds and noise modulations on their album The Seed which comes along without any beat structures. And also Electric Angels by M.Grassow and T.Weiss is a highly psychedelic listening experience. Excellent music for journeys to the inner spaces! Check out www.databloem.com

Native Radio style evolution

Their organic, rolling and deeply mystical sound made Native Radio one of the showpieces of German Progressive Trance in the heyday of this style, at the beginning of the 21st century. Their live sets were highly applauded at all big festivals and parties throughout Europe. Since 2005 it got more and more quiet around the project- which did not mean its end, as turns out now: Native Radio is back with another album that represents a style evolution. Interestingly, it became neither Dark Psy nor Nu School Progressive...

During the past years Bastian Hoffmann focussed on his studies in film music composition. Thus also his productions became more soulful, turning to Downbeat and Trip Hop. This is one of factors for the style change. The other, is the instrument of the second project member, Jens Guttbier. Being a guitarist of many years with a band background, he now brings in more song-orientated ideas and sounds. "We became more mature during the past years", Bastian describes the new style of Native Radio. "For the album we wanted to create something special: A mix of Progressive / Psy Trance, harmonic melodies and tracks with emphasis on the guitar sounds." And in fact this is a pretty good description of what awaits the listeners on the new album "Macula". The deep, rolling bass structures are clearly reminiscent of the classic Native Radio sound and create a touch of oldschool atmosphere. But the guitar adds something new, a very warm, sunny and dreamy feeling. Sometimes, even a pinch of frisky rock music!

Mit ihrem rollenden, organischen und mystischen Sound galten Native Radio kurz nach der Jahrtausendwende als Vorzeigebispiel für hochwertigen deutschen Progressive Trance. Nach fast 5-jähriger Pause ist das erfolgreiche Projekt nun wieder am Start- mit neuem Sound und neuem Bastian Hoffmann und Jens Guttbier präsentieren auf „Macula“ einen eigenständigen Mix aus Progressive / Psy Trance, melodischen Parts und gitarrenbetonten Stücken, wobei sie sich nicht an aktuellen Trends orientiert haben. Der klassische Native Radio Sound ist vor allem im Bassbereich erhalten geblieben, darüber entwickeln sich sonnige, warme und verträumte Arrangements, in denen sich die langjährige Bänderfahrung des Gitarristen wieder spiegelt.

Album.

Roberto

Native Radio „Macula“ Symphonie Records

Bouncy, organic bass lines combined with light and sunny melodies and lots of uplifting guitar sounds: Native Radio are back and present their personal musical evolution. All the tracks on Macula were composed on a very song-orientated basis and represent an independent style beyond the flow of recent trends. Positive and friendly music for lovers of classical Progressive Trance!

SynSUN

new on Dacru Records

The history of Dacru reaches back to 2001 when this name became a synonym for cosy parties in Belgium. Five years later, a same named label was founded that represented all the experience gathered on the dance floors, of countless events. Since 2006 Dacru Records stands for down-the-line Psy Trance music. Looking at the packed artist roster and the packed release schedule, it seems like it does so even more than ever before!

It was label co-founder Koen who coined the expression "Full On is not dead, you just need to listen to the good stuff!" Apparently, this is also the maxim when collecting artists for Dacru from all around the world. DigiCult, Ephedrix, Lamat, Alternative Control, F.F.T, Aquila, Chronos, Intelligence and Sufi represent some of the most interesting artists from the field of straight, pumping but also intelligent Psychedelic Trance music. Just recently, another highly interesting act joined the label: SynSUN. The originally Ukrainian artist just moved to Belgium and brought fifth studio album, due to be out on Dacru in February.

"Alter Ego" is not a usual album, since it will include 2 CDs – one filled with previously unreleased remixes by the artist himself and a second one including remixes of his tracks by some of the biggest names of the scene: Mekkanikka, Atomic Pulse, Wizzy Noise or The Freak Show. Dacru's release schedule keeps the excitement going, presenting new material each month: In January there will be the Liquid & Solid EP by Intelligence, in February SynSUN as well as an Aquila EP, in March Ephedrix' Circle Of Life EP, in April a DigiCult EP will be released as a foretaste of the album to come, in May there is also another SynSUN EP is scheduled. June will witness the second part of the Essentials compilation mixed by DJ Kristian, and another EP by Lamat. Finally there will be more EPs by Chronos and F.F.T. in July and August respectively. Last but not least, Dacru just started a new label named Atmosphere Records, which will focus on Progressive House and Techno music.

Nitro & Glycerine

love and passion for music

Sylvia und Necmi together drive their passion and love through their music. Sylvie learnt piano many years contributing her a good grasp in music knowledge and a good ear for fun and beat. It was after her trip to Guatemala where psychedelic trance had taken a hold of her, and when getting to know Imox Maya in Antigua, learnt mixing music and handling turntables. Inspiration struck in 2009, she gained a partner who shared her same desires in passion and music, Necmi showed her the workings of Cubase.

Sylvie studies Social Work/Social Pedagogics and works with teenagers in a deprived area in Cologne. She plans Bachelor-Thesis about "trance dance as anger management training for kids and teenagers" in such districts in order to combine her two passions.

Necmi had been testing, playing, fiddling and experimenting with music from a very young age, first beginning this experimentation with a tape and record player creating short samples! Playing guitar for some years, it was in 1992 that the electronic movement grabbed him.

It was in 1999 that his solo project really began to bring some attention as the most straight kicking live-project in the Rhine-scene. His unique definition of trance is built upon pumping techhouse beats and collages of atmospheric samples, reflecting all dance styles that crossed his ears in the last 10 years. He balances his life with his two passions and is a streetworker and an audio engineer.

Together it was inevitable serious sparks would fly. These two extraordinarily passionate people put their heart and soul into everything around them, each other and their work. Their explosive positive energy at live-sets cannot be ignored, remaining seated NOT being an option! Artistic, creative and full of life, this is a beautiful union of truly lovely talented people sharing their combined energy with the world.

Nitro&glycerine „Explosive“ Syphonie Records

N&G is the new duo-project of Necmi and Alice Pi, in which they celebrate their love and passion for each other and express this in their music. Their sound is the result of an innovative symbiosis of Necmi's dynamic dirty prog and Alice Pi's funny psychedelic inputs. This unique style is significant for its fresh vocals, strong baselines and frisky background expanses. The music passionately grabs you giving a strong emotion rush and energy explosion, which you know is from the absolute energy that this Nitro&glycerine expressed to put in.

Solano „Activation“ IONO Music

Solanos former album works ‚Blackout‘ and ‚Under the White Flag‘ have been a great success around the globe. The different music styles and influences of this duo have brought a coloured mixture which gives their sound its special character. Those guys know how to build a functional arrangement! Their sound is hypnotic and original, warm but never importunate, and always reflecting the strong and leading role of the swiss progressive trance scene.

Funky Dragon „Inflame E.P.“ IONO Music

Funky Dragon worked out his skills for a clean studio production and finally he has again refreshed his musical style. A new and has been made, with more straight and pressing trance sound, which will be most effective on open air floor as well as on sweaty club floors. This is a mindblowing collection of three deep and energetic progressive bombs, each of them made for courting you to stand up and move, but without forgetting to spoil your temper with warmth at the right time.

