On the road again

Useful equipment, gimmicks and knowledge for the modern Trance nomad

Travelling is at least as characteristic for Psy Trance as fluorescent paintings and hypnotic electronic music. In fact there are few if any other scenes where people frequently travel thousands of miles just to meet their international fellows for an open air. Now, during summer, many Trance freaks live a real nomadic lifestyle, hopping from one festival acre to the next. And quite a few have already plans for a winter trip to Asia, for instance. "Life is a book and those who do not travel read only one page", as the saying goes! But it's not always easy reading... In this unusual lead article we want to share with you some ideas, inspirations and tips how to arrange your modern nomadic adventures as convenient as possible.

The Classic

For the classic Indian teepee or its North-European equivalent, the Sami kata, a simple cone-shaped frame of wooden poles was covered with animal hides, with an opening at the top to let out smoke. Swedish manufacturer Tentipi combines the idea of these popular tents with up-to-date technological standards. In this way, the luxuries of space and standing height are guaranteed and there is the unique possibility to have a stove or even an open fire in the middle of the tent. While ancient teepees required a lot of work to be set up and were very heavy, many of the new versions can be set up within few minutes and weight only few kilos while still providing space for many persons.

The Easy One

It was around 2005 when strange, saucer-shaped objects flew over more and more festivals. But they could only be watched for 2 seconds- before they transformed into tents. Outdoor manufacturer Quechua is the brand that became famous for its pop-up tent system, providing tents that come in one piece and build up themselves in no time. Since then the technology has been developed further and 2011 witnesses a new version of the popular instant-tent. The "2Seconds Easy" comes with a comfortable and safe 2-wall construction and is not only super easy to build-up but also super easy to be folded again. In fact, one only needs to pull a cord- that's it! And... it's even available in quite the psychedelic variety of colours...

The Lightweight

If you are travelling only with your backpack, using public transport and want to keep the stuff you have to carry around as minimal as possible but without missing a warm and dry place to stay at, this might be your tent of choice:

Weighing only a little more than two packages of milk, fitting into a backpack, set up within no time and always try and cosy thanks to a 2-wall-construction.

An excellent solution for the soloist or two who like each other, exploring territories where it may be raining or cold.

How to push-start a car

Too much campsite rave?

Car battery dead? No worries- getting your car push-started is really easy! At least if it runs on petrol. This method will work with a diesel as well, but you will have to try harder. Please never push-start an automatic car!

- 1) Find some persons for pushing
- 2) Get behind the wheel and turn the key to ignition mode
- 3) Engage second gear but keep the clutch pushed down
- 4) Start shouting: "Push, push, push!"
- 5) Once the car gained some speed, slowly release the clutch
- 6) There should be a strong jerk
- 7) Push down the clutch again while carefully&slowly stepping on the gas at the same time
- 8) If its not working immediately, return to 4)
- 9) If its still not working, give the car a short rest and try again
- 10) Keep motor running and keep switched off radio, air con etc. for an hour.

The Futurist

Mobile communication company Orange presents a design study for the tent of the future.

Powered by flexible, fabric-like solar panels, this tent starts glowing in a distinctive way when triggered via mobile phone at night- a great help to identify your tent from a distance and a great way to make the other campers believe in another, secret dance floor...

Unbelievably incorporated into this technologically advanced camping accessory, is a self set-up Wifi internet connection point, brilliant!

The Guerrilla

This rudimentary but efficient way of camping was already recommended by Che Guevara, one of the protagonists of the socialist guerrilla revolution on Cuba. All it needs is a hammock, a mosquito net, a small plastic tarp and some ropes. Put up the hammock between two trees and another rope one metre above it, which you can use for the net to keep away insects and a tarp to keep you dry from rain. Unfortunately, at most festivals in Europe there are few if any trees around in the camping area - be sure to check the location or ask friends who have already been there when possible before heading down there.

The Discounter

Don't worry if your budget is limited! All the big European discounters, like Aldi or Lidl for instance, offer camping equipment at least once a summer season. Usually there will be tents for 20 Euro or even less and their quality is really acceptable.

Gadgets

MusucBag

You really love the cosy warmth of your sleeping bag during the nights? Well, take it with you then! The Musuc-Bag transforms all the benefits of a sleeping bag into a sleeping suit. In this way you can easily go for another round and crash in a comfortable and well-tempered way wherever you want.

SofaBox

Out of the box chill out and lounging, that is the basic idea of the SofaBox. Put into a both solid and good looking flight-case, this piece of furniture offers an original possibility to hang around outdoors in a very decent way.

Etón Scorpion

Nominated for the smartest festival gear in the category electronics: The Etón Scorpion. This fascinating piece of technology provides you with light, electric energy, weather information, music and even a bottle opener. The Scorpion can be charged via its solar panel, its dynamo hand-crank or via DC adapter. The energy generated in these ways can be used for the integrated flashlight, the cell phone charger via USB or the radio receiver which is also specialized on weather information bands and finally you can even connect your iPod and use it as a speaker! The scorpion is splash proofed and a very robust fellow.

How to chill drinks

Hot festivals with the sun burning down are great. Cold drinks are great too. The combination of the two of them is perfect- but can become rare... still, there are some easy tricks!

The pit method

Ok, this is really well-known. Dig a hole, preferably even in the shade, and bury your drinks at sunrise. Yes, exactly at the moment of sunrise. No mystical reason, only this is the coldest moment of the day. Your underground drinks will keep their temperature longer.

The trucker method

Truck drivers wrap wet towels around their drinks and hang them on their rear mirrors in linen bags. The cooling effect is caused by the heat of vaporization, a physical phenomena you can take advantage of as well, if it is windy at your festival. Just warp a wet piece of cloth around the 40 degree Jaegermeister bottle from your car and put it in the wind for half an hour. It won't be a huge effect but still a noticeable one!

Travelling

Couch Surfing

The idea of Couch Surfing is pretty simple: Participate in creating a better world, one couch at a time. You offer your couch or guest bed to travellers via a website. Or, when travelling yourself, you have the possibility to look for a couch to crash for one night or even more.

There are no special obligations, you don't have to offer a couch yourself to ask for one. In fact Couch Surfing is more than a cheap way to travel. It offers the possibility to make acquaintance with people world wide and to get an impression of their everyday life. Often even friendships evolve from this way of travelling. Still caution is advised: Be aware that there might be thefts around. Also, it's a good idea to have a short phone call with the host / the guest to get a personal impression. The gut feeling will tell you if this constellation might work out or not.

Taxi!

Calling 22 456 from a mobile in Germany will connect you with the nearest taxi central - no matter where you are! It costs 0,69 Euro per minute but might be really worth it in certain situations.

Aus deutschen Mobilfunknetzen erreicht man unter der 22 456 die nächstgelegene Taxizentrale - egal wo man gerade ist! Das kostet zwar 0,69 Euro die Minute, ist aber ziemlich praktisch.

Adam

Thai based producer and part of the famed Half Moon parties Tripical, has just dropped a wonderful EP on All Records. The „Retreat“ Ep features two great tracks both groovy as a Koh Phangan sunset and spicy as a good Tom Yum. Tripical has found a nice balance between Psy with a Prog feel. Quality production with a sound to listen out for.

Vagalume Records really is headed by of some of my favorite people on the planet and they do Brazil proud with their great vibes.

Swarup's Brain (one of the head honchos at the amazing Universo Paralello and one of Brazil's original Psy DJ's) has just dropped a 5 track EP ON Vagalume which includes three originals, a remix from Brazilian master groover Burn in Noise and a collaboration with stompy electro-edged Logica (Swarups own sons) makes for a very strong release, that should be in your bag or hard-drive.

Spun Records jumps back on the block with a compilation from Brian Sentient. Featuring a few of the classic Spun acts and a good helping of some of the hottest acts of the moment. GMS vs

Absolum, Sonic Species, Chromatone, Tristan, Earthling vs Mad Max, Broken Toy, Headroom, Poli vs Brian Sentient, and a GMS remix of GMS vs Astrix all weigh in with some big blasting tunes, are sure to rock us crazy for the weeks to come! Nice to see Spun doing the business once more, and we can expect much more blasting creations from them in the future once again.

Hommega have started pushing hard on the digital frontier with monthly podcasts coming from Astrix, and EPs lining up.

Domestic and Sub 6 both have EPs out.

Domestic showing once again why he is so respected amongst the producer fraternity & loved by the dancefloor, while

Sub 6 show off some mammoth glistening tunes, that definitely have an air of showmanship to them. Sub 6's „Aint No Disco“ Ep features collabs with GMS, Animalis and a remix together with Freedom Fighter of Italian prog star Liquid Soul.

„The Earthlings Ep“ from Free Spirit Records features tracks from Solar Spectrum and Omsphere (and has nothing to do with „Earthling/Celli“ the artist). Jay Om at Free Spirit has been pioneering his sound and that of his artists for a good while, and steadily their sound has been gaining more defined character & support. Good vibes always carry through and these guys, are bursting with them!

...Have I mentioned Antu yet? This label really is coming up with some interesting stuff, which has definitely been needed with so much copy-cat production & lame miss-fired attempts at hit-making coming from many corners of Psy. They have a new Ep out „Love is All“, which I have not checked out yet, so maybe let me know your thoughts about it, (or anything else for that matter). Keep it up Antu!

Having gained recognition & a major fan base by playing at some of South Africa's best and most loved trance parties in the past few years, Static Flow has just released his first EP on Nano Records „Subconscious Safari“. It has been amazing to see it sky rocket to the top of the digi-charts, no mean feat for such a new name to the roster. Looking forward to some wonderful beats from this guy, as he strengthens his already excellent production and songwriting skills.

Please email me links to new releases, press releases and general Psy Trance news to report about, and doesn't need to be just released based either. See you in UK and Europe this summer :)

Ace Ventura & Rocky

Israeli surfer wonder-boy Rocky is finally ready with his second album. The album is called "Keyboard Wipeout" and is filled with 9 brand new tracks including a collaboration with Ace Ventura, and one with rising stars Sphera. He has also made a pumping remix of the classic track "Other Side" by Son Kite.

