INFRASOUND

THE FREQUENCY OF FEAR

The siren in "Silent Hill", the croak of the ghost girl in "The Grudge", sudden voices in the dark of a nocturnal forest - some sounds are really scary. However, it gets even more eerie beyond the hearing threshold of the human ear. Sound frequencies lower than 20 Hz can provoke feelings of nervosity, uneasiness, and fear... often they occur at places that are held to be haunted.

It's the late 90s and Vic Tandy is fiddling around with the apparatus used during surgeries and in the intensive care units of hospitals to keep those patients alive who are under anaesthetics or in coma. The employer of the British engineer is specialized in this kind of medical equipment. As a very diligent persons he often works overtime - and it's on one of these occasions when something very strange happens.

On this evening, Vic is the only one still in the workshop. He can see the door from his desk and said goodbye to all of his colleagues. But all of a sudden he feels not so alone anymore. There's something, an odd feeling of a presence. Although Vic feels cold he realizes the sweat on his forehead. Apparently he's quite nervous. Is it the long days? Or the eerie sounds from the factory, now all lonely? Or maybe even those gas bottles in the workshop, where they store oxygen and carbon dioxide, but also various narcotics? He checks the valves, feeling strange like never before. But everything left corner of his vision. It's grey, has a diffuse shape, and moves just like a human would do - but there's no sound. He's scared stiff and turns his head very slowly. As he does so, the ghostly appearance fades and disappears. Definitely too much work, time to call it a day!

Only one minute later he realizes that he is being watched... by something that now materializes in the left corner of his vision. It's grey, has a diffuse shape, and moves just like a human would do.

is okay. So it's only the nerves? Vic gets himself a cup of coffee and returns to his desk. An ice cold chill runs down his spine when he realizes only one minute later that he really is being watched... by something that now materializes in the

It happens again. This time it's early morning and Vic is in the workshop already before work starts - for his hobby. He's taking part in a fencing competition and wants to modify his foil, his fencing blade. Using the bench vice in the workshop it should be done in five minutes. So he puts the blade in the vice and starts looking for a tool. When he returns, he finds the blade frantically vibrating up and down. The picture of the eerie grey shape comes back to his mind and he's terrified. But then his scientific, analytic mind takes over. He has seen something like this before: A piece of metal wildly vibrating as if by magic... The energy for this movement must have a source. This energy apparently varies in intensity and resonates in the blade, and there is a name for energy with these particular properties: Sound. However, Vic can't hear anything. Now he's not frightened any more - he's curious. Vic puts the blade in a vice on a table with wheels and moves it through the workshop. In the middle the vibration is most intense, at the far ends, at the walls, it stops completely. Apparently Vic and his colleagues are sharing the workshop with a standing sound wave! Other than travelling sound waves it's not going nowhere, but it's being completely reflected by the Silent for the ear, that is. This fan also inspires the title of Vic's extensive report about the incident: The Ghost in the Machine.

The machine is modified - and the ghost is gone. No vibrating blades anymore, and no eerie atmosphere walls, amplifying itself in the middle of the longish room. With this insight it's very easy to calculate the exact frequency of that sound wave: It's 18,98 Hz - just under the human's auditory threshold at 20 Hz. Soon also the source of this sound is found. At the far end of the workshop a new fan has been installed just recently, it works perfectly silent.

in the lab, an atmosphere that had been experienced by several employees. What hasn't gone is Vic's curiosity. Researching scientific sources he finds many hints that there really is something like a frequency of fear. For instance, there's a report from the 70s in which the employees and the management of a factory agree: The building is kind of haunted, there's an odd atmosphere. Investigations show that the level of low frequency sounds is slightly higher than usual. Only when the ventilation system is redesigned the situation changes. Another example is a university where some employees refuse to work in a certain laboratory: They say that they experience a strong feeling of depression and dizziness at this place. Interestingly that only happens when a fan is running, perfectly silent. Last but not least Vic discovers a NASA report which mentions that sound frequencies around 18 Hz cause a resonance in the human eyeball - may result in blurred vision. All of these sources and many others are a reasonable proof that there's a tsunami approaching might have to do with it - just as the frightening roar of the tiger. In form of sonic weapons infrasound is used against pirates and teenagers who loiter in the park. Will it soon be a part of music production, as well? It would definitely add a final touch of Mordor to certain DarkPsy tracks!

Perhaps it's already happening, and infrasound is the reason why some are terrified of Hamburg Proggie, others of Hardcore HiTech? Well, at least good studio subwoofers reach 19 Hz. But Funktion One's notorious InfraBass quakes at „only“ 20 Hz. A new branch for the sound system industry? We will see... no, hear...no: We'll be scared as shit!

those frequencies below 20 Hz, described as infrasound, have a strong effect on both the human body and the mind.

This notion is supported by an experiment that is carried out in the UK in 2003. The 700 visitors of a concert listen to music - and every now and then to 17 Hz infrasound waves generated by special speakers. After the pressure on their chest while listening to those pieces of music that had been mixed with infrasound.

Infrasound is one good explanation for paranormal activities. Some scientists also believe that it is used by elephants, giraffes, and blue whales to communicate over long distances. The fact that animals flee from the coast before we realize that

DIE FREQUENZ DER ANGST

Die Sirene in „Silent Hill“, das Krächzen jenes Geister-Mädchen in „Der Fluch“, unbekannte Stimmen im nächtlichen Wald - es gibt Geräusche, die gehen durch Mark und Bein. Aber so richtig unheimlich wird es in dem Bereich, den das menschliche Ohr gar nicht mehr hören kann. Frequenzen unterhalb von 20 Hz können Nervosität, Unruhe und Angst auslösen... und treten oft an jenen Orten auf, die als von Geistern heimgesucht gelten.

In den späten 90ern tüftelt Vic Tandy an Geräten herum, die im Operationssaal und auf der Intensivstation von Krankenhäusern zum merkwürdig hat er sich noch nie gefühlt. Aber alles ist so, wie es sein sollte. Also doch nur die Nerven? Mit einer Tasse Kaffee setzt er sich wieder an seinen Schreibtisch. Kurz darauf stellen sich seine Nackenhaare auf und mit einem kalter Schauer im Rücken wird ihm klar, dass er nicht allein ist. Er fühlt sich beobachtet. Und zwar von etwas, dass sich jetzt am Rande seines linken Gesichtsfelds materialisiert. Es ist grau, von diffuser Form und bewegt sich wie ein Mensch beklemmendes Gefühl der Nervosität. Obwohl ihm eher kalt ist, fühlt er Schweiß auf der Stirn. Sind es die Überstunden? Die gespenstischen Geräusche aus den Eingeweiden der verlassenen Produktionsanlage? Oder etwa die Gasflaschen hier in der Werkstatt, in denen zu Versuchszwecken auch verschiedene Narkosemittel gelagert werden? Deren Ventile prüft Vic jetzt, denn so

Aber es passiert wieder. Diesmal nutzt Vic die Werkstatt schon früh morgens, noch vor Arbeitsbeginn. Er bereitet sich auf ein Fecht-Turnier vor und möchte dafür seinen Degen modifizieren. Mit Hilfe der Schraubzwinge am Arbeitsplatz sollte das schnell gemacht sein. Nachdem er die Sportwaffe dort eingespannt hat macht er sich auf die Suche nach einem geeigneten Werkzeug – und findet den Degen wild zitternd vor, als er zurückkehrt. Zusammen mit der lebhaften Erinnerung an jene gespenstische Erscheinung ist er zutiefst geschockt. Doch dann setzt sich sein wissenschaftlich-analytischer Charakter durch. So etwas hat er schon einmal gesehen: Ein