MK Records & Zoom

An interview with Marco Aversa

Interview by Psy Tribe

It all started back in the day with first parties 16 years ago. Marco Aversa from Italy started to organize Goa parties, at the age of fifteen, in a social centre. The most important party became "Warehouse of Dreams". After this, Marco and his crew arrived at Star City (a leisure centre), which was the first large recreational event in Bologna that could contain 3000 people. This was a turning point for the underground movement of Bologna, as it started the evolution of the scene.

What were the biggest MK events?

The biggest parties from MK Records were Starfucker Parties, Goaland Festival and RockCircus Festival. It wasn't long after these events that MK Records moved on to "Zoom Reality".

What is Zoom?

Zoom was born during a trip to Thailand, where I was inspired by a club in Koh Phangan. When I came back to Italy I decided to make the Zoom project more serious. I found a warehouse, which was then renovated using only recycled materials. Inside this space we created Zoom. We built a studio and stocked it with equipment for producing quality music. Soon we obtained our license for entertainment to hold club night events. During the next months, we developed a live music project called "Underneath." This project includes Animatronica, Timimass, and Mario Bros.

Tell us more about your project!

Well, I met Timimass before anything happened. He gave me the inspiration for the group that we have now. Timimass has been producing music since his youth. As we have similar feelings about music, Timimass was excited to start up a project with me. Inspired by nature, uplifting sound and energy, we began to create music. Later in the story, we worked together to make MK Records a famous record label in Italy, and also organized some of the most amazing parties.

What are the latest releases on the MK label?

Goaland Vol.1, Imago, Goaland Vol.2 and Freakadelic coming soon.

Any future parties?

Psychedelic Christmas on 25th December and Freakadelic New Years Eve on 31st December.

Didgeridoo, Drums and Dance!

Instruments made from hemp fibre

Music is the heart and soul of Goa and Psytrance scene. It has long incorporated the playing, tapping, hitting, banging and clanging of all kinds of instruments from guitar, pipes, flutes, drums and didgeridoo along with the tracks, or just in a big group around a fire. Whatever the case, the amazing atmosphere of collective raw energy that develops fills you with such a feeling of inner strength, power and passion that it is like the burning fire of pleasure spreading from within you the inside-out!

When you are on the other side of the world, it really tickles your fancy when you come across something that is a little piece of your home. During my travels last month, I met Norbert and his son Simon at Hempstone (Austria), their speciality: drums and didgeridoos made from hemp-fibre! Simon also loves to juggle with fire staves, and is quite accomplished at playing Hang (unique specialist rare and metal drum from Switzerland).

These incredible products are completely natural, use only the smashed and dyed hemp-fibre bound with water! Norbert explained to me he is also experimenting with pumpkin and apple pulp combined with the hemp-fibre mix to produce different textures, strengths, colours and weights.

The first process involves design and measurement. This must be correct for the resonance of the tube to function. A plaster cast mould is then created to the size required and prepared for the hemp-fibre paste mixture. Over 70% of the mixture is water, despite this it is still quite a thick substance to work with. The hemp fibre paste is sprayed directly into the mould and then put together.

The didgeridoo is then born! Because of the incredibly high percentage of water, the didge will need time to settle and completely dry through. They are placed in a drying room at constant temperature to help this process along. Unbelievably, the hemp-paste products will shrink around 7-8 times smaller than how they are first cast! This must be kept in mind during construction. The finishing touches are then made, they are polished up and sanded back to produce the final product.

So how do they compare to the originals?

It was about this point Norbert grabbed one of the didges and from standing, pushed it clean over straight into the concrete! Aside from jumping out of my skin from the thunder-like clatter, my immediate worry turned to the poor didgeridoo that just ate concrete! Amazingly, not so much as even a scratch!

Absolute unique, robust and top quality product with clean clear sound. With many thanks to the lovely guys at Hempstone who were a delight to spend the afternoon with. I can definitely recommend you get your hands on these!

I-Doser

Drug injection via Headphone / the effects of music

It's incredible how fast this stuff takes hold: I'm wearing my headphones not even half a minute and I already feel the corners of my mouth twitching, then a cosy tickle somewhere around my stomach and finally I start roaring with laughter. Well, looking back I ask myself if this amusing effect was really intended by "Orgasm", a track that is characterized by a pornographic moaning and some hovering pad sounds; but isn't a frisky laughter one of the best kicks, too?

A simulation of various drug intoxications and other extraordinary states of mind, provoked by special sound frequencies- this is what the American I-Doser service offers. The product range covers quite everything from an acoustic dose of cocaine, available for few bucks via download, up to a profound enlightenment experience lasting half an hour for 200 $. All these "drugs" can be re-used and of course they are 100% legal.

Despite the kind of unusual orgasm experience, I am taking the basic idea of I-Dosing really serious. As a long-year music junkie I know very well about the stimulating effect of sounds. But the humming and whirling sounds of "LSD", "Ecstasy" or "Peyote" strongly remind me classic Psychedelic Chill Out productions- only the difference that the latter appear more sophisticated and harmonic to me. Listening to the I-Doser stuff definitely causes a certain mental effect which -concerning its intensity- I would describe as something between the sleepy twilight state when travelling above the diesel engine of a ship and listening to the grinding of an ice crusher. But if an authentic simulation of the regarding drug intoxication is given in this way seems doubtful for me with my modest experience. Surely it is an important factor to which extent you get involved in the initially passive listening experience, which is to say to which extent you start meditating actively on its basis.

For sure, everybody has experienced the actual effect of sounds on the human mind. Hans Cousto, sound researcher and author of "The Cosmic Octave" explains which factors are important for this phenomenon:

Roberdo: How can sounds and melodies be used for a specific change of consciousness?

Hans: Sounds and melodies have been used for specific changes of the human consciousness since time immemorial, just think about the singing of shamans or Sufis, the drumming rituals in Africa, the Gregorian singing, the requiem mass in the catholic church or even the military march music which is used to accompany the movement of a large amount of people and to initiate the actual marching.

Roberdo: And how does this work in detail?

Hans: A good example for a frequency that is popular for being the basis of meditative music, is the Indian keynote "Om". This tone is based on the rotation of Earth around the sun. Also known as the "Year-Tone", it represents a C sharp at 136,10 Hz and it equals the 32nd octave of the Earth's year. In India this tone is the keynote for all the sitar and tambura music and is also called "Sadja", which means something like "Father of the Others". The secret of the immense power of Indian meditative music is based on the fact that it is tuned with exactly these tides of events, with the "Tao".

Roberdo: Is there a habituation effect or will these sounds always trigger the same reaction again?

Hans: There is no habituation effect. Also somebody who meditated all life long by singing on the frequency of the Earth's Year-Tone, the Om, will still enjoy the full benefits of such a meditation when being very old. Another sound, that can trigger opera singers for many years, is the so-called "Tristan Chord". The Tristan Chord is a harmony used as a leitmotif in Richard Wagner's musical drama "Tristan and Isolt" after which it was also named. It is integrated into a paramount sequential context.