Tomasz Balicki or Atmos as we know him, has some new bombs coming out before the summer. "Only 4 you" is included on a double CD compilation by Ace Ventura for Iboga Trance whilst the more deep "Where do I belong" will be featured on Emoks compilation for Iboga and finally the track "Breather" from his more groovy alter ego Dominic Thomas will be out on Echoes Records.

Continuing on the Swedish wave here I would like to mention that act Solid Snake just released their second full length album Factories & Green Fields on Tribal Vision records. The act consists of Omar Chelly and Anders Rosengren from Malmoe, Sweden. If you recognize Omars name you may know he was until recently one half of the legendary Swedish project Tegma, one of the leading acts on the Scandinavian progressive trance scene.

All you guys that has been in the progressive scene for quite some years (or

I feel very old) might not have forgotten the classic track Schaukelstuhl by Shiva Chandra. The track has now been remixed in to 3 brand new remixes. One by Shiva Chandra himself, the second by Shiva Chandra & Dj Magical the last one by groovy techno duo Fusi & Johnson. The whole package will be released on Spintwist records.

I have mentioned it briefly in an earlier issue of Mushroom, but now its finally here. The swashbuckling, grogdrinking scurvey pirates Ace Ventura and Captain Hook is now out with the release "The Jolly Roger" on Plusquam Records. It comes with 3 remixes from none other than NOK, Rocky and Zen Mechanics and is available in digital format and on top of all a physical CD release with a nice booklet. Yaaargh me hearties!

Captain Hook

The label that gave us albums from Bigwigs and Kino Oko; Horns & Hoofs are presenting two brand new EPs. First up is Max Pollyul with Mosquito EP followed by a new release from veterans Fuzzion called ZZ Pop EP Horns & Hoofs is run by Alex „Boshke” Tolstey and Alic. Most of the artwork for the releases is made by Inga Burina, who really makes minblowing work.

Danish artist Phaxe just came out with a groovy EP on northern german label Blue Tunes which includes a remix hed id of Swedish upcoming artist Vice. Besides this he has at least 2 upcoming releases on Iboga which includes the track "Merlin" (co-written together with Behind Blue Eyes) which is featured on a brand new compilation by Emok and a new EP called "Train Boogie".

And last but not least, a bit of selfpromotion. Since last year I have been working on a brand new compilation for my new homelabel Echoes Records. It contains 9 brand new tracks from some of the most talented artists out there such as Karl Johan, Human Element, Dominic Thomas, Fresh, Paulina Cewe, Sleek and yours truly i e Bakke. The whole bonanza will be out digital only at the end of june this summer.

If you know any new awesome act or release coming up that definatly needs to be heard of, please write me at: progressive@mushroom-magazine.com

Pearls & Pixies Trilogy

Parvati Records fulfills the strict release schedule kept for years with the third part of the Pearls & Pixies series, making it to a Trilogy – completed in cooperation with Japanese label Phreex Network. Giuseppe and Ken were responsible for the five tracks of each label rooster that will spangle the line up on the upcoming compilation, with names on it not released before on both. Claw from Cyprus as well as Xabbu from Germany can be found on it. They were no newcomers, however never yet had found place on Parvati or Phreex before. Nolm or Quip Tone Beatz, two participations from the Phreex Network rooster also placed tracks for the first time in the list. Release date will be the Cosmo Festival in UK, where it can be purchased for the first time worldwide before you can order on the labels webpages.

Forest and Pain Tales

Chronicle of Mystery Records is proud to present the second compilation inspired by the freaks of the forest psychedelic history. Labelheads Hana Cheljo (Nirmanakayas) and Darko Petreski (Schoiroideairs) from Macedonia, whose goals are to present the insane creative minds, that are not highly accepted by the global audience, but who are recognizable with their deep psychedelic forest sound – that's what it is about, the music! The first compilation "The Pain of the Forgotten Forest", from last year was divining what to expect and so is the recent output called "The Oldest Story", promising a very well put together ride. Very well known artists like Battle of the Future Buddhas, Ka-sol, Bloomen, Makadam or the Trashlords are long time playing in the circuit and placed inbetween a few newcomers, spinning this old tale together. Something to thrill!

Drury Nevil's comeback

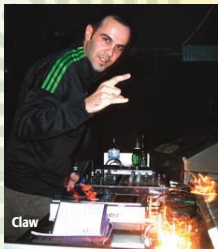

After a long break of making music for personal reasons, the world of psychedelic music luckily has him back. Denis, born close to the ancient Greek Temple of Apollo, the god of music and beauty, (his inspiration drawn from the artist known as Drury Nevil for the darker part, as well as Safi Dafi for lighter stuff), found his way back to create more psychedelic treasures. He will be releasing tracks with both projects again as well as appearing on the one or another festivals. This is proper news and welcome back old friend!

New Label from Pune – India

Vantara Vichitra is founded by Cacophonix and Alien Trancesistor from Pune / India and the just released CD "Schismatic Transposition" is their debut compilation. Some of the leading artists for the real psychedelics to be found on it as Captain Kirk, Fuzulu, Kerlavin or Full Face and making this release worth getting your hands on. Not getting tired, these two guys have already the next installment scheduled for end of this year. Seems to be great new base for psychedelic underground music!

Mind Expansion Rec. – Enichkin Album

The fourth in succession album by Sergey Nazarenko also known as Enichkin, sound engineer from Russia, is called "Krakozziabry". „Krakozziabry is often caused when layered intelligence forming energy is moved to a system with a different default encoding. Different encoding is a fundamental trick, which is used to confuse the fact that we are ONE." This album provides a very specific complex patterns of tribal elements and cutting edge sound design. A nice journey brought by Mind Expansion Records.

Liquid Stranger

Bluetech just released a new surprise album named Rainforest Reverberation. 100% of the proceeds from all music sales go to end deforestation, species loss, and cultural upheaval in the Amazon. The album will be released digitally only. By purchasing the album you are engaging in one of the most effective ways to combat global warming and support social justice for indigenous caretakers of these lands, as well as entering into a 70 minute continuous audio journey; Evan writes. Furthermore, your contribution marks the beginning of a journey, which will eventually result in a historic, multi-cultural collaboration, involving Bluetech and indigenous Amazonian musicians from a network of small villages in Ecuador. You can purchase the album here: <http://criticalbeats.bandcamp.com> visit www.amazonvoice.org to learn more about where the Rainforest Reverberation contributions are utilised.

Another surprise release that pretty much went under the radar is the new Entheogenic album- Gaia Sophia. It was released last month via the band bandcamp page (<http://entheogenic-usr.bandcamp.com>). It contains 5 tracks including the opening 27.5 minutes long opener, "Love Letters to the Soul". The duo has split ways and Entheogenic is just Piers Oak-Rhind these days. The music on this one seems to be more on part with the direction they took in their first two albums.

A new album for Master Margherita released on Italian based label Blue Hour Sounds. With The Marginal Rules, Moreno continues his work starting with his last album on Peak Records, "Hippies with Gadgets", creating evanescent atmospheres that carry us on a musical journey around the world. The album features a fluid collaboration with musicians from all over the world and Blue Hour Sounds promise that soul music is the source behind the ingenious mixture of the elements: percussion, guitars, birds, violins & the chords of the bass guitar.

Liquid Stranger released a new album- The Arcane Terrain on May 31st in Interchill Records. Interchill promise that The Arcane Terrain obliterates the boundaries separating dubstep, grime, dub, breaks, hip hop and outernational crunkadelica. The album picks up the thread from Stranger's recent releases on Interchill - The Intergalactic Slapstick and The Steel Trap EP - and continues down the meandering path of bass laden revelry. The album will be followed by a second Liquid Stranger release in September, "The Renegade Crusade", that aims at DJ's and lovers of bass music with stripped down mixes, instrumentals and significantly more dirt and grime than this one. Liquid Stranger embarks on the Renegade Crusade Tour this summer in support of the new albums.

Altar Records continue to supply us with deep chilled music from Russia, with a debut album from TaFF- Moon Princess. TaFF is Sergey Bondarenko, who is known for accompanying Chronos live on stage with his skilled flute-work on a variety of different types of flute. Together Chronos, TaFF have released a mini-CD titled "When the Day Turns to Night", which was released in the summer of 2010 on Altar Records.

Moon Princess is based on an ancient Chinese tale that has been crafted into a musical story with care and patience. This album has been three years in the making and Altar promise a a superb organic chill-out album with a great character.

System 7

Providing the conscious link between the Techno and House explosion of the late 80s and it's European psychedelic rock antecedents of the 70s, System 7 had a strong influence on the birth of psychedelic Electronic Dance Music and it's evolution up till today. Being founded in 1989, the project began as a collective of visionary musicians, also featuring The Orb's Alex Paterson and Youth. Working consistently progressive, carefully trying and testing new influences and technologies, System 7's central producers -guitarist Steve Hillage and keyboardist Miquette Giraudy- have forged a unique and up-to-date identity on the Dance Music genre map, in a space where Techno, Progressive and Trance meet- with a healthy side-element of Ambient.

Two main characteristics in the sound of System 7 are complex sound synthesis experiments and a highly specialized techno guitar. The work of the project has always been influenced by collaborations with other musicians, including Techno luminaries like Derrick May, Carl Craig, Laurent Garnier and Richie Hawtin, and more recently Progressive Trance figures like Liquid Soul. Considering the age of the project with the first album being released in 1991, it's no big news that the number of their releases is quite extensive: System 7 have sold over 250.000 albums and 60.000 singles in their career.

Now they just released another, brand new album on their own label A-Wave: UP hit the streets on May 30th 2011. Inspired by time spent in Berlin, UP lowers the tempo a bit and tips the balance in a more Techno and Tech House direction. But this one is not just another Nu School production! We had the pleasure to pre-listen to this new work and it clearly bears the very trancey and deep character of System 7. In some way, it is even reminiscent of earlier System 7 classics like the 777 album, but with a banging up-to-date sound. UP features collaborations with Acid House pioneer A Guy Called Gerald, and System 7's own remix of Josh Wink's Dolphin Smack as well as collaborations with Japanese artists Yuji Katsui (electric violin) and Funky Gong Minoru.