Nun ist der Entdeckergeist geweckt. Auf einem Tisch mit Rollen wird der eingespannte Degen durch die Werkstatt geschoben. In der Mitte ist die rätselhafte Vibration am stärksten, an den Wänden hört sie ganz auf. Offensichtlich teilen Vic und seine Kollegen die Werkstatt mit einer stehenden Schallwelle! Die räumliche Beschaffenheit dieses Orts sorgt nämlich dafür, dass sie sich nicht ausbreiten kann, sondern vollständig von den Wänden reflektiert wird und sich in der Mitte des länglichen Raums selbst verstärkt. Die genaue Frequenz lässt sich anhand dieser Erkenntnis leicht berechnen. Sie beträgt 18,98 Hz, knapp unter der menschlichen Hörschwelle füzig umgebaut - und der Spuk ist vorbei. Kein Zittern mehr im eingespannten Degen und auch die unheimliche Atmosphäre, welche übrigens verschiedene Mitarbeiter bemerkt hatten, ist verschwunden. Nicht verschwunden ist dagegen Vics Neugier. Bei Recherchen in wissenschaftlicher Literatur findet er viele Hinweise darauf, dass so etwas wie eine Frequenz der Angst existiert. So waren sich schon in den 70er Jahren Angestellte und Geschäftsführung einer Fabrik einig: Es herrscht eigenartig bedrückende Atmosphäre. Schallmessungen zeigten hier erhöhte Aktivität im untersten Frequenzspektrum, aber erst nach einem Umbau im Belüftungssystem änderte sich die Situation. Und an einer Universität weigerten sich Mitarbeiter, ein gewisses Labor zu betreten: Sie sprachen von starken Gefühlen der Niedergeschlagenheit und Benommenheit an diesem Ort. Allerdings nur, wenn ein fürs menschliche Ohr sehr gut gedämpfte Lüfter lief. In einem Bericht der NASA stößt Vic Tandy schließlich auf die Information, dass Schall um die 18 Hz im menschlichen Augapfel eine Resonanz auslöst - was wiederum "verschwommene Sicht" verursachen kann. All dies deutet eindeutig darauf von 20 Hz. Wenig später ist auch die Ursache gefunden. Am Ende der Werkstatt wurde vor kurzem ein neuer Lüfter installiert, der scheinbar geräuschlos läuft. Er ist auch für den Titel verantwortlich, unter dem Vic Tandy seinen ausführlichen Bericht verfasst: The Ghost in the Machine – Der Geist in der Maschine. Die Maschine wird gering-

Ist Infraschall demnächst auch im Bereich der Musikproduktion? Das würde gewissen Dark-Produktionen den ultimativen Mordor-Vibe verleihen!

Das bestätigt auch ein Experiment, welches 2003 in Großbritannien stattfindet. Im Rahmen eines Konzerts erleben die etwa 700 Besucher während einiger Musikstücke speziell erzeugte 17 Hz Infraschallwellen. Anschließend wird das Publikum befragt. Ein bedeutender Teil gibt an, während der mit Infraschall vermischten Darbietungen starke Gefühle der Unruhe, Nervosität und Angst erlebt zu haben, begleitet von Kältegefühlen und einem merkwürdigen Druck auf der Brust.

Infraschall könnte nicht nur eine gute Erklärung für paranormale Phänomene sein. Auch wird vermutet, dass Elefanten, Giraffen und Blauwale diese Frequenzen zur Kommunikation über weite Distanzen nutzen. Die Tatsache, dass Tiere von der Küste fliehen, schon bevor der Mensch einen he-erlebten Föhnbeschwerden. In Form von Schall-Kanonen wird Infraschall auch schon gezielt eingesetzt - gegen Piraten und im Park herumlungernde Teenager. Demnächst auch im Bereich der Musikproduktion? Das würde gewissen Dark-Produktionen den ultimativen Mordor-Vibe verleihen! Sind verschiedene Infraschall-Frequenzen der Grund dafür, dass die einen bei Hamburg Proggi das große Grauen kriegen, und andere bei Hardcore HiTech? Gute Studio-Subwoofer kommen immerhin bis 19 Hz. Aber z.B. der berühmt-berüchtigte InfraBass von Funktion One "nur" bis 20 Hz. Ein neuer Zweig für die Anlagen-Industrie? Wir werden sehen... nein, hören... nein: Angst haben!

The fine art of electro-mineralism

"If I could distil into words exactly what motivates me to create the art that I make than it would not be worth making." I asked him some questions anyway – and he gave some very interesting answers.

You describe yourself as an 'electro-mineralist' - Can you please explain this term?

Mankind is a medium that the universal creative spirit expresses itself through, and that expression is dependent on the medium that is made available to mankind. Artists are defined by their mediums, the vast majority of art history in regards to image making has been dominated by animal and vegetable mediums. Tools are a creation of our consciousness; and now the creative spirit seeks new mediums to express its evolution. Technology and computers are born from the intelligent directed manipulation of earth minerals infused with the power of electricity. It is the next natural evolution of artistic mediums. Therefore I feel electro-mineralism is a more appropriate terminology to describe the medium that consciousness has now chosen to express itself.

You have the chance to transmit one, and only one, of your pictures to an alien world.

Which one would it be?

I think that I would select the Union image [on the title]; it's the best attempt to describe the love between two Earthlings. And out of all my images it is the one picture that an overwhelming number of human seem to connect with.

This year you will be the curator for Boom Festival's art exhibition. What's your basic concept?

This year Boom has chosen to evolve the art gallery model into the Boom Art Museum. This will provide a platform to showcase more of the history of visionary and psychedelic painting and help inform and educate Boomers into the lineage of this particular vein of universal creativity.

On Midnight Sunrise, your weekly internet radio show, you discuss 'the in's and out's of the alternative core community'... what is your mission?

In recent shows we have focused on the New Age deception and site specific examples that many aspects of the American counter culture is a "counter container" that has been manufactured as an oppressive tool to keep the youth occupied, distracted, and inactive towards making real change in the world.

Which artists are you stoked about at the moment?

There are many painters from past and present that I admire, but I always find superior inspiration from high quality video and photographs of nature; particularly macro photography or Hubble Space Telescope images. The overwhelming majesty of deep space galaxies in contrast to the intricate complexity of microscopic patterns help me to create a more integral set of parameters that I can contextualize the sublime beauty of creation.

Interview by Roberdo Raval

Du bezeichnest dich als "Elektro-Mineralisten" – was genau bedeutet das?

Der Mensch verleiht dem Geist der universellen Schaffenskraft Ausdruck, dient ihm als Medium. Deshalb ist dieser Ausdruck wiederum abhängig davon, welche Medien dem Menschen zur Verfügung stehen. Künstler werden immer durch die ihnen zur Verfügung stehenden Medien geprägt, in der Geschichte der bildenden Kunst waren das praktisch immer pflanzliche oder tierische Medien. Werkzeuge sind ein Produkt unseres Bewusstseins, und nun sucht der Geist der Schaffenskraft nach neuen Formen des Ausdrucks. Computertechnologie ist die gezielte, intelligente Manipulation von Erdmineralien mithilfe von elektrischer Energie. Das ist die nächste Stufe in der Evolution der künstlerischen Medien. Und deshalb finde ich den Begriff Elektro-

ANDROID JONES

Die hohe Kunst des Elektro-Mineralismus

"Wenn ich in Worten ausdrücken könnte, was genau mich dazu motiviert, diese Kunst zu schaffen, dann würde es sich nicht lohnen". Ich habe ihm trotzdem ein paar Fragen gestellt – und er hat ein paar spannende Antworten gegeben.

Mineralismus eine sehr passende Beschreibung für jenes Medium, durch das sich das Bewusstsein heute Ausdruck verleiht.

Du hast die Möglichkeit eins, und zwar nur eins Deiner Bilder in eine außerirdische Welt zu schicken. Welches wählst Du?

Ich würde mich für das Bild namens Union entscheiden [auf dem Titel]. Es ist der am besten gelungene Versuch, die Liebe zwischen zwei Erdlingen zu beschreiben. Und von all meinen Bildern findet es den größten Zuspruch.

Dieses Jahr bist Du Kurator für die Kunstausstellung auf der Boom. Was ist Dein Konzept?

Dieses Jahr hat sich die Boom entschieden, aus der Kunsthalle ein Boom Kunst Museum zu machen. Auf diese Art kann die Geschichte der visionären und psychedelischen Kunst besser dokumentiert werden und die Boomer können einen tieferen Einblick in diese Form der universellen Schaffenskraft bekommen.

In Midnight Sunrise, einer wöchentlichen Internet-

Radiosendung, diskutiert ihr über die Ins & Outs der alternativen Szene... Was ist eure Mission?

In den aktuellen Shows untersuchen wir die Denkmuster und Verblendungen der New Age Bewegung und arbeiten heraus, wie diese Form der Gegenkultur in den USA zu einer Art Käfig geworden ist, in dem die jungen Menschen gezielt gehalten werden, abgelenkt und passiv, so dass sie sich nicht für einen wirklich stattfindenden Wandel stark machen.

Welche Künstler begeistern Dich momentan?

In der Vergangenheit und in der Gegenwart gibt es sehr viele Maler, die ich bewundere. Aber die größte Inspiration finde ich in hochwertigen Naturfotografien und -filmen, insbesondere Makroaufnahmen und Bilder des Hubble Teleskops. Die überwältigende Größe der Galaxien und des Kosmos im Kontrast zur zerbrechlichen Feinheit von mikroskopischen Strukturen helfen mir dabei, die vollendete Schönheit der Schöpfung besser zu verstehen und in einen großen Zusammenhang einzurunden.