Roberdo: Are there also psychoactive sounds to discover in everyday life?

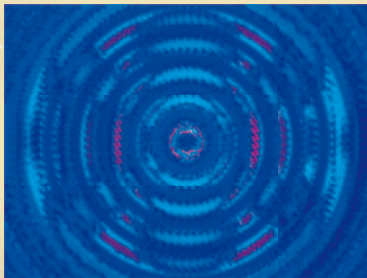

Hans: Yes, lots of them- from church bells to police sirens!

Hans Cousto

Es ist unglaublich, wie schnell das Zeug knallt: Ich habe den Kopfhörer nicht mal eine halbe Minute auf den Ohren und schon spüre ich dieses Zucken in den Mundwinkeln, gleich darauf einen wohligen Druck in der Bauchgegend, der sich schließlich in einem herzhaften Lachen entlädt. Zwar frage ich mich im Nachhinein, ob das pornöse Gestöhne vor den stehenden Flächensounds mit dem Titel „Orgasm“ wirklich auf diesen erhei-ternden Effekt abzielte; aber gehört ein herzhaftes Lachen nicht auch zu den schönsten Kicks überhaupt?

Die durch spezielle Klangfrequenzen hervorgerufene Simulation verschiedenster Drogenenerlebnisse und sonstiger außergewöhnlicher Bewusstseinszustände verspricht der amerikanischen Anbieter I-Doser. Das Angebot reicht von einer akustischen Dosis Kokain, via Download für wenige Dollars erhältlich, bis hin zur halbstündigen Kompletterleuchtung für 200$. Wohlgeremkt sind diese „Drogen“ wiederverwendbar – und vollkommen legal!

Trotz des etwas ungewöhnlichen Orgasmuserlebnisses nehme ich den grundsätzlichen Ansatz von I-Dosing durchaus ernst. Denn die stimulierende Wirkung von Klängen ist mir als langjährigem Musikjunkie sehr wohl bekannt. Die brummanden und surrenden Sounds von „LSD“, „Ecstasy“ oder „Peyote“ erinnern mich jedoch stark an klassische Psychedelic Chill Out Produktionen – mit dem Unterschied, dass letztere in meinen Ohren harmonischer und runder klingen. Beim Hören entsteht durchaus ein gewisser Effekt, den ich von der Intensität her irgendwo zwischen dem schläfrigen Dämmerzustand über dem Dieselmotor eines Schiffes und dem erwartungsvollen Lauschen eines Eiscrushers einordnen würde. Ob man in dieser Hinsicht von einer authentischen Simulation des jeweiligen Drogenrausches sprechen kann, das erscheint mir mit meiner bescheidenen Erfahrung dagegen etwas fragwürdig. Ein wichtiger Faktor ist sicherlich, in wie weit man sich auf das zunächst passive Hörerlebnis einlässt, also inwieweit man auf seiner Grundlage eine aktive Meditation beginnt.

Die tatsächliche Wirksamkeit von Klängen auf unser Bewusstsein hat ganz sicher jeder von uns schon einmal erlebt. Hans Cousto, Klangforscher und Autor von „Die Kosmische Oktave“ erklärt im Interview, welche Faktoren dabei eine Rolle spielen.

Roberdo: Inwieweit können Geräusche und Melodien gezielt zur Bewusstseinsveränderung eingesetzt werden?

Hans: Geräusche und Melodien werden seit Urzeiten gezielt zur Bewusstseinsveränderung eingesetzt, man denke beispielsweise an die Gesänge der Schamanen oder der Sufis, an die Trommelrituale in Afrika, an die griechischen Gesänge oder an die Totenmessen (Requien) in der katholischen Kirche oder auch an die militärische Marschmusik, deren Zweck darin besteht, die Bewegung einer größeren Menschenmenge zu begleiten und beim Marschieren zu regeln.

Roberdo: Und wie genau funktioniert das dann?

Hans: Als gutes Beispiel für eine Frequenz, die als Grundlage für meditative Musik bekannt ist, kann der indische Grundton „Om“ genannt werden. Grundlage dieses Tones ist der Umlauf der Erde um die Sonne. Der auch „Jahreston“ genannte Ton ist ein Cis mit 136,10 Hz und entspricht der 32.

Oktave des Erdenjahres. In Indien ist dieser Ton der Grundton der Sitar- und Tamburamusik und wird auch „Sadja“ genannt, was soviel heißt wie: „Vater der Anderen“. Das Geheimnis der enormen Wirkung der indischen Meditationsmusik liegt ganz einfach in der Tatsache begründet, dass diese eben genau auf den Lauf der Dinge, das „Tao“, eingestimmt ist.

Roberdo: Tritt ein Gewöhnungseffekt auf oder triggern die Sounds immer wieder die gleiche Reaktion?

Hans: Ein Gewöhnungseffekt tritt nicht auf. Auch jemand, der ein Leben lang auf der Frequenz des Jahrestones der Erde – dem „Om“ – in singender Weise meditiert, kann noch im hohen Alter den wohlthuenden Segen einer derartigen Meditation verspüren. Ein anderer Sound, der beispielsweise Opernsänger über viele Jahre hinweg triggern kann, ist der sogenannte „Tristan Akkord“. Der Tristan-Akkord ist eine leitmotivisch genutzte Harmonie aus Richard Wagners Musikdrama „Tristan und Isolde“, nach dem er auch benannt wurde. Er ist in einen übergeordneten sequenziellen Zusammenhang integriert.

Roberdo: Gibt es auch im Alltag psychoaktive Sounds zu entdecken?

Hans: Ja, jeder Menge, von Kirchenglocken bis zu Polizeisirenen!

Felix

A farewell to a great artist and good friend

Mit Felix Stöver ist im vergangenen November eines der größten Talente zeitgenössischer psychedelischer und visionärer Kunst verstorben. Seine großformatigen Schwarzlichtgemälde haben zahllosen Partys ein einzigartiges Flair verliehen und sind somit ein nicht wegzudenkender Teil der Geschichte unserer Szene. Felix' bemerkenswerte Fantasie und seine erstaunlichen technischen Fertigkeiten schlugen sich außerdem in zahlreichen Illustrationen und Comics nieder.

Wie nur wenige Menschen verstand es der aus Hamburg stammende Künstler, in seinen Werken komplexe Bewusstseinszustände jenseits der Grenzen sinnlicher Wahrnehmung metaphorisch wiederzugeben. Das Betrachten seiner vielschichtigen, detailverliebten Maleisen und Grafiken ist somit nicht nur ein hochgradig ästhetisches Erlebnis sondern eröffnet zudem Einblicke in eine Meta-Realität hinter den Dimensionen von Raum und Zeit. Der stets freundliche und bescheidene Felix erlag den Folgen eines Hirntumors. In seinen zahlreichen Werken wird sein wahrhaft großer Geist jedoch weiterleben.

In November one of the biggest talents of contemporary psychedelic and visionary art passed away. Felix Stöver decorated countless parties with his huge black light paintings and created astounding atmospheres in this way. Furthermore his remarkable imagination and his fascinating technical skills found expression in numerous illustrations and comics. Felix's work became an integral part of the history of our scene.