HOT RELEASE: System 7 – UP

With their new album UP, the duo have delivered a consistently up-tempo but never one-dimensional set of tracks, layered with the hypnotic sounds, fluid melodicism and Steve Hillage's trademark dreamy guitars. Employing slightly slower funky techno grooves, and pulsating with an ultra modern production, UP showcases the uniquely psychedelic System 7 sound and a welcome feeling of positivity.

NOK

A New Order of Sound

Alexander Dorkian has been around with his Project NOK for many years, playing live at countless parties and releasing numerous tracks. Among them quite some summer hits, like "In Heaven With You" and "Wave Out". Now he finally presents his debut album, New Order. Like a distillation product of Alex' 12-year studio experience, this work represents an innovative fusion of his different styles and musical skills.

On the one hand, New Order includes deep, rolling productions and complex melody compositions. Tracks like Breaking Point or New World Order transform the power and rich atmosphere of Full On into sleek Progressive grooves. On the other hand, there are also crunchy and stomping productions, drawing upon the energy of inspiring rhythms and bouncy bass lines. In this versatile and Progressive manner, the album fits perfectly into the catalogue of Blue Tunes Records. "After working with many labels, I am really happy to work exclusively with these guys now", the man from Hamburg says. "It's very professional but at the same time relaxed and familiar". In June a remix for Ace Ventura and Captain Hook will be released. Beside other projects with Day.Din, Nee-lix, Klopfgesteir, Rocky or Ultravoice, he is currently quite busy with Ritmo from Israel, which works out surprisingly well almost exclusively via internet. During the summer NOK can not only be heard at several festivals around Europe, but also frequently in beautiful Brazil.

Eine neue Ordnung präsentiert Alexander Dorkian auf New Order, dem Debütalbum seines Projekts NOK. Gleich einem Destillat seiner 12-jährigen Erfahrung als Produzent vereint dieses Werk verschiedene Einflüsse und Stimmungen. So finden sich einerseits rollende Bässe und melodiose Arrangements, welche die Kraft von Full On in ele-gantem Progressive transformieren. Daneben sind auch knackige Titel zu hören, die auf stampfenden Grooves aufbauen.

Imago Dei

Painting always seems to immortalize a moment in time and space

Travelling always meant a very important influence for Imago Dei- Travelling both to the outer and the inner world. The Oriental and African cultures had a strong impact on him and so did the philosophies of Carl Young and Joseph Campbell. But his strongest inspirations come from the Native American and Taoist traditional beliefs and practices.

Imago Dei, whose name means "image of god", discovered already at a very young age that painting is a unique way to illustrate connections and processes from the level of the higher self. Developing through many styles, he first focused on surrealism and abstract expressionism. In this phase of his work, the idea of cymatics, the visualisation of sounds and other vibrations, meant an important influence for him. Further travels and studies eventually lead him to the Taoist philosophy and its rich symbolism. Looking at spiritual symbols creates a resonance within psychic archetypes, which will raise the consciousness. In this respect, his Mahayana Buddhist influence can be seen on the cover picture: The DJ is Avalokiteshvara, the Bodhisattva of infinite compassion.

Imago Dei, today living in Grass Valley, California, received a Bachelor of Science in 1987, a Bachelor of Arts in Fine Arts in 1990, and completed the Advanced Studies Program from The Art Institute of Chicago in 1990 as one of the institute's top ten painters. Just recently his varied work could be seen at Health and Harmony Festival in Santa Rosa. Coming up next is an exhibition in San Francisco's P-kok gallery.

Reisen war immer ein sehr wichtiger Einfluss für Imago Dei- Reisen in die äußere und in die innere Welt. Die orientalische und afrikanische Kultur haben ihn geprägt, seine wichtigsten Inspirationen liefern ihm aber die Vorstellungen und Riten der amerikanischen Ureinwohner und des Taoismus.

Malerei besitzt die Eigenschaft, Zusammenhänge und Vorgänge auf einer höheren Ebene des Seins zu symbolisieren, die sich nur schwer mit Worten wiedergeben lassen. Diese Tatsache hat Imago Dei, dessen Name „das Bild Gottes“ bedeutet, schon in früher Kindheit für sich entdeckt. In Kombination mit den spirituellen Symbolen des Buddhismus verstärkt sich dieser Effekt nochmals. Der DJ auf dem Titelblatt ist übrigens Avalokiteshvara, der Bodhisattva des unendlichen Mitgefühls.

Simon Hafele from the West Austrian state of Tyrol is probably one of most up-and-coming decoration artists of our scene. The amazing organic work of the nowadays 26-year old, can be frequently admired at events in Austria and Switzerland but also increasingly at festivals and parties all around Europe.

Hi Simon! How did you get in touch with painting and how with black light art?

I always loved painting. I think my first pictures were inspired by the Asterix and Obelix comics... When I was 15, I attended an art college specialized in carving and finished a training as a gilder and sign painter. After that I took up a job to gain some money for a trip to India and Nepal. It was actually this journey that brought me to black light painting. Travelling alone in winter 2005 / 06 and visiting all that places in Asia meant a huge inspiration for me. It was also then when I decided to become self-employed. In 2010 this dream eventually became true, I am now an acknowledged artist in Austria and earn my money painting

Please tell us a little about your technique!

I use brushes and air brush for my work. Besides painting on canvas, I also designed numerous walls in shops, hotels etc. and also built some wood constructions. An interesting technical experience is the fact that at the moment my right hand is broken pretty badly. A ladder collapsed beyond my feet... So now I am temporarily working with my left hand and I have to say there are some really exciting results! I will publish them soon on my new homepage, which is currently being created.

Blue plays an important role in lots of your paintings. Is there a special reason for that?

I reckon sometimes I just wish not to have taken the red pill but the blue one... No, rather this colour is pretty important when it comes to the day / night appearance of my work. Plus for me, blue exudes freedom, clearness, harmony and satisfaction.

What was the biggest compliment you received as an artist?

The biggest compliment for me is when people feel good when being surrounded by my decoration, when they open their minds towards my pictures, when they take a good look at them. In such moments they do not only deal with my pictures but also with me, with my character. This can become an intense journey to the inner self, for me as an artist as well as for the people who look at my work.

Der heute 26-jährige Simon Hafele aus dem österreichischen Tirol ist zweifelsohne einer der derzeit talentiertesten Maler unserer Szene. An dieser Stelle präsentieren wir die gekürzte Version eines Interviews mit ihm in Englisch... Da du offenbar der deutschen Sprache mächtig bist, wirf doch wahlweise einen Blick auf unsere Internetseite- dort findet sich nämlich die ungekürzte Fassung dieses wirklich spannenden Gesprächs mit Simon!

Fascination with Fire

Spinning and Juggling

From the moment man created fire, he has been completely fascinated with it. Maybe it's because fire has a certain soul... it really has a life of its own. It is Alive.

Across the psy trance & goa scene, I first started to notice some of the juggling community mostly as the sun came down. The bright coloured tools of their trade had turned into balls of little controlled & methodically spinning fire before my eyes. I am certain my heart skipped a beat. Juggling had never been something I had considered... but to see this manipulation of "alive" energy in such a focused & controlled way, was something I craved to understand.

„If you play with fire, you are likely to get burnt“, as the old saying goes, the decision to learn poi unlit first was almost not a decision - it was something that really just found me. It was a little time before I felt the confidence for fire manipulation, but each time I feel this power rushing around me at my very control, it builds that confidence & desire that little bit more.

This is the feeling that I see in the eyes of those performing these flows - a focus and understanding of energy and flow. In so many varying forms with so many new tricks and tools being created and invented every day, goa & psytrance people often take on these little forms of play with an amazingly open landscape of creativity. The raw energy of fire is certainly not something to be taken lightly. This is something for a conscious mind who wants to unlock further boundaries & doors, who will take the time needed to learn how to play safely. The focus and almost meditative-like states that one finds in these flows are astronomically intensified for me personally, when I relate them to the frequency of beats and sounds within music - in particular to psy trance. Sometimes people have commented my poi play seems as martial art (especially if I am really in the "zone" & have closed my eyes). I wondered if I applied the same skills of poi to something like nunchucks if this would be possible. I think with a few technique applications, that this is entirely possible! I have never considered martial arts before... but now, I certainly see how a transfer of skills I learned with poi might somehow work.

There are never such intense feelings as the ones I have sharing this gift with the people in a music that we all really live for. In this way we celebrate life together. The life of the fire, the life of the people and the life of everything in around us. Each time I play, and each time I join with others playing and we learn from each other, my understanding becomes deeper and more intense. I can see how fire draws people towards one another. It is a common ground in which we want to understand how to make such a powerful energy move at will in front of our eyes. It was difficult in the beginning for me to understand that such under-fire proof clothing by speevers

www.speevers.com

standing of this ferocious energy actually required me to be more calm, more relaxed and therefore more focused. Almost an opposing feeling&mental state, to create the seeminly fierce action that I want.

The people are drawn to fire as a bug is to light, but remember always to have respect. Fire has potential to cause you harm if you are not paying attention! I encourage anyone who wants to learn, to begin slow & take things at your own pace. Choose your favoured tool - from hoop, poi, staff or any other equipment that spikes your interest. Then practise unlit till you know these moves with ease&confidence.... like a second nature. Not long after I experienced this second nature feeling myself, I heard someone remark after a quite intense fire 'dance' of poi, "You've been burned" &he smiled at me. This is the new meaning; when you become addicted to the fascination of the manipulation of pure energy!

The European Juggling Convention 2011 is held in August in Munich this year.

Fire spinning – Play it safe!

(Safety tips from fire artists)

“Give a man a match... he is warm for a minute. Set him on fire... he is warm for the rest of his life!” ... some of the funny quotes that come out really get you thinking...

All jokes aside... So you've just bought your new fire-juggling equipment. Congratulations & welcome to the warm community of fire artists. Be careful not to become the next burning man! Here are some helpful tips to ensure you can safely play with fire, and find your way among the flames!