Interview von Roberdo Raval

Roberdo asks: Why national flags at festivals?

Party without borders – at least that is what frequently used words like “global” and “international” imply. A beautiful idea – how far does it actually reach?

The issue I want to ponder on today is fortunately not a mass phenomenon. However, the following scene can be watched at quite every big festival a couple of times: The next artist has just fired up his laptop, pressed play, and now the beats are booming from the speakers, the crowd is having a great time... and here comes a partyhead waving a flag of the country that is apparently also shown on the passport of this artist. Sometimes this flag is flying over the heads of the crowd, sometimes it is worn in genuine Superman style as a cape, and at one of the biggest festivals a visitor even climbed onto the stage and hoisted a flag right on the DJ booth.

Now I'm not going to discuss the complex matter of national pride and whether it is reasonable or not. But one thing should be obvious: Festivals and a scene that define themselves by slogans like “Psychedelic Tribal Gathering” or “We Are One” and where words like “global” and “international” are used all the time, are definitely not the right place for national flags. For a simple reason: The feelings and emotions that usually find expression through these flags contradict those beautiful slogans and make them smug catch phrases without any true value.

Hands down: To understand the music of any artist of the Psytrance scene, you don't have to speak his or her language. He or she just comes from I-Like-It-Land or I-Don't-Like-It-Land, it's as simple as that. And it's a beautiful thing, because music is an universal language, and for once we are really all connected by that language and those awkward barriers of communication that rule the big, bad world out there are temporarily eliminated. “Make Change Happen”, that's another popular phrase... so why not really embrace it and forget about nations, at least for a couple of days?

There's nothing wrong about flags as a symbol of affiliation, and the majority of the flags to be seen on the dance floor or in the camping area does indeed give expression to the true spirit of this scene. For instance, I still love the good old Acid smiley. I'm also really fine with an Om, a peace sign, or even better: A unicorn spewing a rainbow. Lets not forget that during the weekend and at festivals we are all citizens of the same state, the same state of mind!

Roberdo fragt sich: Was haben Landesflaggen auf einem Festival verloren?

Party ohne Grenzen – das deuten zumindest die ständig verwendeten Begriffe „global“ und „international“ an. Wie weit reicht dieser schöne Ansatz wirklich?

Ich möchte an dieser Stelle nicht das große Thema Nationalstolz aufmachen und darüber sinnieren, ob er berechtigt ist oder nicht. Aber eins ist doch wohl klar: Auf Festivals und in einer Szene, die sich durch Wahlsprüche wie „Psychedelic Tribal Gathering – Psychedelisches Stammestreffen“ oder „We Are One – Wir Sind Eins“ definieren, und wo der Begriff „global“ zum Standardrepertoire gehört, haben Landesflaggen einfach nichts verloren. Denn die Gefühle, die durch sie üblicherweise zum Ausdruck gebracht werden, machen jene schönen Mottos zu leeren Worthülsen, zu selbstgefälligem ideologischen Schmuck ohne echten Wert.

Mal ganz ehrlich: Um die Musik von einem Künstler oder eine Künstlerin der Psytrance Szene zu verstehen, muss ich nicht seine oder ihre Landessprache beherrschen. Er oder sie kommt aus Gefällt-Mir-Land oder Find-Ich-Nicht-So-Toll-Land. Das ist doch gerade das schöne an Musik - sie ist eine Weltsprache, die von allen perfekt verstanden wird, die uns auf diese Weise tatsächlich verbindet und zumindest vorübergehend die Kommunikationsbarrieren der großen, bösen Welt da draußen abschafft. „Make Change Happen – Mach den Unterschied“, das ist noch so ein Motto, das immer wieder zu hören ist... gehen wir es also an und lösen wir die Landesgrenzen dieser Welt für ein paar Tage auf.

Flaggen als Symbol der Zugehörigkeit sind ja grundsätzlich nicht verkehrt. Und die Mehrheit der Flaggen, die auf der Tanze oder im Camping wehen, bringen ja auch wirklich den Geist dieser Szene zum Ausdruck. Das gute, alte Acid Smiley finde ich zum Beispiel immer noch klasse. Piratenflaggen ebenfalls. Von mir aus auch ein Om, das Friedenszeichen, oder besser noch ein Regenbogen-kotzendes Einhorn. Denn zumindest am Wochenende und auf Festivals sind wir alle Bürger von jenem Land, dessen Grenzen durch eine Geistesaltung definiert sind!

Es ist glücklicherweise kein echtes Massenphänomen, über das ich mir heute Gedanken machen möchte, aber trotzdem ist es auf jedem größeren Festival ein paar Mal zu beobachten. Der nächste Künstler hat gerade seinen Laptop hochgefahren und Play gedrückt, seine Beats rummsen nun fröhlich aus der Anlage, die Meute geht steil... und hier kommt der Freak, der frenetisch die Landesflagge schwingt, die offenbar auch auf dem Reisepass jenes Künstlers zu sehen ist. Manchmal ist diese Flagge über den Köpfen auf der Tanzfläche zu sehen. Gerne wird sie auch in Superman-Manier als Umhang getragen. Und auf einem der ganz großen Festivals wurde ein gewisses Landesemblem von einem Besucher auch schon mal direkt an die Bühne gehängt.

Cellotager

How CELLOTAGER got thousand eyes

story & pictures: Andrey Balandin

<http://balandin.gallery.ru>

As usual Cellotager was sitting on the top of his 1200 metre mountains above the sea level and starred into space. He pondered on the Large Hadron-Collider, the Mayan calendar, on the end of the world, on the year 2012 and the global climate warming. So, as always, on all sorts of nonsense. At once he noticed that there was something wrong with the moon. Somehow it was red and spooky in this night. Neither lyrical nor romantic, damned. He squinted and squinted and could but see nothing, because he was so far away. Then he took his magic cigarillo out off its hiding place, whispered his magic spells, blessed it six times and lighted it up...puff-puff...20 minutes later he grew thousands of eyes and then Cellotager could see better than the American Hubble-space telescope. The moon stood before him, huge and clear, and he could see every dust speck in the craters. He took his time, to view the Lunochod 1 and 2 of the USSR, a used star-spangled banner, a lonely family picture of a red haired Irish woman and her two quite chubby children... But what was happening there? Why was this not working?

And here he noticed it: A pretty boy with Converse shoes: A huge red Australian kangaroo! It had eaten mushrooms and was the leader of all kangaroos of the world and an old friend of our Cellotager. „How did it end up there?” thought our multi-eyed hero. „OK, then, he shall rest” ...With these words the Cellotager stretched himself and went into his thatched hut in order to watch football on his magic box. There our team was to play against Slovenia but that is an altogether different story.

...transforms visions from mind to fabric

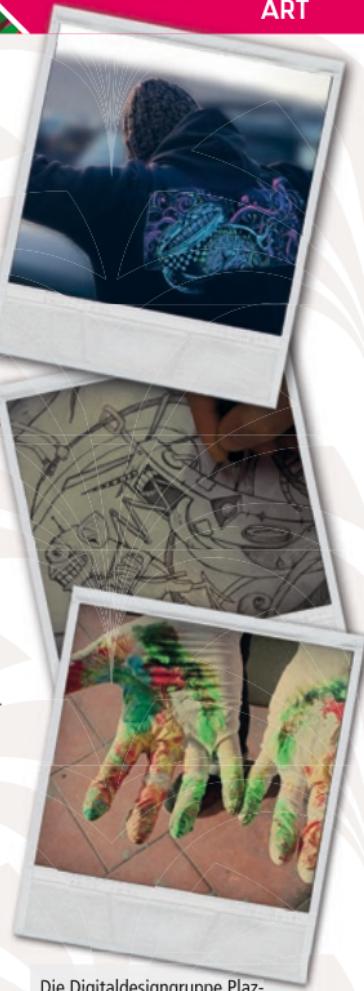

Interweaving urban and digital culture on comfortable and cutting edge quality clothing while also promoting street-art.