The artist from Hamburg had the very rare gift for reproducing complex states of consciousness beyond the boundaries of perception in a metaphorical way. Thus looking at his multilayered, incredibly detailed paintings and graphics is not only a highly aesthetic experience but also gives insight to a meta-reality behind the dimensions of space and time. The always friendly and modest Felix died from a brain tumour. But his truly fine mind will stay alive in his numerous works.

* 23.03.1972 † 03.11.2010

Wir nehmen Abschied von einem großartigen Künstler.

Felix Stöver hat uns mit seinen Bildern und Zeichnungen immer wieder aufs Neue begeistert. Er hinterlässt seine Eltern, seinen Lebensgefährten und Freunde Wir werden ihn alle sehr vermissen.

We say goodbye to a great artist. Felix Stöver excited us again and again with his breathtaking and intricate paintings and drawings. He leaves behind his parents, his partner and friends and will be sorely missed by all.

Chris Dyer the mushroom cover artist

Soccer was the rule, back then in the boys-only elementary school in Lima. Thus Chris, a highly imaginative boy who was barely ever seen not doodling something, was regarded to be quite a nerd. But the young Peruvian kept on scribbling, always feeling the urge to create something new, to check out unknown techniques and to switch up mediums and styles. In this way he developed step by step a very independent and truly unique style. His paintings are bursting with colours and combine profound psychedelic ideas with a highly energetic clarity. But there is even more: He pursues an approach that could be described as psychedelic Street Art.

"I think canvas painting allows a nice surface to express something really powerful, but it can also be boring to always just do squares n rectangles, stuff with corners. Visionary art has to escape the galleries and hit the streets to reach the real masses who need it", the nowadays Canada based artist explains. Which is why his work can be found on shoes, skate-, snow-, and surfboards, on hats, vehicles, vinyl toys, records and of course also on the walls of the urban concrete jungles. It is really just like Chris, that he can't restrict himself to one medium to paint on, he can't decide for a favourite technique: "I think I can do my sickest stuff with acrylic paints, but then I also like to just jam out some quick spray paint murals on a hot sunny day. Drawing is fun, video is fun, sculpture is fun..." Chris does not regard himself to be part of a particular scene. Nevertheless he has a very clear idea of psychedelic art: "It comes from parallel dimensions, vibrating at a higher frequency; Vibrations from beyond our physical reality. This is not necessarily tied into drugs as all realities already exist inside us. Not necessarily positive, but hopefully." During the past 3 years he has been collaborating on a documentary movie about his art and his numerous journeys, that will be published on DVD in spring. He has just finished "260 big glossy color pages of visual soul explosions of different kinds" – quite a promising thing to watch out for in 2011!

Als psychedelische Street Art könnte man das Werk des peruanischstämmigen Chris Dyer beschreiben- denn er sieht nicht die Galerie, sondern die Straße als den Ort, wo seine Kunst ihre Wirkung am besten entfalten kann. Und so findet man seine vor Farben strotzenden, hochgradig psychedelischen und den-noch bemerkenswert klaren Male-rien auf Schuhen, Skate-, Surf- und Snowboards, auf Hüten, Autos und natürlich den Wänden des urbanen Betonschungsels. Im nächsten Jahr wird es eine Dokumentation über sein Schaffen und seine zahlreichen Reisen auf DVD geben, außerdem ein Kunstbuch mit „260 Seiten verschiedenartiger visueller Explosionen der Seele“...

Nativelizardape

Mystic Black Light Art

Her twisted black light paintings often break the strict rules of symmetry, sometimes rather subtle, sometimes very obvious. In consequence, her work is characterized by a very organic and natural flow. With her project Nativelizardape, Katrin Biewer-Guttbier from the German city of Coblenz gives expression to her deep passion for fluorescent party decoration for already more than a decade.

Do you have a typical workflow?

I like to let myself go when painting, not thinking about what I am doing but just let it flow. I am a very spiritual person and my paintings give expression to this attitude towards life and my environment. Each of my pictures is based on some experience, a vision or an expectation of mine. I am experiencing my environment very intensely and painting gives me the possibility to reflect these experiences. Often the actual subject of a painting only becomes apparent once I have finished it. In this way I am learning new things about myself, it is sort of natural Trance.

How did this evolve, what was your artistic career?

I started painting in 1998. During the summer of that year I experienced my first outdoor party and was immediately filled with enthusiasm for the world of fluorescent colours. So I started some experiments myself and did my first blankets and objects. Soon I got invited to decorate some events. After a few years I took a break from the scene. But some time ago I finally returned to my roots. The old spirit returned immediately and now creating new black light decoration is even more fun than ever before!

So what is your current project?

At the moment I am working on my outdoor decoration for the next open air season. It will consist of many blankets and banners and also some nice objects.

20 Years of Psychedelic Trance

The Goa Book

It took 2 years of work for the 2 editors to get 41 writers and 38 photographers to create this unique book of the Psytrance movement. On 280 pages, the masterminds of the scene tell their story of how the scene emerged out of its roots in the 60's.

Music, art, spirituality and the global tribes and festivals are presented in this book, that is accompanied by a DVD produced by the visual masters Psynema. The English edition is planned for 2011, Editions in other languages with new content and pictures will hopefully also become reality.

Die Idee gibt es ja schon länger, aber niemand traute sich, das Monsterwerk wirklich zu machen. Erst vor zwei Jahren fanden sich Tom Rom und Pascal Querner zusammen und dachten sich, dass es endlich ein Buch braucht um nicht nur die traumhaften Fotos sondern auch die Goa-Szene seit ihrem Beginn in Szene zu setzen. Die Psytrance-Kultur ist nicht nur eine Musikströmung sondern ein wichtiger Teil der elek-tronischen Dance-Kultur des 20. und 21. Jahrhunderts. Klar, die beiden hätten das Buch selber schreiben können, denn sie sind jetzt mehr als zehn Jahren auf vielen Festivals und Hunderten Partys in aller Welt unterwegs und kennen viele Leute, die die Szene entscheidend mitgeprägt haben. Doch beiden war wichtig, dass die Masterminds der Szene ihre Geschichte selber erzählen – und das so bunt und direkt wie möglich. Es dauerte zwei Jahre intensiver Arbeit, bis jetzt das Buch endlich fertig geworden ist, denn es ist ein Buch von Freaks für Freaks. Dank dem Nachtschattenverlag erschien es Ende November 2010 zuerst in Deutsch. 280 Seiten stark ist das Goa-Buch geworden (Fluoro-Einband inklusive), 650 Fotos sind darin verarbeitet, 41 Autoren von Goa Gil, Raja Ram, Christian Rättsch, Sam Chaishop und viele andere bekannte Autoren und auch 38 Fotografen und viele Künstler haben sich damit ein Denkmal für die Ewigkeit gesetzt – grafisch traumhaft umgesetzt vom Grafiker Peter Lippert aus Wien. Das Buch ist wie ein Tagebuch für die ältere Trance-Generation und soll auch ein Lehrbuch für die jüngeren Fraggles sein. Das Ziel der Herausgeber ist, dass das ursprüngliche Verständnis der Goa-Bewegung an die young generation weiter gegeben wird. 36 Kapitel erzählen die Geschichte der bunten Tribes, die wichtigsten Festivals der Welt von Japan bis Russland, die Musik, Kunst, Performances, die Psywear und Spiritualität der Szene in all ihren Facetten. Österreich, Deutschland und der Schweiz sind eigene Kapitel gewidmet. Die Herausgeber wollten so viel wie möglich in dem Buch unterbringen. Eine begleitende DVD der Visual-Wizards Psynema (El Geko und BuzzT) vervollständigt das Werk in bewegten Bildern. Viele Mushroomleser werden sich im Buch und auch auf der DVD wiederfinden und sich als stolzer Teil einer einzigartigen globalen Szene empfinden, wie es sie seit den Hippipietagen nicht mehr gegeben hat.