Equipment Selection

Good quality, reliable product is rule number 1, and always check it before use. If a fire ball breaks out of the chain and shoots into the audience, you'll have a rough time explaining that it is just part of the show. Almost all the fire heads existing today are made of Kevlar fabric. Some companies use other advanced materials. Stay away from fire heads that are made from cotton and especially fiberglass heads. These are commonly sold in Thailand or India and are usually white in colour.

To avoid injuries and burns choose fire heads that don't have exposed metal parts and that don't have direct contact with the fire.

Where can I play?

Do not try this at home! Ok that's obvious – fire playing is for outdoors only and sometimes in big halls, however it's not just any outdoors environment or big place. Make sure that your environment is clean, free from obstacles and dry grasses etc. Keep a decent distance from your fans for their own safety. A windy evening is definitely not a good time for fire spinning. Get back to your tent!

What liquid should I use?

There are many kinds of fuels out there and they're all made to burn. However, fire liquid is not something you want to compromise with. The standard fuel for fire juggling is Paraffin, also known as Kerosene or lamp oil. This oil burns at a relatively low temperature and barely produces smoke. This fuel may cost a little more but in addition to your immediate safety, it will keep you healthier and make your Kevlar wicks live longer.

Practice, Practice and Practice

Earn the right to light. Get to know your fire tool. Get skilled with it. Don't surprise yourself with new tricks when the fire is set. Talking about surprises – remember that a soaked fire behaves differently to a dry fire. So here's a practical way to practice with real weight. Dip and stir your fire heads. Cover them with nylon bags and use good ribbon covers on top. These ribbon covers are always important to keep the fire heads from getting scratched or torn.

Shake it baby

Well, boys you all know how embarrassing it can be if you're in such a rush to the morning train that you didn't have time to shake it well... When it comes to fire it could be a little worse than embarrassing. Use a bowl, bucket or any other liquid container to dip your fire heads. Once dipping is complete always stir your fire tool well to get rid of any extra liquid.

Here's an important green and money saving tip: cut a plastic bottle. Tie a loop of string to its open side. Put one of the fire heads inside the bottle. Hold your fire tool together with string and stir rapidly for at least 10 seconds. Repeat this action with the other fire heads. You'll be surprised to find that around 10% of the liquid is gathered in the cut bottle and returns back to your dipping container.

Your hair and whatever is underneath

Even if you're not a scarecrow, your hair can catch fire just like dry straw in the summer.

It only takes one wrong move. Fireproof

Hair protection does not cost too much and will keep the most flammable part of your body safe. The rest of our body doesn't tend to catch fire easily, except for one little problem: our clothes. Polyester clothes are the worst to wear as they stick to the body when they burn.

Don't play on your own

If something goes wrong, your lucky fairy won't be able to help you. Make sure to have a real live person with you. This person will help you in case a poi wraps around you, extinguish you if you set on fire and call for help if needed. Make sure he is well equipped and knows how to assist you if something goes wrong. There are a few ways of extinguishing fires but one of the most simple and effective is a wet towel. Always have one around when playing with fire.

So you scared you a bit perhaps? The truth is quite the opposite!

Playing safe will not only keep you in one piece but when wearing the right clothes, using proper fire equipment and knowing how to play, you'll gain confidence and experience. Fire is beautiful. Don't be afraid of it. Control the fire and respect it.

The article writer is a fire performer and the Manager of Speevers Company. Speevers specializes, amongst other things, in cutting edge and safe fire equipment. With the help of innovative methods and materials we have developed, amongst other things, the Salamander the best hand held fire fan in the world, Bitis the fire meteor beast and a fire resistant clothing line. Our clothes are comfortable, easy to clean and barely absorb the fire smell and they look like your regular clothes.

Ajna

Inspired By Nature

Ajna pursues the idea of Organic Clothing in the probably most consequent way: It is not only the deeply harmonic shapes and colours of Mother Nature that inspire the design of their clothes. Rather, also the entire production process is modelled on the perfectly balanced natural cycle that connects everything to everyone.

Knowing the roots of their clothes from seed to dye, became the motto of Ajna, a motto that shall make sure whatever covers one's skin, will not only look good to the eye, but also feel good at heart. All the natural colours, shapes and textures will do no harm to Earth or to humans, thanks to organic cotton that is exclusively grown and crafted without any toxic chemicals. Designer Tanja Vana grew up with deep fascination for nature and managed to transform the earthy smell and touch of the forest, the trees and the nature spirits into a marvellous, one-of-a-kind fashion line, even for the children.

a symbol of our scene

All of us have seen Shiva Nataraja many times. Party decoration, flyers, quite any kind of artwork- the portrayal of this dancing Hindu goddess has a long and rich tradition in our scene that reaches back to its roots in India. But in fact rather few Psy Trance lovers know about the deep symbolic meaning of Shiva Nataraja. Of course he is no real creature, but a metaphor for life that is as perfect and elegant as it is easy to understand.

The dancing Shiva is surrounded by a halo of fire, which represents nature in the broadest possible sense of this world, the world of mass and energy. By dancing his cosmic dance, Shiva creates both order and disorder among these basic elements. Imagine Shiva being the driving force in our universe, his body reaching billions of light years and filling the entire cosmos.

In his upper right hand, Shiva holds his drum. Using this drum, he creates: Galaxies, planets, trees, single cells. In his upper left hand you can see his fire- which will destroy everything just mentioned. The tricky point for us humans is that these actions inevitably provoke emotions, feelings of something good or bad going on.

Now remember your best dancing experience- when you were just in the moment, just enjoying the movement of your body, just playing like a child. That is exactly what Shiva Nata-raja is doing. He has no glow sticks in his hands but very powerful tools. A sweep of his right arm: Creation. A new baby is born, a lucky encounter, success and blissfulness. A strike with his left arm: Destruction. A tragic accident, cancer, senility, depression. Keep in mind that Shiva is dancing just like you in the middle of the dance floor, without any second thought, dancing for the sake of dancing. He is no obliging god- but no malicious one either.

And it is alright like that. This is exactly what Shiva wants to tell us by rising his lower right hand, palm turned outwards. Don't be afraid, it's ok! If you look at the right foot of the goddess, you will notice that he is crushing an ugly little demon. This small creature named Apasara is immensely powerful and represents ignorance and greedy, possessive egoism. Shiva puts his foot on it, breaking his back. But he is not pointing at this foot with his lower left hand and this is a very crucial fact. Rather, he points at his left foot which is already risen for the next step of his cosmic dance. Exactly this is the moral of this wonderful metaphor: Keep on dancing- between good and bad, between joy and pain, between sunshine and rain!

THE BEAT

When the first beat of a new track starts rolling, it kicks off as an almost inaudibly buzzing sound coming from the speaker. Gradually what appeared to be just the humming noise changes into a more perceptible ticking in the background, louder and more intense with every kick. The dubbers are waiting for the moment when they can let go and lose themselves just for that one night. They take a sip of water but still keep on waiting. Meantime, the sound goes one level higher, like a firing spaceship slowly getting ready to blast off. As the sound is getting louder, a shiver of excitement spreads around the room like a tsunami. The crowd starts shouting with joy, cheering and clapping to the beat. It is obvious that the DJ, using his magical index finger glued firmly to the volume controller, has pushed the bottom slightly up. A bit more and it all goes slightly louder. Then out of nowhere a voice of must-be-from-another-planet species reverberates throughout the room with a power vocal: "Don't waste your time"

Only for a split second, but on the dancefloor it sounds more like an eternity, the music freezes completely. It seems as if the music had the power to stop the momentum of time.

And then it comes, rolling, rumbling through the space, with a blowing force of 30.000 Watt, like the thunder sent from the God in heaven, it is like the moment when for the first time the wild beast is finally tamed, hitting simultaneously one tick-tock after another. The beat!

DER BEAT

Wenn der Beat aussetzt, wenn es aus den Lautsprechern nur noch blubbert, raschelt oder zirpt und sich dann im Hintergrund langsam ein sirrender Ton aufbaut und lauter wird und höher und die Tänzerinnen warten, sich ausschütteln, einen Schluck Wasser trinken und immer noch warten und das Sirren des Raumschiffs noch eine Stufe höher schwingt und lauter wird und die Leute zu jubeln beginnen, gleich ist es geschafft, der DJ streckt den Zeigefinger nach oben, ganz weit hinten setzt ein tiefer Bass ein, das Sirren geht noch eine Stufe höher, wird nochmals lauter, die Vocoder-Stimme eines Aliens verkündet: „Dont waste your time“, für zwei Takte, weniger als eine Sekunde und doch eine Ewigkeit, setzt die gesamte Musik aus - und dann kommt er, mit der Urgewalt von 30.000 Watt, Gottvater persönlich, mit dem alle Musik, jeder Tanz, jeder Trance anfang, seit erstmals ein domestizierter Primat zwei Holzstücke monoton aufeinandererschlug: Der Beat!

They are rolling again. Sometimes incredibly big, sometimes small and compact. Sometimes lovingly painted and polished, sometimes cobbled together and run-down in a loveable way. Often few numbers and letters are sufficient to conjure up a smile on the lips of their lovers: 408, T2, LT... The freak freighter, the hippie mobile or just plain and simple the bus is an essential part of our scene and very characteristic for its street appearance.

Mushroom magazine would like to dedicate to these itinerant pieces of art, some pages for an exhibition. Therefore we call on you: Send us photos of your freak freighter, from the outside as

Rebirth of the underground in Hungary

The very first Goa Trance tunes in Hungary were probably played by DJ Oleg around '92, and by 2000 there was a strong community meeting at Psy Trance parties every week. The Hungarian psych-edelic scene might have seen bigger peaks in its almost 20 years of history, but it is still a fantastic and popular scene. Ozora festival and producers like Para Halu, Kalumet or Insector make the Hungarian scene well-known around the globe.

Progressive seems to be the most popular style at the parties today, but there is a fair share of Full On and Dark Psy fanatics as well. Meeting them you'll realize one thing is common among all of them: They will offer you Palinka, a liquor from fruits, and it will be strong. Trance people here love Palinka just as much as making friends, if you plan a visit you can always ask the community for help on forum.goa.hu.