From an urban loft overlooking Tel-Aviv, the digital design group Plazmalab has been operating for more than a decade. It is there that the in-house designers and artists are constantly transforming visions from mind to fabric. Be aware that these are not your average visions, these highly intricate designs show Plazmalab's unique perspective. It seems that the group's goal to thread ideas into visuals, and presenting them on clothing, prints & canvases, is successful and has brought them to where they are today. An extraordinary bunch of people that are motivated by creation, to share and collaborate with big festivals, music artists and different entities which share their vision. In the last years the Plazmalab family has expanded, and branches can be now spotted all over the globe, spreading Plazmalab's unique style and vibe. Intent on mixing urban psychedelic and digital style, they never fail to show new creations, whether these are printed on clothes or sprayed on walls, there's probably a piece just around the corner.

Each season a new collection is released into this crazy world mirroring their belief: "All-purpose wear for the twisted mind". Check out their latest creations at a festival stall near you, or if you are touring the world, you can find Plazmalab shops in Tel-Aviv, Goa, Osaka, Berlin and Prague among other places, and, of course, you can always check out plazmalab.com.

Die Digitaldesigngruppe Plazmalab aus Tel-Aviv transformiert Kopfvisionen in höchst verschwirbeltes Design auf alle Arten von Flächen, neben Kleidung auch Wände. Jede Saison drängt eine neue Kollektion in diese verrückte Welt: "Allzweckkleidung für den verdrehten Geist". In den letzten Jahren mächtig in fast die gesamte Welt hinausgewachsen, findet ihr sie vielleicht um die Ecke, beim nächsten Festival oder in Plazmalab Läden in Tel-Aviv, Goa, Osaka, Berlin und Prag.

We are connected through the same frequency! From now on you can tune into the vibe of O.Z.O.R.A. with the nudge of a finger: The festival launched its own internet radio, broadcasting weekly shows by great artists and labels

In times of SoundCloud, YouTube & Co... why radio? "It has a community-forming and unifying power that is still unique", the Hungarian crew says. "Radio has always played a major role in Europe as one of the guardians of freedom. You just need to remember Radio Liberty of the post-WWII period, which our parents and grandparents listened to on this side of the Iron Curtain, as the sole source of information coming from the free world. Thanks to the Internet, one can access a radio channel from just about anywhere, even with a phone." The recurrent, weekly shows on radioOzora are presented by various well-known artists like Eat Static, Bodoo, Clairvo MustBeat, Fungus Funk, Kalumet aka Ork Monk, Para Halu, and record labels such as Aphid, Parvati, Phantasm, Psylife, Visionary Mind or Zero One Music, to name just a few featured on the radio's Trance and Chillout wavelengths. Both channels are weekly updated with new and even unreleased sound, as many artists submit their music. Following a classic approach, radioOzora also broadcasts spoken information, namely party recommendations and interviews with scene activists and producers such as Hux Flux, Josko & Nuno Deconto, Liquid Soul, Meller, PsiloCyan, Space Cat, Symphonix or Tristan. The O.Z.O.R.A crew is convinced: "We think that even in the 21st century with all its online communication the radio is one of the most important forms of media." During the last months they have been working industriously to make their project a proof of this vision – besides preparing this year's festival. So even though summer is still some months away – you can always tune into the vibe of O.Z.O.R.A!

Der Vibe von O.Z.O.R.A ist neuerdings nur einen Stupps mit dem Finger weit entfernt. Das beliebte Festival hat nämlich radioOzora gestartet. Via Internet sind der Trance und der Chill Out Kanal überall auf der Welt zu empfangen. Das Programm wird von Künstlern wie etwa Eat Static, Bodoo, Clairvo MustBeat, Fungus Funk, Kalumet aka Ork Monk oder Para Halu gestaltet, in ihren wöchentlichen Shows spielen sie auch eine ganze Menge bisher unveröffentlichter Tracks. Außerdem haben Labels wie Aphid, Parvati, Phantasm oder Zero One Music ihre eigene, regelmäßige Sendezeit. radioOzora verfolgt trotz digitaler Verbreitung einen ganz klassischen Ansatz und präsentiert deshalb nicht nur Musik, sondern auch Partytipps und Interviews.

MUSHROOM-MAGAZINE.COM

What is the new website offering?

A new mushroom website should not only allow simple access to the articles of the magazine but offer much more. Since January, finally, mushroom-magazine.com is online. Mat Mushroom gives you an insight

I just could not bear this old mushroom website any longer, because after more than 10 years it had become virtual garbage. Yes, it needed to be said here once. But how should a site of the mushroom magazine look these days of web 2.5? There were many must-have entries on the wish list. After the technical concept for the new site had been found in the end, after some preparations during last year's spring during the fall programming started. For a start we have realised the most important features, to be followed step by step:

User Content

After setting up a user account everyone can create their own content without battling with too much technological know-how. For this we already offer a variety of forms for charts, shop entries and common articles which will be extended the future. At this time texts edited by yourself pose a somewhat dreary picture, but in the future SoundCloud widgets, YouTube videos and Facebook content shall be automatically inserted.

Visuals

We are a colourful community, and our mushroom website shall mirror this. Therefore enjoy with your newly opened site psychedelic artwork on your desktop pc. Due to space restrictions this feature is disabled on small screens (also tablets and smartphones).

Maps

We are a worldwide community. A display of maps facilitates the detection of information mightily. The interactive festival map and our shop map are just a beginning. For the implementation of the online edition of the Trancers Guide particularly much interactivity shall be experienced in a short time.

Parties

We do not want to be set up just another party-portal but rather co-operate with our friends from Goabase. Every Goabase party will be available on the mushroom website in the future and also be automatically updated. DJ info, links like SoundCloud, YouTube and "G-rated" Facebook pages will be automatically converted into directly visible content then. This upvalues the party entry extremely, because you can already listen to the sounds from artists playing at the party and also access much more recent info, also automatically updated, if the dj should just happens to have published a new mix on SoundCloud.

Think global act local

Internet is a beaut and swell but what does all this info from other countries amount to if I just bloody want to find a nice party in my home town? Applying the radar-feature of the mushroom website you can access location-based info and receive parties near you, too. For this to work you have to allow the browser to retrieve your location. But do not worry. We will not store your location data, only a cookie will be stored on your computer. Given the extremely rising access figures on our new website, the many new features and about a quarter million of fans on Facebook we have sounded the future right on time for the 20th birthday and make ready for the next 20 years. Have a look, let yourself be inspired and already expect gladly many other cool features.

mushroom-magazine.com

mushroom-magazine.com – Was bietet die neue Webseite ?

Die neue mushroom Webseite sollte nicht nur einfach Zugriff auf die Artikel des Heftes bieten, sondern wesentlich mehr können. Mat Mushroom gibt Dir einen Einblick.

Ich konnte diese alte mushroom Webseite schon lange nicht mehr ertragen, da sie nach über 10 Jahren mittlerweile virtueller Müll war. Ja, das musste mal so gesagt werden. Aber wie sollte eine Seite des mushroom ausschauen in Zeiten von Web 2.5? Es standen viele Einträge auf der Wunschliste, die realisiert werden sollten. Nachdem endlich das technische Konzept für die neue Seite gefunden war, ging es nach Vorbereitungen im Frühjahr letzten Jahres dann im Herbst schlussendlich an die Programmierung. Um anzufangen haben wir erst einmal die wichtigsten Features realisiert. Weiter folgen dann Schlag auf Schlag:

User Content

Jeder kann nun endlich nach Erstellung eines User Accounts eigene Inhalte erstellen, ohne sich mit zu viel Technik herumzuschlagen. Hierfür stellen wir bereits verschiedene Formulare für Charts, Shop-Einträge und allgemeine Artikel zur Verfügung, die künftig noch erweitert werden. Momentan sehen die selbst editierten Artikel teilweise noch etwas trist aus, künftig sollen aber automatisch SoundCloud Widgets, Youtube Videos und Facebook Content eingefügt werden.

Visuals

Wir sind eine bunte Community, das soll auch die mushroom Website widerspiegeln. Geniesse deshalb auf jeder neuen geladenen Seite psychedelische Kunstwerke auf Deinem Desktoprechner. Aus Platzgründen ist diese Funktion bei kleinen Screens (also Tablets und Smartphones) ausgeschaltet.

Maps

Wir sind eine weltweite Community. Eine Darstellung auf Maps erleichtert hier das Finden von Informationen enorm. Die interaktive Festival Map und unsere Shop Map sind nur der Anfang. Für die Implementierung der Trancers Guide Online Ausgabe gibt es in Kürze ganz besonders viel Interaktivität zu erleben.