Juggling

The Unity of Trance and Rhythmic Movement

Since the day we are born, the human nature is driven to play. Juggling has long since been an important part of the psy trance and goa community and we bring you the first of many articles that introduces you into this mesmerizing world.

The connection between rhythm, beat and music with repetitive movement and playing can take you to a completely new world. There are an extensive variety of toys, sticks, balls, clubs, staves and more used for throwing, catching, spinning and twirling and can be described as a perfect mathematical flow of harmony.

To fidget and twiddle, to see how things work and move, the curiosity of the human mind is captivated by the memorizing trance like state induced by oscillation and spin. The misleading impression given by the active rearrangement of objects fascinates the human mind, making the impossible seem possible and the unreal come to life!

We bring you the first of many articles to introduce you to this beautiful art form that has long since been an integral part of our scene. These amazing displays of manipulation and skills are frequently seen circumferencing the dancefloor at many festivals and parties, testing the limits of manual dexterity.

Visually stimulating performances often incorporate the use of lights and fire, and the results are breathtaking. Juggling has been a perfect compliment to Goa and Psy-trance, not only good exercise and entertainment, but it also teaches patience and focus and helps improve physical fitness, balance, rhythm and reflexes.

There are juggling toys of all shapes and varieties: from poi to hula hoops, sticks, strings, balls, spirals, curvy toys, straight toys and the most complex and intricate to the most seemingly simple, juggling is a delightful entertainment filled with colour and amazing displays of human capability.

The best part is, ANYONE can juggle, and you can begin at anytime. So whether you are just starting out, or you can juggle fire poi in a seemingly impossible way without setting your hair on fire, we embrace juggling and welcome all that contribute to this interesting and beautiful component in our scene.

Juggling instigates mischief, fun and laughter. It is an art, a sport, an expression and a skill... it is whatever you decide it to be...

FAIRY FLOSS BYRON BAY

Fairy Floss began as a fairy-party funky shop. Over time, it has evolved with much more to offer and hassle free online mail-order. With a beautiful range of clothing suited to day-time, work, evening and partying, the casual funky unique designs at Fairy Floss in Byron Bay Australia, are inspired by local creative street wear. Natural fabrics are used, comfort being a big emphasis.

With a wide range of stylish designs the clothing is both comfortable, practical, sleek and gives you a certain edge. Fairy Floss has a collection for women, men and kids, as well as some gorgeous accessories, including fairy wings, fire staff and poi toys and other yummy accessories!

The main designer is Revital Lev who has a B.A. in design. Together with Alex Lev they create with love a new creative collection every season. After traveling the world, they chose to live in Byron shire, finding the collective consciousness in the area vibrating with our own. With a lot of help from fairies and angels around, they have managed to manifest all they dreamed of.

"With no doubt we can say "DREAMS COME TRUE" our goal is to spread this awareness to the magic. To be joyous, creative and to shine the light of love that is always here and now." - Fairy Floss, Byron Bay.

Thailand

Spaced-out sounds day and night

Thailand is one of the world centres of Psychedelic Trance for pretty much as long as the music is around itself. Many of us may have had their first introduction into spaced-out sounds played day and night right here.

Especially Ko Phangan is constantly developing its scene. The friendly island with its white sand beaches and lush forests hosts not only the Full Moon party, where Tommy's Resort still caters to the psychedelic traveller's needs. Especially Half Moon and Black Moon party plus the bimonthly Shivamoon and Jungle Experience guarantee good party vibes, even more in the early morning hours.

Ban Sabaii hosts a party on any day after the moon parties, plus the bimonthly Acid Moon. Most parties play during the day and the atmosphere and energy is as familiar as it is inviting. Pirate Bar is a smaller location with regular parties situated on an otherwise less frequented beach in the northwest of the island. And if you're stranded and needy, there is always the option to listen to sometimes good and live and sometimes bad and taped Trance at Zoom right at Haad Rin beach.

The scene centres around Ko Phangan but is not limited to it. Neighbouring island Ko Tao has New Year's Eve's Experience festival, a full-fledged festival from 30 December to 2 January with up to 2,000 visitors expected.

Bangkok's Khao San road is home to Ooze Bar and Peab Moon Bar, opened every day. Two simple and small street bars where you will run into people whom you have already met at the island parties. A very special venue is also Ezze bar: Located in Bangkok's famous RCA district with all its university students, it offers a different world just behind the doorstep.

If you are lucky during your stay, you can attend a party two hours away from Bangkok on a vast reservoir. Rafts are towed together and pulled towards a tiny island and the beat doesn't stop for three days. Please refer to the usual websites or to Ooze bar to find out about dates. This December 25th -27th will kick off pre- New Year's Eve celebrations in this stunning setting.

Parties include lots of international DJs and some world-class residents. Music is ranging from Progressive early at night, to Full On at night to deep Psychedelic in the morning. Entry fees are usually less than 10 Euros but sometimes up to 50, for instance for the lake event; however, you will see that wherever you go, you will get value for money.

Be careful with your consumption; smelly herbs should be smoked far from everybody and purchased from trustworthy persons only.

New Years Eve at the Experience Festival

Dec 30th to Jan 2nd / Ko Tao / Thailand

Ko Tao is a diver's paradise during the year. But once a year Leung and the Koh Phangan Goa folks organize a 3-nights-party around New Year's Eve with more than 2,000 people. This festival is surely one of the best places in the world to spend the year's change since it has become impossible to organize a more-day festival on Koh Phangan due to the island's regulations. 4 days and 3 nights on a hilltop jungle plateau provide an astounding mass of deco from Phangan and Carin Dickson from South Africa. A beautiful mainfloor with superb views, a market area with chill-out floor, a great PA system and party all night long – with nearby beaches such as Freedom Beach and Chalok Ban Kao. The location is close to the pier but inland and easily accessible by taxi or motorbike. The international lineup this year is great: Parasense from Russia, Paul Taylor from UK, Scotty and Antaro from Voov and lots of top-end Thai DJs such as Sabai Sabai, Leung, Jao, Ko and many more. Make sure to book a bungalow on the island in advance!

Brazil

Psychedelia in natura

When you speak of Brazil, what comes to your mind? If you are into psychedelic parties, for sure you are gonna say Universo Paralello. Mix your feelings into heavenly landscapes, beaches, mountains, sun and an exquisite wild energy for partying like never before. Welcome to paradise!