Hungarian electronic music parties are suffering from a strict new law recently, as a consequence of a tragic accident in January when three young girls died in an overcrowded club in Budapest. As a reaction, the shocked public authorities now became extremely busy closing down venues and setting back events since this occurrence. It is especially hard for open air parties, although they've always been the heart and soul of the Hungarian scene. On the bright side, there are signs of a rebirth of the real underground and its nostalgic secret parties, and of course hard times bring the community even closer together: No one wants to miss the few open air gatherings that are still happening.

As one of the fixed dates of this summer, Bakony festival is held 15-17th July at the shores of a beautiful lake surrounded by the mighty denominated, the mountain itself. If there is one thing for sure, it's that everybody is drawn to Ozora, held in the beginning of August. With more than 10 thousand visitors in the valley every year, Ozora has slowly become one of biggest meeting points of the psychedelic world, and of course the proud Hungarian tribe.

If you are up to make both festivals you can easily spend the time inbetween checking out Budapest's famous nightlife and bars or - since there are no relevant distances in Hungary - you can visit one of the country's ten national parks or head to the biggest lake, Balaton and have a traditional retro holiday on the beach. Take your camping gear with you always, in Hungary you can legally camp almost anywhere.

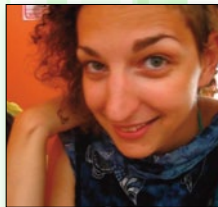

Tips and Facts

- Any kind of drugs are strictly illegal in Hungary, smoking marijuana in public places can quickly get you in trouble
- If you travel by train try to look for „Intercity” whenever you can, there is a small additional fee but it's well worth the speed and cleanness of the trains.
- Average entrance ticket to a psytrance party is 8-10 Euros. Interestingly enough you can find Techno / House / Breakbeat events in Budapest for 5 Euros or free. Beer however is usually cheaper in Psy Trance parties (between 1,5 and 3 Euros).

Paradise Valley – The true spirit of Goa!

28.12.2011 – 03.01.2012 • Morocco

Celebrating outdoors in the sun is simply double the fun! Wouldn't it be great to have this summer feeling also for New Years Eve, instead of partying in a crowded, musty club? Sounds like paradise? Well, Paradise Valley is within reach! Taking place in Morocco, this festival provides the possibility to spend the end of the year lightly dressed in exotic sceneries, listening to breathtaking music.

In Paradise Valley, there are comfortable temperatures around 20 – 25 degrees even in winter. The dance floors are shaded by palm trees and a waterfall invites for some refreshing splashing. Perfect conditions for a revival of the real spirit of Goa! The three party areas will be designed by more than 100 artists, who put their hearts and souls in the creation of a loving atmosphere and an original music programme. There will be several workshops and even a tent where Ayahuasca sessions are held.

Besides its fascinating culture, Morocco has the advantage that it is really affordable. This goes also for the two beach hotels of the open air: For 20 Euro per night, they offer the possibility to live right at the Atlantic, shuttle busses run frequently to the nearby festival where free camping is possible. Thought was also given to an easy arrival: It is possible to book a complete package for 270 Euro that includes a flight from Frankfurt, Berlin or Amsterdam, the transfer to the festival as well as the entry for the week at the festival (27.12.-04.01.). A similar offer exists for arrival from Malaga (Spain) via bus (26.12.-04.01.). A unique experience that will simply impress.

An der frischen Luft und mit den warmen Strahlen der Sonne auf der Haut feiert es sich einfach doppelt so gut, wie dieser Tage deutlich zu spüren ist. Wäre es nicht schön, dieses sommerliche Gefühl auch Sylvester zu haben, anstelle in einem muffigen, überfüllten Club zu feiern? Klingt paradiesisch? Nun, das Paradise Valley ist zum greifen nah! In Marokko gelegen bietet dieses Festival die Möglichkeit, die Jahreszeit nur leicht bekleidet in einer exotischen Naturkulisse zu verbringen, beschallt von feinstem Sound.

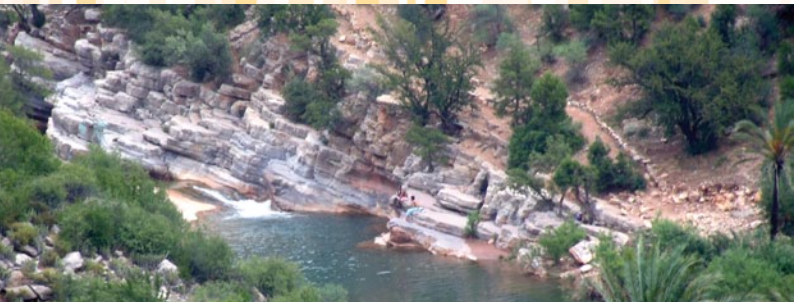

Im paradiesischen Tal herrschen auch im Winter angenehme Temperaturen um die 20–25 Grad. Getanzt wird im Schatten eines Palmenhains, Erfrischung bietet ein Wasserfall. Optimale Voraussetzungen also, um den echten Spirit von Goa wieder aufleben zu lassen! In insgesamt 3 Bereichen leben über 100 Künstler ihre Leidenschaft aus, um ein besonders originelles Musikprogramm und liebevolles Ambiente zu schaffen. Abgerundet wird das ganze von verschiedenen Workshops und sogar einem Zelt, in dem Ayahuasca Rituale stattfinden.

Neben seiner faszinierenden Kultur bietet Marokko den Vorteil, insgesamt sehr günstig zu sein. Das gilt auch für die beiden Strandhotels des Festivals: Für 20 Euro pro Nacht kann man direkt am Atlantik wohnen, Shuttles verkehren regelmäßig zum nahe gelegenen Open Air, wo frei gecampert werden kann. Auch in punkto Anreise hat man sich Gedanken gemacht. So besteht die Möglichkeit, für 270 Euro ein Komplettpaket zu buchen, das einen Flug von Frankfurt, Berlin oder Amsterdam sowie den Transfer zum und das Ticket fürs Festival beinhaltet (27.12.-04.01.). Ein ähnliches Angebot existiert für einen Bustransfer aus dem spanischen Malaga (26.12.-04.01.).

Universo Paralello

28.12.2011 - 03.01.2012 • Pratigi / Bahia / Brasil

A decade of Universo Paralello has passed very fast! Undoubtedly among the most special gatherings of our scene, this festival has seen countless artists, a huge amount of culture in general and last but not least one of the most beautiful party crowds in the world. After a one-year break, Universo Paralello is back at its magic roots, a place that is certainly a universe of its own: Pratigi!

UP is now taking place every 2 years. In the even years, there is 303 Festival- in the odd years Universo Paralello. What is this so?

The idea is to have Universo Paralello every 2 years. In this way there is simply more time to prepare the structure. It is designed to be a great experience for long-time visitors as well as for people who come for the first time. The chapter 303 was very special for us. We just couldn't imagine spending a new year without a party, so 303 Festival was a great opportunity to celebrate together in a smaller dimension, but still full of magic.

This year, UP is at the same venue. Is there a reason?

After we traveled around different venues, we found that Pratigi is our best option for this year, there is just such amazing support from the local people there. Pratigi is a very special place and we already have all the structure we need to have an excellent festival without any trouble.

There is a tradition in Brazil- people wear white clothes on New Year's Eve...

Yes, we like to welcome the New Year wearing white clothes, which symbolize light, peace, harmony- positive energy for the upcoming year! It's great to see that year after year more and more people join this tradition!

The last UP decoration from SOLA / Ibiza was absolutely stunning. Will she decorate the festival again?

SOLA made an incredible work during all the years she has been working with us, this year she will come again to surprise us with her stunning arts! Also our Portuguese friend Guerra will help us to create a beautiful scene for this edition... And our Brazilian crew is ready to blow your mind with fresh and unique ideas.

Are there special flights from Europe for people who want to come to UP...

Yes, we will have some special flights for visitors from Europe, for a very good price, leaving from Madrid, London and other cities. We'll have all this information on our website very soon, stayed tuned!

Do you have some tips for European travelers? What to explore in the Bahia region?

If you are in the Bahia area, don't miss magic places like Tranco, Arraial de Ajuda and Caraiva in the south of Bahia, approximately a 30 min flight from Salvador or 6 hrs by bus from Pratigi. If you want something different, we recommend you to visit Chapada Diamantina, where you will have an incredible experience of waterfalls, trees and full connection with nature. If you don't want to wander too far, go to Barra Grande with its beautiful beaches or Boipeba Island, the nearest places from Universo Paralello.

Blissful Festival

29.06.–03.07. • Portugal

Imagine the warm summer sun kissing your face while you are moving your body rhythmically in hip-deep waters, listening to your favourite DJ playing an uplifting afternoon set on the shore. Imagine being surrounded by a green, rolling countryside, by friends old and new, and lots of other beautiful people from all around the world. Imagine taking a morning yoga class after a night full of dance and laughter. Imagine being blissful for 5 days... Now you have an idea of the basic concept of Blissful Festival. Situated in the one-of-a-kind nature of Portugal, the aim of this event is to create some of the perfect summer days. Some days to remember- not only as a great party experience but also as an example how easy and peaceful life can be. An inspiring experience to draw upon even months later.

Beautiful Portugal is not only well known as a hot spot of the Psy Trance scene, but also as a real hot spot during summer. This guarantees a literally unclouded open air experience. Still there is no risk of overheating: A lake will be created right next to the main dance floor by damming up a little river which allows celebrating in or out of the water! The dance floor itself will provide enough shadow for a comfortable party experience during the day, thanks to a 1764 square metre roof with a colourful mandala design by the Tribe of Frogs and Ganesha Space Garden. During the night hours, lasers and visual shows will create a stunning Psy-per-space. A large LED video wall will do so also- and this one will be working even in daylight! An eco team will keep up a clean and natural vibe. Blissful Festival presents a distinctly psychedelic yet varied line up on the main floor including some of the currently most wanted artists of our scene. For those looking for some musical change, the DubTek Temple offers an inspiring mixture of Drum & Bass, Dubstep, Tech Trance, Reggae and Chill Out in a big Circus Tent, decorated by the great Austrian artist Psy Pix- who we interviewed for this mushroom issue, by the way.