Partys

Wir wollen nicht noch ein Party-Portal eröffnen, sondern arbeiten lieber mit unseren Freunden von der Goabase zusammen. Alle Goabase Partys werden deshalb künftig auch auf der mushroom Webseite verfügbar sein und automatisch aktualisiert. DJ Infos, Links wie SoundCloud, Youtube und "jugendfreie" Facebook Pages werden dann automatisch als direkt sichtbare Inhalte konvertiert. Dies wertet den Partyeintrag extrem auf, da Du Dich dort dann schon mal von den auf der Party auftretenden Acts beschallen lassen kannst und viel mehr aktuelle Infos zur Verfügung hast, die sich automatisch aktualisieren, sollte der DJ beispielsweise gerade einen neuen Mix auf Soundcloud veröffentlicht haben.

Think global Act local

Internet ist schön und gut, aber was bringen mir Infos aus anderen Ländern, wenn ich verdammt noch mal einfach nur eine korrekte Party in meiner Stadt suche? Mit den Radar-Funktionen der mushroom Webseite kannst Du standortbasierte Informationen aufrufen und bekommst auch Partys in Deiner Nähe angezeigt. Hierfür ist es nötig, dem Browser zu erlauben, Deinen Standort abzufragen. Aber keine Angst. Wir werden Deine Standordaten nicht speichern. Sie werden lediglich in ein Cookie auf Deinem Rechner abgelegt.

Mit bereits extrem steigenden Zugriffszahlen auf die neue Webseite, den vielen neuen Features und etwa einer 1/4 Million Fans auf Facebook haben wir zum 20. Geburtstag die Zukunft eingeläutet und rüsten uns für die kommenden 20 Jahre. Schau mal vorbei, lass Dich inspirieren und freu Dich schon mal auf weitere coole Features.

Alic keep the flag flying for Psychedelic Techno in the tradition of Spirallianz, Midi Miliz, and the likes. The brilliant sound of Close Distance, their 1st album, has a raw power to it. Razor-sharp hi hats, heady filter sweeps, dramatic melodies, and a proper pinch of Acid - that's Alic. End of April they'll release a Remix EP with Kino Oko, Frechbax, and Point. Available via digital-diamonds.com

The sound of Unique Repeat's Modstrom EP is somewhere between Progressive House and melodic Techno and has the floating elegance of a mountain river in the evening sun. Some really nice stuff coming from these guys at the moment!

10 years after Son Kite released their epic Colours album a 5-track remix EP has popped up on Echoes Records. Artists like Antix, Liquid Soul and Carbon Based Lifeforms do their magic and deliver a nice variety of grooves.

Toad On The Road is the name of a new compilation on Dark Frog Music, a label dedicated to toad-lickin' tunes from the Dark Progressive / Psygressive sector.

Alic

Aussie Bush Trance meets Hamburg Progressive - that's what the Neural Implant EP by Dissect sounds like. It also has a touch of cartoon to it. Yes, very entertaining! Released on 3rd Eye Productions.

End of March Ticon shared with us their Extreme Memories, a first single from their new album to be released later on this year. The guys haven't lost their touch and deliver two high-octane bangers in cutting-edge production quality as always.

Grub stands for a hard, nocturnal approach towards Dark Progressive. Their great debut album Mechanical Particles was released in January already, now the duo is working on new EPs for Maia Brasil and Zenon Records

Brachialer Rumms im Bassbereich, scharfe Hi Hat-Kaskaden, berauschende Modulationen und dazwischen ordentlich Acid: Das ist Alic - Close Distance, nun via digital-diamonds.com verfügbar
 Toad On The Road auf Dark Frog ist Krötenlecker-Sound bzw. spaßiger

Dark Progressive  Die großartige Modstrom EP von Unique Repeat hat die fließende Eleganz eines Bergstroms im goldenen Licht der untergehenden Sonne  Auf der Neural Implant EP von Dissect trifft australischer Bush Trance auf Hamburg Sound  10 Jahre nach dem grandiosen Colours Album von Son Kite ist nun eine Remix-EP mit 5 gelungenen Neuinterpretationen erschienen  Ticon haben ihren Schneid nicht verloren und mit der Extreme Memories EP kürzlich einen sehr energetischen, extrem deepen und wie immer perfekt produzierten Vorgeschmack auf ihr neues Album vorgelegt  Grub stehen für eine harte, nächtliche Spielart von Dark Progressive und arbeiten gerade an neuen EPs für Maia Brasil und Zenon

The analysis to remove the influence of individual differences in response that would have been implicitly removed in a comparison of all subjects to a control group showed grouping of within and between Subject data in the regression analysis. Values equal 1 if the subject was in the control group, yielding a false-positive rate of 0.5% in its resolution elements (each of which has dimensions of 1000x1000 pixels).

The 3rd album, Belief Engine of Antagon is a real 3rd strike. 10 tracks of modern Psytrance with a BPM ranging from 167–180 coming in a wave of constant groove, flittering noises, crazy melodies, with total machine power, in summary: Belief Engine.

The Namo Group, a bunch of like-minded individuals who resonate with the high BPM tunes at our parties, gatherings and sessions, have had our bonds fortified through the fast-paced-adrenaline-laced music. 1st compilation Waqt Ha Psy Ka mastered by Kashyyk soon.

Damaru Records from Hamburg bring out a new compilation before summer. 'Synthetic Lifeforms' will blast your brains, artwork was done by Aashit Singh.

Neonglo presents 1st album Rythmic Doses (Freak Records). Scrapped off the underbelly of the mothership sent back to planet earth, forging of sounds never heard before...a South African artist bringing the African wave to the world.

"HRLM Okkult volt 1" by Real Vision Music. Check the new explorations in music. Through some unconventional recording techniques, obscure sound sources and countless nights of deep sound exploration, there is a lot of care and efforts to be discovered within these tracks.

Rawar – To the Gods by Deviant Force Rec. is a 9 track masterpiece that stands as a showcase for the development of Helder's unique and uncompromising style of music during the last years. It will abduct you into the depths of your own mind, letting you explore the hidden forces behind consciousness.

Junxpunx will be in Europe around August/September – watch out for his extreme re-awakening freestyle performances. A 1st complete studio album is in progress.

Whitebear's new EP Transmute/Release has recently crystallized into form through Shanti Plant. This EP has Whitebear enter into a new renaissance of his already deep and expansive sound. This young Jedi of frequency brings a level of maturity and quality in his sound that is second to none. I look forward to the graceful expansion of this young producer.

Merkaba Music has been around now for a little over a year. The second label comp Resonant Mind is due out next month showcasing a host of incredible artists and sounds. Merkaba Music has its focus on musical storytelling so you can expect the unexpected. Check out releases from Akara, Mumukshu, Amentia, Bardo River, and Imagika Om.

Whitebear

Bluetech

On November 3, 1957, a Moscow street dog named Laika was launched into outer space and became the first living creature to orbit the Earth. Bluetech's latest EP Spacehop Chronicles Vol. 1 is the soundtrack to this story. Spacehop takes Bluetech's signature sound and adds more depth and dimension than ever before. Nice one Bluetech!

Simon Haiduk's album Quartz Lake unveiled in February this year. Ranging from uplifting gentle stories to deeper more introspective inward journeys this is the sort of album that you can breathe in when the lights are out, letting the sounds decompress your busy mind from the matrix of our existence.

For many years now Enigmatik Records from Australia has been at the forefront of what we consider to be electronic music. Their latest release Holon by Life in a Box reminds us of a more early electronica vibe but with the precise sound sculpting of the present moment. The soft sounds will sit easy with your cells while the melodies invoke a sense of calm and peace. This EP is available for free download from the labels bandcamp.com page.

Der junge Produzent Whitebar überzeugt mit seiner Transmute/Release EP durch bereits sehr ausgereiften Tiefgang  Merkaba Music besteht jetzt seit etwas mehr als einem Jahr und hat in dieser Zeit Künstler wie Akara, Mumukshu, Amentia, Bardo River und Imagika Om veröffentlicht. Nun geht die 2. Compilation namens Resonant Mind an den Start  Inspiriert vom ersten Hund im Weltraum kommt die Spacehop Chronicles EP 1 von Bluetech mit vorher nie dagewesener Klangtiefe und Dynamik  Das Album Quartz Lake von Simon Haiduk eignet sich ganz hervorragend für Langstreckenflüge durch die inneren Welten  Enigmatik Records aus Australien legen mit der Holon EP von Life in a Box ein Release vor, dass an frühe Elektronika erinnert – jedoch in einer zeitgemäßen Produktionsqualität. Die EP ist nach dem „nenn' Du den Preis“ Prinzip auf der Bandcamp-Seite des Labels verfügbar.