Psychedelic fruit in Brazil is maturing for some years and little by little it gets one of the sweetest corners in the world when the subject is tasting all kinds of psytrance.

Every year, thousands of international freaks keep coming to discover the flavors of Brazilian scene. Many festivals did not happen in 2009 and the scenario does not change much for 2010.

Universo Paralello has officially decided to take place every 2 years, after the massive last new year's eve. Soulvision still holds carnival festival with a lot of low bpm music. Samsara is also always happening, but nothing is quite sure about Cachoeira Alta. Fora do Tempo, Tranceformation and Trancendence are definitely not scheduled. A new upcoming festival takes place in Chapada Diamantina in July, Ziohm. Worth checking if you are escaping from European summer.

In parties, the evolution can be felt in very professional and well organized events in the whole country where we can clearly see 2 blocks: mainstream and underground.

Mainstream parties have reduced quite a lot their activities. Parties such as XXXperience, Tribe and Kabalah, have no longer dates scheduled for the whole year all around the country due to authorities demands on what concerns drugs policy. There is still some movement, but nothing compared to 2 or 3 years ago. The massive psytrance boom is gone.

4iDeas has also stopped making parties in 2010 and should be back with their own festival 2011. Now only its artist management 4AM continue working, sharing space with Wild Artists, Carambola and Water Republic.

On the other hand, serious underground parties have dancefloors

pic by Murlilo Ganesh

on fire in the main psycho poles like Sao Paulo, Belo Horizonte and Salvador feeling ears and souls with the best of dark psychedelic, full on and progressive trance. But psytrance can be listened in absolutely every part of the country.

Parties like Mystic Tribe, Respect, Earthdance, Goa Gil (Sao Paulo), Ecologic (Vitoria), Samadhi Parvati and Calangute (BH), and Soononmoon(Bahia) productions give psychedelic spirit new breath party after party, not to mention all other crews working to keep it alive and kicking. The dance can never stop!

TIPS

Brazilians love to use the internet. Basically, you can find everything you need just by "googling" it, joining Orkut communities or signing up to web based forums

Once in São Paulo, look for Oca Hostel, Rua: Manoel de Paiva, 147 - Vila Mariana. It's a hostel built by and for psychedelic trance lovers. There you might find some DJs and producers as well, beware ;)

Traveling long distances by car or bus may turn out into adventures, due to bad road conditions. Cheap flight prices aren't hard to find.

There are many things to see and do, that are impossible to explain in one page. Come to Brazil and see for yourself!

Dictating patterns, Vagalume Records keeps psychedelic, releasing many digital EPs with The First Stone, Burn in Noise, Logica, Circuit Breakers and now debuting new live act Labirinto, by Pedrao aka The Twenty-eight. Also Rica Amaral live act Men 2 Deep starts blowing the dance-floors around.

Many acts raise from anonymous to well known artists: Necropsycho, Magma Ohm, Demonizz and Cannibal Barbecue are the spot on night music, also represented by the 1 year old label Antimateria Recordings, that released 2 VAs in 2009.

On the progressive side, Analog Drink, Abstract Sunrise, Jumpers, Strange Doctors, Erotic Dream and Minimal Criminal are some of the producers spreading their talent to release tracks in international serious labels such as Iono, Plusquam, Cosmic Conspiracy and Planet Ben.

Club scene is very strong in low bpm music if you are into it. Not many clubs solely playing psytrance.

Although Universo Paralello is not happening from 10/11, the psychedelic people won't be orphaned. 303Art Festival is coming to spread art and good music into a more familiar new year's gathering.

So if you want an enjoyable party, with beautiful people in amazing places, get yourself packed and come for a season in Brazil!

Check www.zuvuya.net for updates about parties and travelling and get your feet on the road. We are waiting for you...

India

Daylight dancing...

Only three letters are still sufficient to create a large repertoire of associations: Goa. The West Indian state with its palm lined beaches used to be a paradise for dropouts since many decades and is regarded to be the origin of our scene. Looking at India in general and Goa in particular today, the scene is pumping as ever. Locations like Anjuna Beach, the Wednesday Flea Market or the Saturday Night Market will be familiar names even for the oldest veterans and they are worth a visit today just like 20 years back. And also classic party spots like the Hilltop, 9-Bar, Curlies or Shiva Valley are still on and always a place worth visit for those hungry for some proper Psy Trance music.

What might be a surprise for the one or the other traveller is the fact that at the moment outdoor parties in Goa are daylight parties due to the current legal situation. You will rarely find any event running longer than 10:30 PM. But what could be better than dancing half naked under the warm sun? Go for Curlies and Shiva Valley, there is some party going on quite every day. Club Westend is currently the only place where music is played for 23 hours but also here the outdoor action last only to 11 o'clock – then the party will move indoors. All events will continue open air from the early morning hours. Also in Morjim and Arambol you will find 24-hour events occasionally, here the Russian scene is represented very strong. During the Xmas holidays there will be lots of party in all places, actually impossible to miss it. And then Sunburn Festival will take place from 27th – 29th December in Candolim. Actually this event used to be a rather commercial one but this year there will also be a Psy Trance stage presenting Protoculture, Xerox and Illumination and GMS. For NYE all parties are allowed to run also during the night and of course there are lots of dance floors to look out for. In Bangalore there will be a great party with two stages presenting Psy Trance and Progressive Trance / Techno, for instance. The Russian New Year Party will take place only in January. From December to February you will find some nice music in a cosy place between Goa and Bangalore quite every day. Don't miss visiting Silent Noise in Palolem, India's only headphone club. Barley any Psy Trance will be played but good Techno, Break Beat and House and it is a one of a kind experience. Also don't miss to visit Ohm beach, Paradise beach, Kudle beach and Gokarna! Avoid carrying around anything illegal and be very carefully with strangers offering you something illegal. And respect the local culture and traditions. Avoid being too loud in certain places and don't make jokes about certain things. Indians are very friendly and hospitable. But once seriously offended, especially regarding their tradition they can get really nasty.

Australia

a vibrant scene down under

If you are looking to fluff your feathers and fly south for the winter, Australia is a beautiful country known for its much warmer and drier climate. A surprisingly large diversity in culture exists between the highly populated areas, owing to the large distances between them. There is one thing that is consistent wherever you are though, and that is the true Aussie spirit!

Australia is known for its enthusiastic vibrant scene with extensively differing experiences between cities up and down the coasts. With such open appreciation for music in any form, most festivals provide several music styles that usually accommodate everyone's likings. Be sure though that you check the weather conditions wherever you go, so that you can be prepared! Extreme heat changing to heavy rain is not uncommon!

Without doubt if you are not in costume, you will be one of the odd ones out! The Aussies will go all out to find the wackiest and craziest, most unique things to wear. They seemingly have no boundaries when it comes to sacrificing dignity in the name of a good laugh.

Massage and meditation tents are common along with other spiritual healing related setups and you may also find some fun and interactive tents. Artwork and deco is expressed and encouraged and most certainly at the larger events an opening ceremony usually with strong spiritual significance and recognition of sacred ground is performed.