Five days of festival provide ample time to meet new friends and enjoy a spectacular party together, and also time to collect inspirations and experiences by the dance floor. For this purpose, the Blissful Festival crew teamed up with Zeitgeist Movement and presents another area for intellectual and spiritual input. This space shall be kind of an open laboratory for new social systems. Ambient music and videos provide a relaxing environment for cultural exchange. Yoga classes will run daily. Last but not least is the free camping area with many shady trees and the free caravan and car park with eco-toilets and showers. These offer tranquil ambience for some relaxed and blissful days. A Magic Family area supports parents who want to enjoy this festival without neglecting their children.

Arcadia Festival

26.08. - 28.08. • France

The motto of Arcadia festival is „organic“. And in fact this open air event in the middle of France pursues this approach in a very consequent way. First of all, the decoration concept is literally organic, employing living plants to create an authentic natural ambiance, as well as unusual mobiles and light sculptures. The music programme does not only include the organically rolling grooves of top-notch Psy and Progressive Trance acts, but also represents the cultural growth and lively evolution of contemporary Electronic Dance Music by carefully including styles like Electro, Techno, Minimal, Downbeats, Dubstep or Ambient. Finally, the infrastructure of the festival is very organic: Biodegradable dishes and cups, organic dry toilets, ecologic paper, soap and toothpaste are just some examples for this sustainable party.

„We discovered that spreading a gentle, clean organic feeling has a huge impact on the general vibe of the festival. So we decided to cultivate this style of event every year a bit more“, promoter Matthieu aka D-Sens explains -

„During the past years we saw plant walls, gardens, fountains, hanging nature in the middle of the dance floor and around. The new location of the festival is another change. It is a truly magic place, lush and full of energy.“ Beside the great scenery, this new location offers a both unusual and amazing option for festival-goers. On the one hand, there will be of course a free camping area. On the other hand, it is also possible to book a place on a camping area where there is electricity, water supply and permanent sanitary facilities available. Whoever wants even more luxury, can also book a bungalow. Further information at accommodation@aquaveda.com.

The party will concentrate on two dance floors, one presenting a diverse Trance line up, the other, an open-minded concept of many joyful electronic music styles. Concerning the entertainment beside listening pleasure, Arcadia Festival strives to grow into the direction of a multicultural, multi-medial happening -

„The biggest change in our festival will be an artistic extension, we want to develop further the digital art exposition and performance aspects of our event, create a bubble that pushes the boundaries of the crowd's creativity by presenting many different digital art installations, sculptures, spontaneous fire shows and performances“, says Matthieu.

Rumours even speak about a psychedelic festival parade taking place... An arts and craft market will represent the cultural diversity of our world and the food court will provide exotic meals to keep up the energy level in a delicious way. Finally a highly specialized security team will guarantee a safe and peaceful event, efficiently but very discreet.

Music & Culture Festival

27.07. – 01.08.2011 • Ancient Olympia, Greece

As simple and plain as the name of this festival is, as varied and multicoloured is its program in terms of... you guessed it: Music and culture! During 6 days, 250 artists from 40 countries will present a large spectrum of electronic as well as acoustic, hand-made music but theatre, performances, lectures and workshops. Situated in the picturesque region of ancient Olympia, the environment of this open air is rich in culture as it can be. With a campsite opened for 9 days, the festival might be the perfect summer destination for travellers looking for a mixture of party, nature experience, cultural input and even beach.

The music aspect of the festival is represented by two stages named after Greek gods inhabiting the surrounding oak forests according to the ancient mythology. Pan, the goat-legged, horned god of shepherds being famous for his hypnotic flute, is the inspiration for the Trance floor. Its epic line-up reads very psychedelic with artists like Avalon, Dick Trevor, Scorb, Talamasca, Shane Gobi and Laughing Buddha. Still, there is also great Progressive groove for the sunny Greek summer days like Emok, Symphonix or Sensitive. Named after Artemis, the huntress, the goddess of fruitfulness among the 12 Olympian gods, the second stage offers a huge musical variety of Ambient, World Music, Reggae, Dub, Dubstep, Drum'n'Bass and tics and speeches will be held. Another interesting aspect are the numerous workshops. On one hand, they deal with subjects like "The ancient medicine" or "Super foods and herbs". On the other hand, there will be quite some technological classes about "New sound forms in real time electronic and natural sound combination", "Modular mixing and synthesizing" or "555 Timer and DIY electronic construction".

The environment of ancient Olympia offers still further variety; wandering through the ancient oak forests, home of the mystic half-horse, half-man Centaurs and Druede fairies, having a rest at the Erymanthus river only 800 meters and east of the venue, or visiting the nearby village of Androni, is a great nature experience and brings to life the rich Greek mythology. For those looking for a lazy day at the beach, there will be a shuttle to Katakolo in Ilia, one of the most famous and amazing beaches only 40 minutes drive from the festival site.

Music and culture festival is limited to 4000 tickets to guarantee a both international and familiar vibe.

even more... Bands like the Ozric Tentacles, Zion Train or Zen Garden create the unique atmosphere of a live concert, while artists like Broken Note, King Cannibal or Subeena spread modern electronic vibes.

Tangra Eco Art Dance Festival

09–13.09.2011 • Pirin Mountains, Bulgaria

Located in the breathtaking countryside of the Pirin Mountains in Bulgaria, Tangra festival offers a spectacular final destination for travelers exploring the world of the European open air summer. The event is inspired by Tangrism, which describes a philosophic trinity of Tan (the universe), Nak (the human) and Ra (god). Accordingly, the festival pursues a very spiritual approach and strives to make this universal, profoundly sensible philosophic formula come true during 4 nights and 5 days of music, dance and culture. With a focus on the rich scene culture of East Europe this ecological, tribal, shamanic and spiritual ritual might become a very special experience.

Once home of the last Dragons, the green mountains of Bulgaria with their deep forests and clear rivers lend to Tangra festival a very pure and natural but also mystical vibe. This ancient energy is taken up every evening at sunset, when the music program on the main floor starts with a session of drums and acoustic instruments. For instance, Tengri from Macedonia or Tubiflex Project and Samodelia from the Bulgarian capital Sofia present independent sounds between ambient grooves, Ethno music and tribal influences, using lots of instruments and vocals as well. With the sun sinking beyond the horizon, the hypnotic rhythms slowly morph to electronic tunes. Cosmosophy, the collaborative project of Flooting Grooves (UK) and Dymons (UK), will perform a 6-hour set full of live drums, flute sounds and the unique feeling of a concert, starting with Tribal Progressive Trance and slowly but constantly developing towards Tribal Psy Trance. Tangra festival strongly represents the very fertile and exciting underground music scene of East Europe and welcomes some of the most interesting producers from this region. Atriohm, Encephalopatycs and Magic Seeds from Macedonia, Already Maged and Saikozaurus from Ukraine or Komarchiki from Russia stand for deep and twisted forest sound with an intellectual edge, telling epic mystic stories. More truly psychedelic sounds are provided by artists like Kliment (BG), Once Upon a Time (BG), Surbahar (BG) or Asoma (BG). September 12th will be a full moon night, transforming the built-up spirituality and creativity into an eternal flow of primitive energy.

According to its holistic idea, Tangra goes beyond the scope of a pure dance event. There is the opportunity to explore an intense visionary exhibition by Ukrainian artist Trootootoo and to get lost in the fantastic decorations by the Russian Quantum Tribe. Numerous workshops provide spiritual input about subjects like music therapy. Also, there will be a library of interesting books and a healing center offering spiritual practices, meditations and lectures on the ecological stability of our planet and the universe.

Tangra festival is located 200 km from Sofia, 160 km from Thessalonica and 180 km from Skopje. The presale has started and will take place in three phases. Special price at the gates for everyone showing the mushroom edition June/July...

SOL Festival

25th to 29th of August 2011 • Extremadura, Spain

The Third-Eye Vision team was just about to give up its ambitious search when they discovered a stunning, possible location for their festival project in Spain's beautiful "wild west" close to the Portuguese border. This venue in Extremadura provided three of the basic ingredients for an open air experience to remember: An amazing scenery, a huge lake for swimming and a guarantee of sunshine. Luckily it turned out that the people from the nearby village of Santibañez el Alto as well as the local authorities were more than up for the idea of a multi-cultural electronic festival. Thus the project was sealed: Around the last weekend of August, a fusion of art, music, performance and dance will take place on the dreamlike location.

Though SOL Festival will be their first open air event of this size, the Third-Eye Vision team is everything but a black horse when it comes to party organization. Consisting of members from Spain, Ireland, Holland, Germany, France, Belgium, Greece and India, the crew draws on a huge amount of experience. The history of their events reaches back to the late eighties when they promoted the rise of electronic music in Holland. In India, the team was responsible for classic Goa events up to 1997.

The festival's main music genre is an eclectic fusion of different traditional musical instruments backed with an electronic pulse and an emphasis on dance. The multi-cultural music programme includes popular artists as well as exciting inside tips from the genres of Trance, Techno and Fusion / World Music. Three maestros have collected a music connoisseur's line up of nothing less than pure quality:

Frank Madsen from Koxbox, Pat Flanders from Mindwaves Music and Chillin Berlin and Leo Michaud, a less known artist but with a deep understanding of quality music. There will be three stages, each representing one facet of this entertaining fusion concept. The expertise of Bos-sinade Lightworks and Campat-tack from Holland is responsible for sound, lighting and ambiance together with the Dutch Young artists who are designing and creating the dance floor sun shading and deco. To get and keep everything rolling, the crew of Life Festival from Ireland will provide support and guidance with regard to logistics and organization.

SOL Festival tickets include five days camping within the property grounds, situated in a rolling countryside on the shores of a huge lake. A special area will be designated for camper vans and will have chemical toilets and showers. The journey is approx. 350 km and takes about 3.5 hours from Madrid on good roads. A shuttle bus service will be available on the 24th of August from Madrid airport directly to the festival site, with three different departure times and returning on the 30th - check the website for details.

OpenMind Eco-Festival

Celebration and Well-being

August 9th – 16th 2011 • Between Montreal and Ottawa, Canada

OpenMind Festival is a gathering of Celebration, Visionary arts, Transcendent music, Conscious workshops and Well-being. It's a balanced ecstatic celebration of life!