After the release of two EPs in 2013, along with singles and remixes on various compilations, it's superfluous to say: Metronome is back. Having quickly established himself among the progressive acts in Europe since 2000, in 2007, Henrik Nilsson from Sweden took a break from the music scene to focus on his job career. However, 2013 definitely marked a new start for Henrik. Not only he got signed by Blue Tunes Records, but he also developed a signature melodic and groovy sound. Inspired by groundbreakers like Phaxe, this transition from hard offbeat to a melodic and emotional style suits any sunny festival afternoon well.

2014 will be a busy and all-important year for Metronome as he is about to release his third EP 'Northern Stories' in March, along with exciting collaborations with Kopel, Ruback and NOK, a first full length album is also scheduled for 2014/2015. Make sure to catch him at this year's edition of the Psychedelic Circus!

Digicult

Refining their deep morning FullOn style since more than 10 years, Digicult is well-known for a style that has lot of soul and a touch of oldschool grace. A chat with the Belgium duo.

What have you been up to recently?

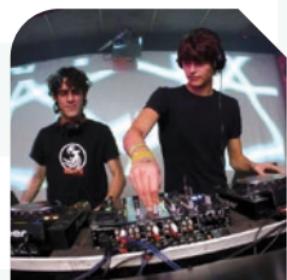

The previous album already dates from May 2012, but people enjoyed it very much and the gigs are ever increasing. In the last months we've been to Israel, South Africa, Mexico, USA and of course all over Europe.

What's cooking in your studio?

The 4th full album is taking up most of the time at the moment. It is due for release on Dacru Records after summer! It's gonna be something special for sure.

What are your plans for the summer?

Besides working on the album, the agenda is pretty full. We'll visit some good festivals like Tree of Life in Turkey, Zagoa and Land in Morocco, Nova's Incident in Belgium, Psy-Fi in Netherlands, P.L.U.R. in Greece, Insomnia in Portugal, and more.

Tell us about one thing you are really excited about at the moment!

Dacru Records is setting up another remix contest for young producers. We are pretty excited to see what they can do with our track 'Every Single Second'.

If you are interested to participate, please visit dacru.be or our Facebook page facebook.com/digicultmusic for more details. There's some cool prizes to win!

From a no-name to one of the most popular Progressive Trance producers in less than 2 years – an impressive career that has just begun.

When The Road Met The Sky: It was in 2012 when an EP with this name hit the Progressive Trance scene with a bang, including 4 original tracks and 2 remixes for the legendary Vibrasphere project.

It was released on the renowned label SpinTwist Records, but came from an utterly unknown artist: Alter Nature. The fact that today, only 2 years later, this name is well-established among Progressive lovers speaks for itself. André Jansson, the man behind Alter Nature, is one of the most up-and-coming producers at the moment - his recent 'You Activate Me' EP hit the #1 position of Beatport's Top 100 Psytrance Releases. Yet the Swedish producer doesn't rest on his laurels. Asked about his latest ventures, he told us: "Right now I have just finished a few new tracks, one remix for the Swedish artist Metronome that is going to be released on Blue Tunes Records, and an original Alter Nature track that is going to be a part of my next EP that I am trying to finish in time before the summer kicks off! I also made a remix of one of my favorite tracks of 2012, Flexus & Time In Motion's - Twisted Mind, that is going to be released in 2014." Speaking of summer, of course Alter Nature will be playing at some festivals. Some of the highlights so far include Genesis, Sweden's biggest Psy Trance open air, and Airbeat One in Germany.

www.soundcloud.com/alter-nature

Gerade mal 2 Jahre sind seit seiner ersten EP vergangen und schon ist Alter Nature eine renommierte Größe im Bereich Progressive. So landete seine 'You Activate Me' EP gerade erst auf Platz 1 der Top 100 Psytrance Releases bei Beatport. Aktuell arbeitet der Schwede an einem Remix für Metronome und bereits an der nächsten EP, die er pünktlich zum Sommer veröffentlichen möchte. Apropos: Festival-technisch kann man u.a. auf dem Genesis in Schweden und der Airbeat One in Deutschland mit Alter Nature rechnen.

Shiva Space Technology

A legendary Psytrance label returns

Shiva Space Technology: A synonym for Psytrance - at least for those who have been in the scene a little longer. After 8 years of silence the legendary label is now back on track.

Infected Mushroom, Yahel, Sesto Sento, Lemurians... those are just some of the most popular artists that have been released on SST in the late 90s and early 2000s, when there still was an actual 'Goa Trance' genre. After 11 years of strong activity the extensive release catalogue of SST ended in 2006 with Dak-sinamurti's compilation 'Spiritually Spaced Out'. Today, 8 years later, label founder Shiva Jörg and his companion Andy announced a revival of the legendary Psytrance label. "We wanted to bring back SST for some time, but first we had to find the right partner for this project who could do the administration and back office, someone to built a long-term synergy", Andy explains. Eventually they found this partner: BAM/FAM Records, run by Dustin, Jan and Thomas who are already long-year cooperation partners. "When Joerg released Raumtechnik on BAM we came up with the plan to finally revive SST, we bounced back and fourth some ideas, and here we go: The first release on SST since 8 years is ready for take-off! It's gonna be a big surprise..." The

of Shiva Space Technology

release policy of SST takes up the original idea of the label and strives to take it to the next level, as a message on Facebook proclaimed: "SST will focus on the same segment it did in the past, developing new talents and reuniting with some of the old artists. We will not start doing some sort of old stuff made new and remix the old back catalogue just for nostalgic reasons, some things better be untouched." Sounds very promising – and clearly reflects the genuine spirit of Shiva Space Technology!

[facebook.com/
shivaspacetech](https://facebook.com/shivaspacetech)

Für alle, die schon ein bisschen länger in der Szene unterwegs sind, gilt Shiva Space Technology als Synonym für echten 'Goa Trance', der späten 90er. Nach 8-jähriger Pause meldet sich das Kult-Label nun zurück. „Geplant war das schon lange, aber wir wollten erst einen wirklich guten Partner, der für uns die Verwaltung macht“ sagt Andy, der SST zusammen mit Shiva Jörg betreibt. Dieser Partner ist mit BAM/FAM Records nun gefunden. Ein Facebook-Post ließ verlauten: „Wir wollen nicht einfach nur alte Geschichten aufwärmen, aus nostalgischen Gründen“. Deshalb wurden neben alten Größen auch viele neue Talente gesigned - dement sprechend gespannt darf man auf die ersten Releases sein.

DOOF FESTIVAL

17. – 20.04.2014 – Israel

An epicentre of Psytrance culture

It is a fascinating phenomenon: Whether you look at producers from the field of Psytrance and all its subgenres or at party heads at festivals all around the world: The percentage of Israelis is remarkable high. That might give you an idea how huge the Trance culture is in this small country - but this idea is only an old black-and-white shot in comparison with the multi-coloured reality. Which makes Israel a destination not to be missed if you are into Psytrance and travelling! There are many good parties, but only one proper 4-day gathering: Doof Festival. Organized by the legendary label with the same name, this open air has an atmosphere that is simply unique. The energy and vibes are excessively euphoric like nowhere else, it's an intoxicating ritual with tons of great music, full of painted faces and costumes, mud and sweat, sun and a lake, love and inspiration. The promoters speak about a "new era of the festival" that will start with the 11th edition in 2014. A look at the lineup and at the pictures from the last editions speaks for itself. Come as you are!

Well-known and embosomed elements as the Cocktail-Lounge, Market-Area or the Aussichtsturm will not be missing, of course. HADRA FESTIVAL

21.–24.08.2014 – Lans-en-Vercors – France – Alpine Festival Flavour

Chasing the ultimate festival summer? Hadra is not to be missed! With its picturesque location in the French alps and a unique mix of underground vibe and flawless organization this event is just perfect for traveling Trancers.

The considerable number of 10.000 freaks and fraggles showed up at Hadra last year, filling the picturebook valley in the middle of the majestic French alps with an electrifying vibe of mass euphoria, and making it one of biggest festivals of the European summer 2013. Still Hadra did not reach its breakeven, missed it by 1.500 visitors. How's that possible? Megalomania? Well, there are a number of reasons why the expenditures and the breakeven had risen considerably. The 2012 edition was confronted with extreme weather. In consequence, the local authorities put massive pressure on the Hadra crew, pushing the budget of the festival beyond 1.000.000 Euro. One third of this sum was caused by new security conditions, site implantations, and taxes.