Larger events include Rainbow Serpent, Tribeadelic, Maitreya, Maya Festival and Somatica. Heading up the east coast you will find Subsonic Music festival between Newcastle and Sydney, Brisbane is the home of Earth Freq, Cairns hosts the Winter Solstice Festival and Earthdance events are celebrated throughout the whole country.

Australia really is one of the places you absolutely must see and experience to believe! A wonderfully welcoming community of psychedelic trance lovers, who embrace the friendly, caring and sharing attitude that the psytrance scene is proud to be known for.

Trust, respect, music and dance!

Maitreya becomes MUD-treya

In Victoria Australia, Maitreya March 2010 was hit by some of their worst storms in over 20 years! Several hundred km's north of Melbourne past Shepparton it flooded severely! But that only stopped the party a few hours when they couldn't keep the DJ equipment dry! Despite this, fun and mischief was still seen all around! Good attitude, looking after your neighbour, and some true caring Aussie spirit made this festival unbelievable!

Maitreya 2011 will hopefully be a little drier! 11-14 March, Pyranees Ranges - Australia

Archipelago Festival

16-20th February 2011 • Panama

The Space Family Of Universe Visionaries wants to bring together: those who are longing to know and desiring to show their eternal respect for our Mother Earth and our Father Sky through dance, music, art and eternal love. Could there be a better place for this project than a paradise island? Archipelago Festival will be held on one of the most beautiful Panama islands of Contadora, Las Perlas Archipelago, which has been renowned throughout history for serving as home base of famous Caribbean pirates, and the bravest discoverers of the seas.

Love and freedom, spirituality and creativity will come together in harmony as one, to give birth to the sacred atmosphere. To become aware that it is possible to live in harmony with nature and the world that surrounds us, to activate and resonate with our innate creative and spiritual abilities. To see and feel the love in everything, similar to our ancient ancestors, who could understand and connect to the mystical levels of our existence: by the virtue of being in harmony with themselves and the world. For this purpose a place with numerous art-installations, an exposition centre, a healing area, a kindergarten, ethnic and esoteric shops, cafes and restaurants will be created in the territory of the festival. The festival's concept will also be implemented in the Main Floor and in the Chill Out on the basis of Visionary, Spiritual, Magic and Tribal Art. In this respect, the work of Carey Thomspson (USA) will surely be a highlight. The gathering will be held during the full moon that will rise on 17th February. For this night, a special programme has been prepared, which will support the feeling and the understanding of the multi-faceted mystical nature of our planet and cosmos, with all human senses. Of course also the musical programme has been compiled according to the visionary approach of the festival, including deeply psychedelic acoustical journeys to the vast inner spaces: Psykovsky (Russia), Sensitive (Australia), Floating Grooves (Scotland), Dymons (England), Blue Lunar Monkey (Mexico) and Onionbrain (Brazil) are just some examples. With lots of love and heart invested in this event, the organizers strive for a mutual experience that is comfortable for everyone and of superior quality in every respect. Archipelago Art and Dance Festival 2011 is planned to become a gathering of 1500 people, including organizers, artists, volunteers and attendees. Therefore the number of tickets to be sold has been limited to 1200 individual tickets. Creative or spiritual personalities are encouraged to contact the organizers to bring in their energy into the festival.

Transahara Festival

22.-26.04.2011 • Merzouga • Morocco

It was 1997 when the idea of a festival first came up during a marvelous sunset in the middle of the Sahara desert.

It was more of a dream then, something that was impossible to become true one day - for one simple reason - Who would come all the way out to the middle of nowhere? But then we discovered an amazing site where the breathtaking beauty of the sand of the Sahara, changed our minds. We knew that the energy coming from the Earth would make help a very special Trance gathering and well worth the Travel.

»The landscape gives the impression that we are in an isolated Trance tribe living in a no-mans-land floating in space; An atmosphere reminiscent of Mad Max!« The first Transahara festival was held in 2002. In an economic respect it did not work out too well but nevertheless promoter Abdou was positive about his vision. A few years later he teamed up with Seven Isprime who is responsible for a camp at Burning Man and this time the festival became a simply stunning experience for everybody who participated. Since then, Transahara has grown bigger from year to year. The upcoming 2011 edition represents another quantum leap: The musical program is versatile like never before and so is the sophisticated visual concept. The festival size is limited to 1000 people, including staff and artists, to keep a familiar family-like vibe. Though Transahara is situated in the middle of the desert, it does not become too hot or too cold at that time of the year. Additionally, special attention has been paid to comfort: Around the dance floor there will be cosy tents with cushions, carpets and little tables. They offer an opportunity for lounging in the shade, having a drink, and enjoy the music. Easy arrival is possible via bus and jeep transfer from Marrakech airport (travelagent@nomad-tribe.com). Make the most of Morocco as an exciting travel destination by extending your stay beyond this very special festival experience.

Don't forget tickets reserve before Dec 31st and get a special price.

Adventure Morocco

Arabian nights and desert trips

The meditative beauty of the desert, rock climbing in surreal landscapes, terrific surf... and last but not least the bazaars with their bewitching sweet and spicy fragrances: A trip to Morocco promises an intense Arabian Nights adventure. But how to explore all these fantastic possibilities if one does not have an appropriate vehicle and all the equipment for a real off-road adventure? Well, exactly at this point the offer of Adventure Morocco comes into play. It enables you to arrive only with your hand luggage- but nevertheless to make experiences far beyond the limits of mass tourism.

Erik has been touring Morocco for many months with his 4WD caravan. In this way he discovered some of the most beautiful and adventurous places of the country. Together with his partner, a native Moroccan, he wants to share his experience, his knowledge about the country and its people, his connections and last but not least his proper adventure equipment with you. So you can go for an individualized trip and make close contact to the local culture just as you want. The journey with the two likeable freaky guys includes food, non-alcoholic drinks and even the usage of all kinds of equipment which makes life more comfortable under difficult conditions. Also if you come with your vehicle but don't have the proper equipment and / or knowledge for an extraordinary adventure, Erik might be a very valuable contact for you.

Intact Xpanda

26.02.2011 • Hühnerposten • Hamburg

Even after 6 years Intact Xpanda is not a fixed routine. Of course a lot of experience has been gained during this period of time, but then again every party is like the first one. For one reason: Each time this promoter wants to present his guests an entirely new and unique experience. Which is why special attention is paid to a coherent overall composition of music, decoration and ambience.

For the upcoming edition in February a literally spacey decoration was chosen: Really huge fluorescent paintings will present fantastic panoramas on alien worlds. The entire venue will be decorated in this style, inflatable objects and an ingenious lighting concept will round up the outer space experience. Khainz and Freakulizer from Switzerland deliver superb Nu School Progressive and energetic Psy Trance sound and Time In Motion will give a musical foretaste on their new album. Hamburg local Neelix, will play his only gig in the hanseatic metropolis this winter, and finally the also Symphonix guys and the rest of the exciting line-up will make this event a highlight of the indoor season.