Come celebrate the ecstasy of life in nature! OpenMind is a unique, visionary and enchanted festival! A place where there's no boundaries, where we are all One. A space where we find our deep-rooted connection with nature. A time which allows well-being, to heal and reconnect with ourselves. A moment of pure expression and sharing, without limits or judgment. A break in time to celebrate ecstasy of life in nature!

It's a festival where visionary arts, transcendent music and spirituality are united to give us the opportunity to seize the moment, live fully, outside our daily routines, in a supernatural universe. It's an occasion we give ourselves to contemplate life and let our inner-child emerge. To live in moments of peace, unconditional love and ecstasy; of Pure Life. To celebrate time while we still have time! To live life fully. Live Love without Limits...

OpenMind Festival started from a vision; a vision to help consciousness to arise, to help us all to awaken about environment, nature, others, and about ourselves. This seed has grown into the OpenMind Eco-Festival; a gathering of celebration, well-being and peace much involved in sustainability.

The vision of the festival is to burst current paradigms to enter in a new sustainable and free era; as well as to create an important positive impact on the environment, societies and global consciousness. To achieve this, our mission is to create individual and global change by creating spaces to allow the blooming of our children's hearts and the experience of a new healthy, balanced and sustainable way of living. We put forward an extensive sustainable plan which you can consult on our website.

OpenMind Eco-Festival is not only a visionary gathering of celebration, but also a moment to take care of ourselves; to reconnect with nature, with others and our inner child. The one week event has many different activities to offer: A sunny music stage playing world music, tribal, psychedelic trance, goatrance, psy-tribal, reggae, dub, trance; an ambient music stage playing ethnic music, Indian, psybient, downtempo ambient; an extensive yoga/workshops/conferences stage on a variety of conscious subjects; a healing area where all kind of therapist and healers offer free treatments; An enchanted forest to purify the contemplative mind; a visionary art exhibition; a giant labyrinth; a conscious cinema; sweat lodges; positive ceremonies; circus performances and original animations; a children's village; a community kitchen; an artisans village; conscious restaurants and much more!

The concept of the festival is to create a moment out of ordinary life, out of time, to be able to experience new things, to discover new tools for enlightenment, to live fully each moment without thinking about anything else. To achieve this, besides all activities offered and quite innovative decorations, all activities (but food) are free on site. Enjoy!

Waldfrieden Wonderland

12. – 14.08.2011 • Stemwede-Wehdem, Germany

Die nackten Füße in feinem Sand, die Nase in frischer Waldluft: So wird im Wunderland gefeiert! Auf zwei Tanzflächen bietet dieses in mancherlei Hinsicht außergewöhnliche Festival 48 Stunden Musikvergnügen ohne Unterbrechung, wobei der Schwerpunkt auf progressivem Psy Trance liegt. Viele kleine Details und mit ihnen das eine oder andere Abenteuer, das es zu entdecken gilt, runden das bunte Programm ab.

Die Wonderland ist anders. Zum einen in geografischer Hinsicht. Anders als praktisch alle anderen großen, internationalen Erwachsenenpielplätze in Deutschland ist sie nämlich nicht am berühmten Goa Highway 24 gelegen, sondern im Großraum Minden in Nordrhein-Westfalen. Aber auch vor Ort unterscheidet sich die Geografie von anderen Festivals. Sie verfügt nämlich über ausgesprochen schöne Rundungen... in Form zahlreicher bewaldeter Hügel, von denen das Gelände umgeben ist. Auf diese Weise eröffnen sich immer wieder neue Ausblicke auf das bunte Treiben im Wunderland.

Zum anderen ist es die Aufmachung, die dieses Festival zu etwas ganz besonderem macht. Da der eigentliche Partybereich nämlich nicht nur angemietet ist, sondern ganzjährig zu jenem Waldhaus gehört, dem die Örtlichkeit ihren malerischen Namen verdankt, kann hier langfristig geplant und vorbereitet werden. Von speziellen Bepflanzungen über Schaukeln und mit feinem Sand ausgeschüttete Tanzflächen bis hin zur aus Holz gefertigten Bühne und dem berühmten Aussichtslosenturm entsteht so eine ganz besondere Atmosphäre.

Neben der großen Tanzfläche, auf der es durchweg progressiv-psychedelisch zugeht, bietet ein weiterer Freiluftbereich tagsüber verspielten Minimal und Elektro. Nachts und im Falle von starkem Regen öffnet zudem das Haus Waldfrieden, in dessen Räumlichkeiten es progressive Beschallung gibt. Ein kleiner, sorgfältig zusammengestellter Markt bietet nicht nur Kleidung und Accessoires, sondern auch verschiedene Essens-, Tee- und Kaffeestände, wobei ausschließlich Bio-Lebensmittel angeboten werden. Im Campingbereich stehen ausreichend Toiletten und Duschen zur Verfügung. Zu guter letzt ermöglicht ein kostenfreier Transport vom und zum Bahnhof Lemförde die Möglichkeit einer entspannten Anreise mit öffentlichen Verkehrsmitteln.

Situated in the middle of a rolling countryside and lush forests, Waldfrieden Wonderland is different than most of the other adult playgrounds of the German festival summer. It's not only this special venue that is so attractive, but also the extensive usage of natural materials for the festival design, which takes up the woody vibe of the surroundings. Focusing on progressive Psy Trance, Wonderland offers two open air dance floors as well as one indoor club room with altogether 48 hours non-stop music. Free camping will be provided with toilets and showers. Easy arrival via public transport is guaranteed by a free shuttle bus from the train station Lemförde.

Spiritual Healing

25. - 29.08.2011 • Gerdshagen / North-East Germany

In den vergangen 7 Jahren hat sich das Spiritual Healing Festival zu einem beliebten Höhepunkt des deutschen Festivalsommers entwickelt. In ständigem Wandel befindlich, repräsentiert sein außergewöhnlich vielseitiges Programm alle Facetten unserer Szenekultur: Psy Trance und Weltmusik, aber auch Naturheilkunde und moderne Spiritualität. Zwischen der Tanzfläche am Badesee, der Alternativ-Bühne und der Healing Area mit Vorträgen, Seminaren und Workshops entfaltet sich eine einzigartige Atmosphäre: Der Spirit von Harmonie, der in Erinnerung ruft, wer wir wirklich sind.

Eine musikalische Besonderheit stellt die psychedelische Oldschool Nacht auf dem Trance Floor dar. Den entspannt- verträumten Auftakt für diese illustre Unternehmung spielt diesmal The Muses Rapt, ein Musiker, der schon seit den frühen 80ern mit den psychotropen Eigenschaften von Klängen experimentiert und dessen Debütalbum den Titel „Spiritual Healing“ trug. Gleichsam darf man sich auf eine echte „First Lady“ des Psy Trance freuen: Miranda aus Schweden wird eines ihrer energiegeladen Oldschool Sets spielen. Acts wie U-Recken, Digi-cult, E-clip, Zyce, Silicon Sound, NOK, Ansolas & Lightrocker oder Miko on Magic Violin ergänzen ein modernes Trance-Moment. Zudem exquisiten Chill Out von Vargo. Neben dem vielseitigen Psy Trance Programm gibt es auf dem Worldmusic Floor Oldies der 50er und 60er, Dance der 70er, 80er und 90er, Dream Jazz, Blues und vieles mehr zu hören.

Das traditionell aufwendige Rahmenprogramm beinhaltet eine Ausstellung der englischen Malerin Josephine Wall, die zum ersten Mal in Deutschland zu Gast ist. Eines ihrer fantastischen Werke ist auf dem diesjährigen Flyer der Spiritual Healing zu sehen. Die Künstlerin wird sogar gemeinsam mit den Besuchern malen. Weitere Angebote der Healing Area sind z.B. Naturheilkunde Seminare, Lach-Yoga, Qi Gong, ein Vortrag über Quantenphysik oder verschiedene Meditationen. Und schließlich ermöglichen ein Kinderspace mit FUNtastischer Gestaltung, das Healing Cinema, Feuertänzer und vieles mehr Besuchern jeden Alters und Interesses ein wundervolles Erlebnis. Auf dass das Motto des Spiritual Healing Festivals auch in diesem Jahr Wirklichkeit wird: „Mögen alle Wesen glücklich sein!“

With a remarkably varied programme, Spiritual Healing has become a popular highlight of the German open air summer. In addition to Psy Trance, a large range of World Music is represented on a special stage and in the Healing Area. There are many workshops and lectures on subjects like natural healing, laughing yoga, Qi Gong, quantum mechanics or meditation.

The Trance floor is situated right next to a bathing lake. Its traditional Oldschool Night presents amazing artworks like Miranda or The Muses Rapt. A visual highlight will be the exhibition of Josephine Wall, one of her fantastic paintings can be seen on this year's flyer. The artist will even paint together with the visitors. A special place for children and a Healing Cinema finally make sure that the motto of the festival comes true: "May all beings be happy!"

Indian Spirit Festival

01. – 05.09.2011 • Heiligengrabe, North-East Germany

„Das Beste kommt zum Schluss!“ besagt ein Sprichwort. Und tatsächlich findet sich am Ende des deutschen Festivalssommers ein echter Höhepunkt in Sachen beschwingt-psychedelischer Freiluftkultur. Als internationales Stammestreffen bietet die Indian Spirit Gelegenheit, noch einmal mit der gesamten Open Air Familie zu feiern, bevor sich das Szenegeschehen nach drinnen verlagert. Das Rahmenprogramm hierfür kann sich wirklich sehen und hören lassen...

In punkto Optik gibt es nämlich eine besondere 3D Dekoration auf die Augen. Was zunächst wie gut gemachte Schwarzlichtmalerei und Videoprojektion wirkt, entfaltet beim Blick durch spezielle Brillen einen wahrhaft bewusstseinsweiternden Tiefeneffekt. Bemerkenswert räumlich geht es auf den Tanzflächen auch in akustischer Hinsicht zur Sache. Funktion One

Anlagen vermitteln hier ein einmaliges Hörerlebnis, ihr Sound ergießt sich wie glasklare Flüssigkeit über die feierwütige Meute. Indes wirkt die Musik trotz sattem Schall-Druck nie aggressiv oder aufdringlich. Und so können die hypnotischen Klänge der aus allen Himmelsrichtungen anreisenden Musikschamanen ihre Wirkung besonders gut entfalten. Seien es die psychedelischen Abfahrten von Rinkadink, Ephedrix und Slider, die progressiven Rhythmen von Quantize, Neelix und Ritmo oder auf dem Dark Floor Hishiryu, Megalopsy, -Z- und Vic Triplag – anregende Beschallung für das spätsommerliche Tanzritual gibt es mehr als reichlich!