The Hadra crew found itself in a bizarre situation: Proud of a flawless event, but with a hefty minus in their books. A crisis... yet at the same time an opportunity: "We're working on a new start, with new ideas, new implants and a fresh spirit to bring you something unique!" And they clearly have everything it takes to do so. The venue of the festival in the heart of the French alps provides a setting that is one of a kind. So does the musical philosophy of Hadra: Besides great headliners and Psytrance jetsetters, they have always been promoting new talents, creating a vivid proof that underground culture does not necessarily conflict with the idea of a big, professionally organized open air. Just after Boom, the lush nature of the French mountains is undoubtedly a great destination for traveling Trancers who are chasing the ultimate festival summer!

www.hadra.net

Das Hadra Festival fällt aus der Reihe - und fügt sich deshalb in die Reihe wirklich herausragender Open Airs, die im Sommer anstehen. Herausragen tut es buchstäblich, nämlich aus der bilderbuchartigen Berglandschaft der französischen Alpen. Neben herausragenden Künstlern stehen auf dem Musikprogramm auch viele Newcomer und mit ihnen jede Menge frischer, unverbrauchter Sound. Wer die Releases auf Hadra Records verfolgt, wird eine Idee davon haben! Irgendwie schaffen es die Franzosen auf einem echt großen, professionell durchorganisierten Event doch noch ein gewisses Underground-Flair zu behalten. Kurz nach der Boom bietet sich die grüne Bergwelt wunderbar als Stopp für trippende Trancer an, die auf der Jagd nach einem Festivalsommer der Superlative sind.

BOOM FESTIVAL

4.-11.08.2014 – Idanha-a-Nova – Portugal

Focus on psychedelic music... and variety.

Your understanding of Psytrance is deep, hypnotic, and uptempo? Or do you prefer Dark Progressive and intoxicating grooves from other genres? Or a mix of it all? In any case, Boom looks like the place to be for psychedelic music freaks!

What is psychedelic music? Deep and pumping Psytrance! But that's not the whole story. Psytrance is not all the same: There's the classic Goa Trance and the modern FullOn, there's Dark and Forest, there's daylight and twilight varieties. Also, there's a whole lot of music beyond the genre border that appeals to the psyche of the listener. If you really want to get deeper into this matter, Boom is the perfect place to carry out some field research. As a festival of psychedelic culture it presents the cream of psychedelic music in all its manifold forms: From Psytrance to Dark Progressive, from Forest to Psychedelic Techno, from Psychedelic Bass Music to Psy Chill and Organic Trance.

Four different stages complement each other and create a synergetic mandala of sound: The Dance Temple, the Alchemy Circle, the Sacred Fire Stage, and the Chill Out Gardens. The monumental Dance Temple is probably one of the most impressive settings to experience the whole bandwidth of Psytrance. This year's program includes some of the most sophisticated FullOn artists, a fair bit of Dark, Forest and HiTech, a great range of original Goa Trance, plus a few hand-selected Progressive honchos. The Alchemy Circle is the playground for all other varieties of psychedelic electronic dance music. Most notable this year: Many talents from the thriving Dark Progressive sector have been invited. Apart from that, the bandwidth of rhythm and sound is huge, reaching from Bass Music to heady Techno to sound that refuses any categorization. At the end of this article there's still so much more left:

The Sacred Fire stage with World Music bands playing and its Ethno Trance Night, as well as the Chill Out Gardens with a program that would be interesting enough to write another page about it. Whether you like your Psytrance solid and banging, whether you're excited about all kinds of truly psychedelic music, or if you just love the mix of it all: Boom is the place to be!

Egal, ob Dir der Sinn nach treibendem Psytrance oder Dark Progressive steht, nach psychedelischer Bass Music oder handgemachtem Organic Trance, nach Psy Chill oder klassischem Goa Trance: Auf der Boom kannst Du alles erleben. Als Festival der psychedelischen Kultur setzt sie natürlich auch einen starken Schwerpunkt auf Musik. Vier Floors ergänzen sich gegenseitig zu einem synergetischen Sound-Mandala: Der Dance Temple und der Alchemy Circle, die Sacred Fire Stage und die Chill Out Gardens. Wenn Du also Feldforschung auf dem Gebiet der psychedelischen Musik betreiben möchtest, ist dies ein wahrer Abenteuerspielplatz!

PSY-FI FESTIVAL 2014

28.08. – 01.09.2014 – Leeuwarden, Netherlands. Inside The Vortex.

6 beaches, 2 islands... 5 days and 4 nights... Now that's spectacular! Also the rest of what the promoters told us about Psy-Fi Festival is really exciting. Apparently the Netherlands are back with a bang on this year's open air agenda!

Is this a new festival? Yes and no. No because Psy-Fi was already held last year and turned out as quite a success. Yes, because the promoters decided to push the limits and to turn it into a large-scale, international event: "We feel that Holland, a place well known for its positive attitude towards psychedelics and for its strong Psytrance community deserves a psychedelic festival like this one, more than ever". The Dutch crew gathered a lot of inspiration and experience in the buzzing scene of South Africa. For this year's Psy-Fi they found a venue that is truly impressive: With various swimming lakes and 6 beaches it looks like a psychedelic waterworld. For those in search of shade there's a beautiful forest. It's a place where visitors can enjoy art, culture, music and personal growth, and lots and lots of nature. The line-up is just as impressive as the location, featuring the international cream of the Psytrance and Progressive scene, plus many great artists on the alternative stages. Yet there is still more on the menu: „We aim to create a higher level of consciousness amongst our visitors through our programs and by inviting speakers such as Dennis McKenna to lecture for us“, one of the promoters says. "Psy-Fi's mission is to create a space where we cooperate with each other. A space where people of all religions, cultures, countries and other labels can meet each other as one. With core values such as love, unity, peace and respect." If that sounds like your cup of Chai and you feel ready for a trip to beautiful Holland, prepare your backpack and be prepared to get sucked inside the vortex – and always remember to carry a towel!

6 Strände, 2 Inseln, 5 Tage und 4 Nächte... das ist doch mal eine Ansage! Auch sonst sieht das Psy-Fi Festival in Holland wirklich spektakulär aus. So wurde in Sachen Musik ein Stelldichein der internationalen Psytrance und Progressive Elite angekündigt, plus umfangreiches Programm auf den Alternative Floors. Wer steckt hinter diesem Festival, das eine Art psychedelische Waterworld zu werden verspricht? Die Crew besteht aus Holländern, die zeitweilig aber auch in Südafrika ansässig waren und dort vom Psy Virus infiziert wurden. Im letzten Jahr haben sie bereits einen erfolgreichen Probelauf veranstaltet. Wenn Dir also der Sinn nach einem Festivalspaß in den Niederlanden steht – pack die Badehose ein!

New Healing Festival

25. – 31.08.2014 – Kümmernitztal, Badesee Preddöhl

Das NEW HEALING FESTIVAL ist ein Festival der neuen Generation und möchte einen einzigartigen Höhepunkt im gemeinsamen Reigen der alljährlichen nordeuropäischen Sommerfeste anbieten. Die HEALING öffnet zahlreiche neue Erlebnisräume und stellt genreübergreifende Freiräume bereit, in denen Künstler, Gäste und Besucher ganz neue Lebenserfahrungen machen können.

Ein interessanter, vielschichtiger Mix aus World Culture, New Age, Ambient & Trancemusik, Bewusstseins- & Transformationskultur, Ökologie und Gesellschaftspolitik öffnet Räume für phantastische Zufälle und schafft einmalige Gelegenheiten, neue Ideen zu entdecken, überraschende Verbindungen herzustellen und gemeinsame visionäre Strukturen zu entwickeln.

Jeder kann und darf mitmachen! Alle Besucher sind eingeladen, selber im Rahmen der vielen unterschiedlichen Angebote mitzuwirken, selber aktiv zu werden und Teil zu werden einer einzigartigen Gemeinschaft, in der neue Dimensionen und Sphären des eigenen Daseins entdeckt werden. Herzliche Spontanität, offene Unbedarftheit, anteilnehmende Freundlichkeit in einem verlässlichen Setting schaffen beste Voraussetzungen für eine nachhaltige Erfahrung, aber vor allem für einen perfekten Moment im eigenen Leben.

Das gut vorbereitete Neben- und Miteinander unterschiedlicher Konzepte, Stile und Philosophien liefert ein solides Programm mit qualifizierten Beiträgen. Kompetente Angebote hochwertiger Vortrags-, Workshop- und Open Space Situationen regen an und inspirieren. Das Prinzip der offenen Bühne bietet Chancen, aber auch Herausforderungen, mit den Alles-ist-möglich-Situationen verantwortlich und sensitiv umzugehen. Genau hier liegt der große Wert, die mächtige Chance der gemeinsamen Selbstverwirklichung zu üben.