Time Of Goacore

12.02.2011 • Edelfettwerk • Hamburg

Throughout the night at Goacore: 200 CDs and 100 Jaegermeister for the first visitors and a huge range of music from Chill, Progressive and Dark!

This party is set to rock Hamburg, so make sure your there with your dancing shoes on and your attitude set to party! An awesome evening with emphasis based purely on fun, this is an event not to be missed!

Als etwas größer ausgelegte Geburtstagsparty ist das Motto der Goacore der Spaß an der Sache, wie beim Blick auf den liebevoll gestalten Flyer schnell klar wird. Damit auch wirklicher jeder auf seine Kosten kommt, wird auf der Veranstaltung von Chill über Progressive bis hin zu Full On und Dark alles geboten- dank der großzügigen Räumlichkeiten des Hamburger Edelfettwerks gibt es hierfür genügend Platz. Frühes Erscheinen lohnt sich nicht nur, weil die ersten 200 Gäste eine CD erhalten und die ersten 100 zudem einen Jägermeister, sondern auch weil es auf den 3 Floors direkt amtlich zur Sache geht, wofür beispielsweise U-Recken, Anneli, Bass-T & Daniel Vernunft sowie -Z-, das Projekt von Alpha und Antagon, die Elecdruids und Bim verpflichtet wurden. Außerdem wird ein besonders Augen- bzw. Ohrenmerk auf dem Chill Out liegen. Ein moderater Eintrittspreis soll für ungetrübten Spaß an diesem Abend sorgen.

Das Heilpflanzenverbot – nur ein Hoax ?

Unter der unheilverkündenden Überschrift „EU-weites Heilpflanzenverbot“ machten in letzter Zeit Meldungen im Internet die Runde, welche zur Unterzeichnung einer entsprechenden Onlinepetition dagegen aufriefen. Der via Facebook, MySpace & Co eifrig weiter geleitete Link wurde nicht selten mit hitzigen Schlagworten wie „unerhörte Profitgier der Pharmedia“, „Illegalisierung der Natur“ oder „chemische Bomben statt sanfter Naturheilmittel“ kommentiert. Tatsächlich beteiligten sich in Deutschland denn auch ca. 122.000 Personen. Wirft man jedoch einen Blick in die so harsch angeprangerte Richtlinie, so entsteht der Eindruck, dass der für die Petition verwendete Einleitungstext doch weit am eigentlichen Thema vorbei geht. Spätestens nachdem sich die Arzneimittelkommission der deutschen Heilpraktiker offiziell distanzierte, sollte man doch kritisch werden.

Die EU-Richtlinie 2004/24/EG, auf welche sich die Petition bezog, ist in Deutschland bereits seit 2005 geltendes Recht. Folglich ändert sich hierzulande praktisch nichts. Kamillentee, Pfefferminze und Salbei sind nach wie vor frei verkäuflich und Kräutersammler begehen kein Verbrechen. Die Richtlinie bezieht sich auf Fertigarzneimittel auf pflanzlicher Basis, also industriell gefertigte, abgepackte Präparate und die Bedingungen für deren Zulassung. Einer solchen Zulassung bedarf ein Produkt, wenn es explizit zur Behebung von Krankheitszuständen beworben wird, z.B. „gegen Husten“. Es müssen dann ausführliche Test und Wirkungsnachweise vorgelegt werden. Und das ist auch gut so, denn was ohne diese Kontrolle geschieht, lässt sich auf drastische Weise am Contergan Skandal illustrieren... Was sich mit dem Inkrafttreten der EU-Richtlinie in Deutschland ändert, ist dass die Arzneimittel-Lizenzen für einige Produkte auslaufen, die bisher nicht den vollständigen Prüfungsprozess durchlaufen mussten. In der Tat wurde dieser in manchen Punkten verschärft, so muss künftig z.B. nachgewiesen werden, dass das Produkt keine schädlichen Auswirkungen auf das Erbgut hat. Denn auch wenn die scheinbar perfekte Harmonie unserer Natur manchmal darüber hinweg täuscht: Auch hier gibt es krasse Gifte und Stoffe mit erheblichen Nebenwirkungen. Die Neuzulassung als Medikament kostet allerdings oft 6-stellige Summen. Dies könnte in der Tat zum Problem für kleinere Arzneimittelunternehmen werden, welche diese Kosten nicht tragen können. Andererseits beinhaltet die Richtlinie Elemente, welche die Zulassung von Pflanzenprodukten als Arzneimittel erheblich vereinfacht, dies gilt z.B. für homöopathische Mittel oder solche, welche nachweislich eine lange Tradition aufweisen. Doch dies alles sind nicht wirklich Neuerungen, zumindest nicht in Deutschland. Ephedrakraut verschwand schon vor einigen Jahren aus den Headshops, weil es als Arzneimittel deklariert wurde. Wo es tatsächlich zu deutlichen Veränderungen kommen könnte, ist das EU-Ausland, denn dort gelten teilweise noch andere Regelungen für Arzneimittel.

The healing plant prohibition – only a hoax ?

An „EU-wide prohibition of traditional medicinal plants“ makes the headlines in the internet since a few months. Together with this doom-laden news it is called for an online petition against the new law. The according link is spread via Facebook, MySpace & Co and often it is commented with heated keywords like “outrageous greed for profit of the pharmaceutical lobby”, “illegalization of nature” or “chemical bombs instead of gentle medicinal plants”. But having a look at the denounced guideline gives a much less dramatic impression: In fact quite all of its points are part of the established law in Germany since already 2005, for instance. And here camomile tea, peppermint or sage is freely available in every market and herb pickers are absolutely no criminals by law. Over there in Germany, even the committee of the natural health professionals dissociated itself from the petition, which should present enough reason for a critical reflection.

The EU guideline 2004/24/EG refers to finished drugs, that means to plant-based drugs which have been produced industrially and which are distributed as packed items. It will be necessary to have a registration for these products if they are sold explicitly for the purpose of curing a particular disease, e.g. “curing cold”. In the course of this registration process, extensive scientific tests and proofs of effectiveness have to be presented. And this is quite a good idea because without these control layers, terrible things like the Thalidomide scandal might occur, that sedative which caused birth defects due to insufficient tests. Even if the seemingly perfect harmony of nature obscures this fact very often: A lot of highly poisonous plants can be found also here and others have dramatic side-effects on human beings. The new guideline includes tests which prove that the regarding drug does not have any negative effect on the genotype, for instance. But indeed the new law might also present some problems: Since the registration process usually costs a six-figure amount of money, small companies who can not afford these high expenses might get into substantial difficulties. On the other hand, the new guideline includes special arrangements for the registration of homeopathic products and traditional medicinal plants. In these cases, not the entire testing procedure has to be completed. Thus the costs for the registration of these products are significantly lower. To summarize it: The new EU guideline does not mean a banning of all herbal products from markets and grocery stores. Referring to Germany again, where the guideline is already established law, many herbs and plants (with healthy effects) will be freely available also in the future. Looking at the actual text of the guideline, it has to be discussed critically in what way it really “removes access to the vast majority of herbal medicinal products” and “abridges the rights of each European citizen to self-determination in managing health” as claimed in the petition.