“The best comes at the end!” as the saying goes. In fact the European festival summer ends with this top-notch highlight: Indian Spirit transforms the ancient vibe of a tribal meeting into a modern Trance ritual and offers the opportunity to see once again all the international open air family before the indoor season arrives. Since the late nineties this festival grew steadily and eventually became one of the most popular along the famous North-East German “Goa Highway 24”.

This year the psychedelic design of Indian Spirit is literally taken to another dimension. A special 3D decoration and projection concept will produce a one-of-a-kind impression of optical depth when watched through special glasses. Also, the sound on the dance floors will be three-dimensional as it can be: Funktion One systems provide a truly physical listening experience with music pouring over the crowd like a crystal clear liquid. In this way, the hypnotic rhythms of the numerous music-shamans from all four corners of the earth can take effect in a very powerful way. Highly psychedelic take-offs by Rinkadink, Ephedrix and Slider, progressive tunes by Quantize, Neelix and Ritmo or Dark magic by Hishiryu, Megalopsy, -Z- and Vic Triplag – there is everything to push the limits of exciting musical energy for this late-summer dance ritual!

Theft at festivals

Unfortunately this year's open air season also brought a wave of theft. At several festivals, tents have systematically been ransacked and cars have been broken into. Therefore we call on you: Intervene by asking what is going on when you watch something suspicious. If the situation does not clear up by doing so or if you encounter any kind of aggressive reactions, alarm the nearby festival visitors about what's happening and call the security!

Diebe auf Festivals

Leider hat die aktuelle Open Air Saison auch eine Diebstahlwelle mit sich gebracht. Auf verschiedenen Festivals wurden systematisch Zelte durchwühlt und Autos aufgebrochen. Daher an dieser Stelle der Aufruf: Mischt euch durch Nachfragen ein, wenn ihr etwas Auffälliges beobachtet. Sollte sich die Situation dadurch nicht aufklären oder ihr auf aggressive Reaktionen stoßen, macht andere Festivalbesucher auf das Geschehen aufmerksam und verständigt die Security!

Correction:

Kannibalen Massaker is NOT a Hard Rock event!

We made a mistake in the english version of the Kannibalen Massaker article. Indeed there will be some Hard Rock combos playing but they are just one little part of the colourful non-electronic alternative program, beside World Music bands and songwriter music. The main part of this festival is of course Psytrance!

Random Road Trip!

After having made an interview with Neelix about his unreleased tracks in our last edition, our little Australian, Ky, ended up road tripping back to Hamburg from Copenhagen after meeting him at an event held there.

"I greeted Henrik behind the progressive stage (Neelix) and introduced myself. He immediately took me in his arms and said 'thank you'. I feel so proud to be able to help the people behind the music, even more grateful to be appreciated. Neelix then invited me to join them in their minivan back to Hamburg along with Day Din, Benny Moon (&his brother Finn), Fabio, Klopfgesteir and Symphonix, on one of the most entertaining spontaneous road trips of my life! And... after getting to know the guys abit better, the Hamburg crew are a good bunch. Thanks heaps guys! I encourage people to check out their music!" - Kylie Van Eerden

Festival Couch

From a once crazy idea after a few drinks one night to motorize a couch, Mardy Daniel has really embraced his creation of Festival Couch!

I must admit, I had to take a second look as I saw this wondrous thing zooming around at Rainbow Serpent 2011 in Australia earlier this year, and I could only sit there in amazement as he awed the crowds. I think to myself...

This guy is a genius.

After chatting to him further, this guy taken on festival couch to new levels! He is now building, creating, hiring and sharing his wonderful toy with anyone who wants to hire one - from film clips, festivals, parties, or just for anyone who wants to have the novelty to buzz one around a festival for the weekend. Brilliant mate!

Where are they now?

DJ Mahasuka

When it comes to the evolution of Progressive Trance, DJ Mahasuka from Hamburg is a name that would not be missed out. He first came in contact with the scene in 1993 and was instantly hooked. In 1999 he founded the project Intact Instinct, together with Stefan Hübner and Marcus Carp. Despite the fact that their sound was very minimal and came along with only a hint of melody, it was very deep and hypnotic in nature. He also worked together with Sebastian Krüger under the moniker Disco Slickers, another very successful project that serves as a prime example for the vast diversity of Progressive Trance in its early days. In 2003 Mahasuka withdrew from the scene. Since then he worked as a project manager, and also completed his two best productions so far - A son and a daughter. Currently there are reliable rumours around about a retro gig of Intact Instinct at a big festival... featuring all the three original members!

Alcohol

“The cause of, and solution to, all of life’s problems” (Homer Simpson)

Calculation of the blood alcohol concentration

According to a formula provided by the Swedish chemist Erik Widmark

Calculate amount of pure alcohol.

E.g.: 1.5 litres beer containing 5% alcohol

$1.500 \text{ ml} \times 0.05 \% = 75 \text{ ml pure alcohol}$

Convert millilitres to grams using the specific weight of alcohol which is 0.81.

$75 \text{ ml pure alcohol} \times 0.81 = 60.75 \text{ g pure alcohol}$

This value now has to be divided by the reduced body weight of the drinker.

The reduced body weight of a woman is her actual body weight multiplied by 0.6.

Why do I have to piss so often when drinking alcohol?

Alcohol blocks a hormone that is responsible for the recovery of water from urine. In this respect, we are not talking about the urine which we eventually excrete, but its primary form that is produced by the kidneys in very high amounts. Thanks to the mentioned, so called anti-diuretic hormone, around 99% of the water of this primary urine are re-absorbed by the body. Because alcohol blocks

The reduced body weight of a man is his actual body weight multiplied by 0.7.

Let's assume the drinker is female. Her reduced body weight is:

$65 \text{ kg actual body weight} \times 0.6 = 39 \text{ kg reduced body weight}$

Now the calculated amount of pure alcohol has to be divided by the reduced body weight. The result is the per mL level.

60.75 g pure alcohol / 39 kg = 1.56 per mL

Decomposition of alcohol

Per hour, around 0.1 per mill of the blood alcohol will be decomposed. In our case that means it would take the lady around 15 hours to be completely sober again! Keep in mind: The actual decomposition process and its duration strongly differs from human to human, this formula is everything but 100% reliable.

this hormone, there is more water in the urine we excrete, which is to say there is a higher volume of urine. This effect is independent from the amount of water we drank recently- the body, consisting of more than 70% water, simply becomes dehydrated. This again is one of the major reasons for the hangover. Also, alcohol has a muscle-relaxing effect which also affects the muscles of the bladder.

Did you now that...

- › There is no scientific explanation for the saying “Beer after wine and you’ll feel fine; wine after beer and you’ll feel queer”
- › The expression “toast” is based on the ancient Roman ritual to drop a piece of roasted bread into wine
- › A mixed drink containing carbonated beverage is absorbed into the body more quickly than straight shots
- › The pressure in a bottle of champagne is about three times the pressure in automobile tyres
- › Drinking lowers rather than raises the body temperature. There is an illusion of increased heat because alcohol causes the capillaries to dilate and fill with more warm blood.
- › One of the few short sentences in the English language to include every letter of the English alphabet is: “Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs.”

Myth: Movement accelerates the decomposition of blood alcohol

Intense movement, like dancing, will not accelerate the decomposition of alcohol and the amount of alcohol transpired by sweating is only marginal. In fact, 95% of the decomposition of blood alcohol is done by the liver and this organ is not very fast: Per hour, the blood alcohol level decreases by 0,1 to 0,2 per mL. It is true, that alcohol is transpired with the sweat but only a maximum of 5% - which is not relevant for an acute intoxication. Still, intense movement gets the circulation going, which has a positive subjective effect. This also goes for a strong coffee or a cold shower, which are often held to be a “downer” for an alcohol intoxication.

Investigating of Vaporizers

For those trying to give up smoking tobacco, or for those just wanting to learn more about this term that has been floating around in more recent years... We spoke with Vaposhop to find out some answers about what exactly is a vaporizer.

Vaporization - What is it?

Vaporizing is becoming increasingly popular as a healthy alternative to smoking. For most users the noticeable difference between smoke and vapor gives quite the benefits: Vaporizing is healthier AND more effective, it utilizes much more of the herbs used than if it were smoked or burned. The vapor created when used is inhaled as a light steam, which not only feels healthier, but IS healthier! The differences can really be noticed when using over a seemingly short time! (see <http://vaporizer-info.com/en/why-vaporize>)

What is a vaporizer?

A vaporizer is a device that heats up dried herbs to a temperature at which they release their active components into an aromatic vapor. These days there are units you can purchase for the home, and also smaller more portable units for when you are traveling.

In the process utilized by the vaporizer, the herb is not scorched, burned or combusted, and thus no smoke is generated. Although vapor may appear to resemble smoke, it doesn't contain any of the toxic particles (tar, benzene, toluene, naftalene etc.) which make smoking such a health hazard. (from: vaporizer-info.com – more at <http://vaporizer-info.com/en/what-vaporizer>)

-thanks to vaporizer-info.com where you can find further info.

Portable and electric vaporizers

Portable vaporizers are great for on the go, but require batteries or butane to operate. An electric vaporizer is mostly used at home and is plugged into a wall outlet. Most electric vapor-izers allow for temperature control. In the case of cannabis, different temperatures can affect the psychoactive properties (high or stone).

A Magic-Flight Launch Box vaporizer has been kindly offered up for grabs from Vaposhop for a lucky Mushroom Magazine follower – Keep an eye out on our facebook page <http://www.facebook.com/mushroommagazine> and you can win this little package, valued at 99 euro.