Neues kennen zu lernen, zu erleben und zuzulassen, den eigenen Horizont zu erweitern, ist für viele Menschen der Weg über den Tellerrand hinaus. Das HEALING Festival möchte durch sein großes Angebot an unterschiedlichen Inhalten den Bogen des Möglichen weit aufspannen. Die Vision ist, diese Impulse mit nach Hause zu nehmen, dort auszuprobieren, sogar zu verfeinern und die eigene Lebenskultur auf eine neue Umlaufbahn zu heben.

Das Healing Festival ist ein Marktplatz der Visionen, aber auch des Machbaren. Unterschiedliche Lebenskonzepte begegnen sich und schaffen ein sinnliche Erfahrungsfeld, die die Meta-Ebenen des Daseins aus verschiedenen bewährten Perspektiven heraus beleuchten.

Eingeladene Experten und profilierte Kenner der Bewusstseins- und Transformationsbewegung bieten den Besuchern reichlich Gelegenheit, aus der Fülle der Möglichkeiten zu schöpfen.

Im Zentrum des NEW HEALING FESTIVALS steht immer wieder der Entfaltungs-Raum für die eigene Kreativität. Die Evolution vom Konsumenten hin zum Aktivisten, der Impulse setzt für eine positive, harmonische Entwicklung für sich selber, aber auch für seine Mitmenschen ist das Anliegen dieses schönen Sommerfestes, das von nun an das Stammtischtreffen für alle Aktivisten des neuen Zeitalters sein möchte.

Das musikalische Programm hat einen deutlichen Trend hin zum Ambient. Dem Team ist es gelungen, den Wunschpartner Mixmaster Morris aus London für die späte Samstagnacht zu gewinnen; der Live Sektor hat mit dem Urvater des Krautrocks Mani Neumeyer, Guru Guru einen würdigen Paten; kosmische Musik gibt es vom Akasha Projekt, Star Sounds Orchestra; cosmic world Ambient mit Irina Mikhailova; Dj Bim, Mat Mushroom, Matthias Mellody, Djane Gaby, und viele andere souveräne Topacts werden einen musikalischen Rahmen schaffen, der eines großartigen Festivals würdig ist.

The NEW HEALING FESTIVAL will be a new generation festival, a new highlight amongst the North European summer parties, and intends to become the regular gathering of all new age new age activists and scientists. Experts and renowned adepts of the awareness and transformation movement will let you dip from the cornucopia of opportunities. Opportunities for experience, cleared spaces across genres where everyone, artists, guests and visitors can have new life experiences and develop common visionary structures. The initiation of spaces to be used for evolution of your own creativity. Our evolution from consumer to activist. An activist who sets a stimulus for a positive, harmonic development within himself but also within his fellow human beings.

The music programme will be mostly ambient. The team was successful in booking Mixmaster Morris from London for late Saturday night. The originator of Krautrock, Mani Neumeyer of Guru Guru will play live; there will be cosmic music by Akasha Projekt and Star Sounds Orchestra; cosmic world ambient by Irina Mikhailova; Dj Bim, Mat Mushroom, Matthias Mellody, Djane Gaby and many others will play as well – music worthy of a magnificent festival.

Utopia Camping

Imagine yourself traveling to the festival without having to carry anything?
With Utopia Camping it can happen!

The company offers camping solutions for people attending festivals all over Europe."During 15 years of festivals I have seen people including myself carrying tons of camping gear. I thought there must be a way to make life easier for all", says Alon, founder and CEO of Utopia Camping, a Berlin resident for the last 2 years. So he started Utopia Camping, and within a couple of years, his idea turned into an experienced professional team. "Rent it online, get it on site" that's our motto" explains Alon. "You can pre-order all the camping gear you need via our website and we shall deliver it to you onsite". In their shop you can find a wide range of camping equipment which can be either bought or rented. "Our aim is to reduce the environmental footprint festivals do, by using maintained second hand gear, one carrier for a large number of people, and more..."

Psytrance veteran DJ Antaro: "You can't make money in the underground". His label Spirit Zone is among the most popular ones, but at the same time it's in the middle of a serious crisis. Although it's all about downgrading now, Antaro announces the launch of the 8th Space Tribe album  Spiral Trax is about to release the new Atmos album „2nd Brigade“, the sub-label ACDC signed the debut album of Kruger & Coyle  Lightmotiv projects the meditative patterns of different liquids which are organically dissolving into one another. This idea makes him one of the most popular visual artists at the moment. In mushroom magazine he explains how to build a projector for home usage  It's a dark spring for Inpsyde Media: There Is No Tomorrow! That's the name of a new „Dark-FullOn-Psy-Trance-Compilation“, featuring new tracks by Penta, PsySide, Dark Nebula, Derango, IBEX, and others

Psytrance-Veteran DJ Antaro: „Mit Underground kann man kein Geld verdienen“. Sein Label Spirit Zone genießt zwar Kultstatus, befindet sich aber trotzdem tief in der Krise.

Obwohl nun Gesundschrumpfen angesagt ist, steht das 8. Space Tribe Album in den Startlöchern  Spiral Trax kündigt das neue Atmos Album „2nd Brigade“ an, auf dem Sub-Label ACDC außerdem ein Album von Krüger & Coyle  Lightmotiv projiziert organisch ineinander verlaufende Flüssigkeiten und ist damit momentan einer der beliebtesten Visual-Künstler. Im mushroom gibt er eine Anleitung, wie man einen Projektor für den Hausgebrauch selber bauen kann  Düsterer Frühling bei Inpsyde Media: There Is No Tomorrow! So der Name einer neuen „Dark-FullOn-PsyTrance-Compilation“ mit Tracks von u.a. Penta, PsySide, Dark Nebula, Derango und IBEX.

Speed News: What a meth...

Some like it hot, some like it fast

Anyone remember Gunther Amendt's last book title, No drugs, no future? Where he was saying, that our society's dominant economic structure was unthinkable without drugs? A study from Hamburg supports this statement and could cause a re-launch of prevention messages. Use of speed and meth seem to be quite widespread. Beside the standard thing, use by young urban partygoers, during leisure time, for gaining better results in school, and for ameliorating psychic ailments like depression, use for training or job purposes is rising. Nazi tank drivers and American bomber pilots have proven the point. Moreover, contrary to prevention messages users state that the positive aspects of speed or meth use are not given due consideration, prevention measures were totally incredible.

Erinnert jemand Günther Amendt's letzten Buchtitel, No drugs, no future? Wo er schrieb, dass die unsere Gesellschaft bestimmende ökonomische Struktur undenkbar wäre ohne Drogen? Eine Studie aus Hamburg bekräftigt diese Aussage und könnte einen Relaunch der Prävention nötig machen. Der Konsum von Speed und Meth scheint weit verbreitet. Neben dem Üblichem, also junges städtisches Partyvolk, in der Freizeit, für bessere Resultate in der Schule und um psychische Maladien wie Depressionen zu erleichtern, liegt es auch verstärkt an für Trainings- und Arbeitszwecke. Nazi Panzerfahrer und amerikanische Bomberpiloten können nicht irren. Des weiteren interessant und in völligem Widerspruch zur Prävention finden Nutzer, dass die positiven Aspekte des Speeds oder Meth Gebrauchs keine Berücksichtigung fänden, Präventionsbotschaften seien völlig unglaublich.

LSD can help anxiety patients

That LSD might help during psychotherapy had been guessed since the 60s, now it has been buttressed by a study. Researchers found out that "in a methodologically rigorous medically supervised psychotherapeutic setting" and "when administered safely...LSD can reduce anxiety". In the face of "promising historical studies" with LSD as well as psilocybin they demand further studies "into the potential of LSD-assisted psychotherapy." (LSD-Study by Gasser et.al.: Safety and Efficacy of Lysergic Acid Diethylamide-Assisted Psychotherapy for Anxiety Associated With Life-threatening Illnesses).

LSD kann Angstpatienten helfen

Dass LSD bei der Psychotherapie helfen könnte, wurde seit den 60ern vermutet, nun wurde dies wissenschaftlich untermauert. Forscher fanden heraus, wenn LSD in einem methodisch und medizinisch kontrollierten psychotherapeutischen Umfeld sicher verabreicht wird, kann sie Angst reduzieren. Vor dem Hintergrund vielversprechender Studien mit LSD sowie Psilocybin halten sie weitere Studien für ange sagt, das Potential von LSD-gestützter Psychotherapie auszuloten. journals.lww.com/jonmd/Docu
